HORNER STIRS DEMOCRAT ROW ON U. S. JUDGES

BY PARKE BROWN.

Washington dispatches yesterday disclosed the inception of a dispute between Gov. Horner and the Cook county Democratic organization which apparently promised to threaten the harmony that has been paraded frequently ever since the bitter primary of last April.

According to the information from the national capital, Gov. Horner has injected himself into the selection of two Illinoisans for appointment by President Roosevelt to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in this district. The man whose appointment he urges strongly is Attorney General Otto Kerner. If Kerner were appointed, Gov. Horner would name a new attorney general.

OTTO KERNER. JOHN E. CASSIDY.

Good Spot for Patronage.

That is what rubs the Chicago leaders the wrong way. The attorney general's office now has a biennial appropriation of $628,220, nearly all of which goes for jobs exempt from civil service and therefore "legitimate" patronage.

As a Cook county man, Kerner has given full consideration to the organization which has sponsored him. It is feared that if Gov. Horner appoints a new attorney general all this patronage will go into the state job pool.

Gov. Horner said yesterday that he had spoken to United States Attorney General Cummings "in behalf of Judge Kerner" while he was in Washington for the inauguration. [Kerner formerly was judge of the state Circuit court.] The governor proposed Kerner for the vacancy left by the retirement of Judge Samuel Alschuler. He said he also spoke for Maurice V. Joyce of East St. Louis, a state Circuit court judge, for the vacancy created by the death of Judge Louis Fitzhenry of Bloomington.

Kerner Would Take Job.

Although Kerner took his oath of office for his new four year term as attorney general only three weeks ago, he said he would accept the federal appointment if it comes his way.

Gov. Horner said his principal purpose in calling on Attorney General Cummings was to invite the department of justice to make a survey of the parole situation in Illinois. He denied that part of the Washington dispatches which said he had been shown a list of the names of sixteen Illinoisans submitted to Cummings for consideration as judicial timber.

The governor also denied the report he already has determined to appoint John E. Cassidy of Peoria as attorney general if Kerner resigns. Cassidy, now practicing law in Peoria, was Horner's unsuccessful candidate for lieutenant governor in the Democratic primary last April.

What Politicians Say.

The opposition to the Kerner-Cassidy switch among the Chicago Democrats is heard chiefly from the lesser lights of the organization. County Chairman P. A. Nash has been in Florida for about a month. Mayor Kelly went there last week.

Their lieutenants, in addition to the protest on the patronage score, say that if Kerner resigns, the Bohemian element in the organization will demand that one of their number be named for the vacancy.

Report Senators Displeased.

Under former administrations, and to some extent under the Roosevelt régime, the United States senators have the last word concerning federal appointments in their respective states. For that reason the action of Gov. Horner in going directly to Attorney General Cummings is said to have displeased both James Hamilton Lewis and William H. Dieterich, the Illinois senators.

Senator Lewis has said in Washington that he would support the nominees whose names are submitted to the senate by President Roosevelt. Senator Dieterich has submitted to Cummings the names of two men: J. LeRoy Adair of Quincy, a former congressman, and J. Earl Major of Springfield, a federal district judge.

5,000 IN CAIRO STAND ALERT AS WATERS INCH UP

New Bulkhead Only Protection Now.

Cairo, Ill., Jan. 31.—[Special.]—Five thousand tired workmen stood alert tonight for the sirens and whistles to announce the "emergency" for which flood imperiled Cairo has been preparing the last ten days. The Ohio river climbed along a two and a half mile front to four inches above the city's 60 foot concrete sea wall and placed the first test on timber, mud and sand bulkheads placed three feet high there in hopes of stemming the crest.

On this front a crest of 61 feet is predicted for Wednesday. City officials and river engineers believed the bulkhead would hold. If it does, and the water does not rise to overflow the wall, the city is safe. Thus far it is dry, although the level of the water is from 7 to 20 feet above the streets.

Keep Constant Patrol.

Constant patrols inspect the levee, watching for breaks or signs of weakness. One emergency crew dashed to a low point this afternoon to pile up more sandbags against the encroaching river. Another crew went to the northern limits of the city to strengthen a hundred yard section of levee near the waterworks intake.

Above Cairo on the Cache river close watch also is being kept on a weak levee that might break at any time and close the only highway into the city. Should this levee break the only approach to the city would be by boat. National guardsmen were ready to close the steel gate, only break in the levee north of the city, through which water from the Cache might enter.

Evacuation orders were renewed in Cairo tonight by Mayor August Bode who said 1,500 women and children returned to the city yesterday and last night. With the only highway threatened, the mayor desired that all but workmen leave at once so that those who must stay might be removed quickly and safely should the main protecting levee be crushed.

Ship Periled by Gale; Liner to Rescue 35

New York, Jan. 31.—(AP)—The Holland-American Line steamer Edam reached the stricken American freighter Meanticut tonight and reported she was "standing by" ready to take off the crew of the freighter, wallowing in heavy seas north of the Azores.

Climaxing a 90 mile dash which began early today when the Meanticut sent out a frantic SOS, the captain of the Edam reported to the radiomarine station at Chatham, Mass., at 10:03 o'clock tonight:

Life Boats Dashed Away.

There were 35 men aboard, a message from the freighter said.

Disabled by storms which dashed away two of her four lifeboats, the Meanticut drifted helplessly in heavy seas all day while messages crackled from her radio room, directing rescue ships to her side.

Water was reported pouring into her hold and sweeping over her deck. In one message the captain was reported fearful that a bulkhead would give way.

The Edam, nearest to the stricken vessel, was first to reach the scene. Several other ships in the vicinity indicated they also were proceeding to the rescue.

These included the British steamer Mangalore, the American steamship Topa Topa and the steamship Waukegan.

Other Ships Continue on Course.

The United States liner Manhattan and the Italian liner Rex also were in the vicinity, but apparently satisfied that the other vessels could handle the situation, continued on their course.

Rockets from the Meanticut guided the Edam to her side. One message from the Edam reported sighting the freighter's distress rockets and added "can see ship now."

The Meanticut, owned by the Lykes Brothers, Ripley Steamship Company, Inc., of Houston, Tex., was bound for Liverpool. It sailed from New Orleans nearly two weeks ago with a general cargo. A vessel of 8,800 tons, it carried no passengers.

Meanwhile several other ships were reported in distress in storms raging over the North sea.

TONIGHT IS TAX DEADLINE; MAIL PAYMENT URGED

Midnight tonight is the deadline for paying the second instalment of 1935 real estate taxes. County Treasurer Horace G. Lindheimer announced yesterday that his office on the first floor of the county building will be open tonight as late as necessary to accommodate taxpayers.

The treasurer also urged all who can to mail in money orders or cashiers' checks for the amount of their bills. No penalty will be added if payments are postmarked before midnight.

Taxpayers whose complaints to the board of appeals have not been acted on before the deadline tonight will not be penalized for withholding payment of the second instalment until the board has acted. The board is expected to complete hearings late next month.

Radium Valued at $12,000 Disappears from Patient

Tyler, Tex., Jan. 31.—(AP)—A small bit of radium, worth $12,000, was sought tonight after it disappeared from a patient in a Tyler hospital. Dr. Charles D. Cupp, manager of the hospital, said a radium detector was being sent here from Quincy, Ill., and it was hoped the radium, about the size of a finger nail, would be found in drainage pipes.

Threatened Cairo Offers Water to Harrisburg

Harrisburg, Ill., Jan. 31.—(AP)—An offer of aid from a flood-theatened city came to a flood-stricken city today. A telegram from Cairo, Ill., which is fighting the Ohio river, told authorities in this city, where the river has cut off the water supply:

"We have plenty of good drinking water that we will be glad to send to your aid."

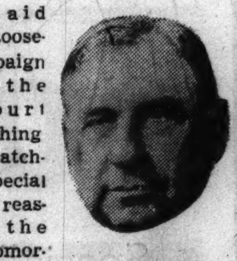
Ruling Today May Cast Die in Court Fight

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31.—[Special.]—With the New Dealers rallying in increasing numbers to aid President Roosevelt's campaign to dominate the Supreme court official Washington will be watching with special interest the reassembling of the tribunal tomorrow.



JUSTICE STONE.

For the first time this term there will be a full bench, Associate Justice Stone having recovered from his long illness. The court, with all nine members present, will proceed to hear arguments in the case involving the Wagner national labor relations act, the outcome of which will influence profoundly the controversy between the executive and judicial branches.

If the court should invalidate this major New Deal law the President would face the choice between a constitutional amendment and measures to curb the judicial power to nullify acts of congress. He has already declared a constitutional amendment unnecessary if the court will construe the constitution more liberally.

Decisions Will Be Scanned.

Forthcoming decisions will be scanned for signs for any possible yielding by the conservative members of the court to appeals, arguments, and threats of the President. One of these cases, which may be decided tomorrow, is that involving the Washington minimum wage law. Much of the agitation against the court was fomented by its decision holding the New York minimum wage law unconstitutional. The Washington law, however, differs from the New York statute in important particulars.

Tomorrow night Senator William E. Borah [Rep., Idaho] recognized as a great constitutional lawyer and in the past a staunch defender of an independent judiciary, will deliver an address entitled "The Supreme Court." It will be broadcast at 9 p. m. eastern standard time.

Representative Hamilton Fish [Rep., N. Y.] last night spoke over the radio on "The President and the Supreme Court."

"The President," said Mr. Fish, "raised an unfortunate and unlawful issue when he lectured the court . . . and urged the court to look at

Bomb Shatters New Home in Highland Park

A new $7,000 home, almost ready for occupancy, at 65 Elmwood drive, Highland Park, was wrecked late last night by a dynamite bomb. The explosion was terrific and was heard throughout the north shore suburb. Scores of residents were shaken from sleep.

Police Chief Edward Moroney immediately began an investigation to determine whether the bombing was inspired by labor troubles and indirectly tied to a "sitdown" strike in the building industry of Zion Industries, Inc., Zion.

The home bombed was a five room frame structure of English type, with garage attached, built for Sumner Sprague, 427 Glencoe avenue, Highland Park, an employé of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois. There was very little of its newness left. The blast loosened the front of the house, broke windows, and dropped the first floor into the basement. Several windows in neighboring residences were also broken.

See Car Speed Away.

No one saw the terrorists, although the Harry C. Warren family at 60 Elmwood drive saw their car speed away. The Warrens heard a window being broken in the new Sprague home a minute before the explosion, and, on looking out, saw the dynamiters' car racing away.

Investigation showed that the Sprague home was built by nonunion workmen from the building industries division of Zion Industries, Inc., which is nominally headed, at least, by General Overseer Wilbur Glenn Voliva. He is expected to return fron. Florida on Thursday.

Thirty on "Sitdown" Strike.

At present thirty employés of the building division are engaged in a "sitdown" strike, called last Saturday. They are demanding recognition of their Federal union and a 10 per cent pay increase. One of their principal complaints is that their nonunion status is making it more difficult for them to obtain employment outside of Zion and also causing them trouble.

This last was confirmed early today. Zion workers have been building two other Highland Park homes in addition to Sprague's. Two weeks ago today union business agents—or so they represented themselves—halted work on the three contracts for thirty-six hours.

An agreement was then reputedly made by the workers with the Lake County Trades council that after the three jobs were completed they would join the union. This, it was said, was agreeable to the union and resumption of work was permitted. Through a misunderstanding, however, work was stopped a second time last Monday and after two days the Zion men were allowed to continue.

It's a Costly Visit He Makes to Home of Kin

Salvatore Lazzuca, 5254 West Harrison street, owner of two meat markets, visited relatives in Des Plaines last night. It was a costly visit. While he was absent burglars ransacked his home, stealing $1,050 in cash and a certified check for $3,500, payable to himself.

RULING TO TEST LEGAL STATUS OF SITDOWNERS

BULLETIN.

Flint, Mich., Jan. 31.—(Special.)—Union members and their sympathizers were ordered tonight to gather on the courthouse lawn tomorrow afternoon as a protest against the issuance of any injunction by Judge Paul V. Gadola ordering the sitdown strikers to evacuate two Fisher body plants here.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 31.—A "showdown" on legality of the sitdown strike, principal weapon of the union which has spread paralysis through nearly all General Motors corporation's automotive assembly lines, impends tomorrow in Flint, Mich., where strikers have held two body plants for thirty-two days.

SHERIF THOMAS WOLCOTT.

Judge Paul V. Gadola of the Genesee county Circuit court has summoned Homer Martin, United Automobile Workers of America president, and twenty-nine other labor leaders to show cause at 2 p. m. tomorrow why he should not grant an injunction against the strikers who have held their posts since Dec. 30, despite riots which caused Gov. Frank Murphy to send 2,300 National Guardsmen to Flint.

Sherif Ready to Act.

Granting of the injunction would place the Fisher Body company sitdown strikers in contempt of court if they refused to vacate. Sherif Thomas Wolcott has said that if the orders come "for me to remove those men, I will do so."

Continued occupancy of the Fisher plants No. 1 and No. 2 by unionists has proved an obstacle thus far insurmountable by the state and federal officials attempting to arrange peace negotiations.

General Motors, in its second attempt to clear the strikers from its plants by court action, asked a mandatory injunction to compel immediate evacuation by the strikers who it said were "no longer in the employ of the company."

What Petition Declares.

The petition declared the "sitdown" of the union members forced closing of plants valued at $15,000,000, whose pay roll for a month exceeds $1,445,000, and charged the strikers are holding up production amounting to $45,000,000 annually, and that some of this business is going to other firms.

General Motors consistently has refused to negotiate with the U. A. W. A. while its plants are held by men it has termed trespassers. Meanwhile spreading shutdowns in other corporation plants brought idleness to nearly 150,000 workers, of whom some 50,000 have been called back to work on a part time basis building up inventories. Two thousand Buick workers at Flint will return to their jobs tomorrow.

Detroit Center of Peace Efforts.

Belief that the center of conciliation efforts had shifted to Detroit following failure of Alfred P. Sloan Jr., General Motors president, to agree to proposals of Secretary Frances Perkins of the labor department, was strengthened by a conference here between Gov. Murphy and William S. Knudsen, executive vice president of the corporation.

Gov. Murphy termed use of the courts "one of the peaceful methods" of procedure, and said pursuance of rights of both sides in the courts "should be helpful to both sides and to the public."

Insisting on avoidance of force or violence in the strikes, the governor has rejected suggestions that he subpena opposing leaders for a state department of labor hearing; has frowned on activities of outside groups opposing the strikes, and has instructed national guardsmen to stay out of the strike area in Flint. At his suggestion a union massmeeting in Saginaw, Mich., scheduled for today, was postponed.

"Compulsion" in conciliation of forts, he said, "creates an unhealthy atmosphere."

A previous injunction issued Jan. 2 by Judge Edward D. Black was not pressed after it was learned he owned General Motors stock. The sherif was shouted down when he went to the plants in an attempt to read that injunction to the strikers.

Whether nonunion General Motors workers who staged a ten hour "sitdown" in the state capitol in Lansing Friday would carry out their intention of resuming the maneuver tomorrow was not determined tonight. They demanded that the govenor remove the strikers from the Flint plants.

Labor Asks Troop Guard.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 31.—[Special.]—Organized labor today asked for National Guard rule in Anderson, Ind., where the General Motors guide lamp plant and General Motors Delco-Remy factory are located. But instead, because the entire strength of the Indiana National Guard is enforcing martial law in the seventeen southern Indiana flood stricken counties, Gov. M. Clifford Townsend arranged for appointment of seventy-five additional police in Anderson.

Harry R. Baldwin, Anderson mayor, agreed to choose the deputies from a list acceptable to labor. Two hundred Guide lamp employés went on a sitdown strike several weeks ago, but abandoned it when a truce appeared possible.

Delco Remy plants were closed because of lack of orders from other units. When the truce failed Guide lamp union men started picketing the plant. Delco-Remy resumed operations.

MORGAN, DU PONT 'NOD' WOULD END STRIKE—LEWIS

New York, Jan. 31.—(AP)—John L. Lewis, chairman of the Committee for Industrial Organization, tonight asserted that the General Motors corporation strike could be settled "tomorrow" by "a nod" from Pierre S. du Pont or J. P. Morgan.

Picturing the industrialist and the financier as in virtual control of the steel and auto industries, Lewis said at a dinner sponsored by a magazine:

"Pierre du Pont and J. P. Morgan can restore peace in Michigan tomorrow if they will, but they prefer up to this time to pit the strength of their dollars against the workers, and they also insolently and arrogantly flaunt representatives of this government and representatives of the state of Michigan when they are asked to sit down at the council table."

GENERAL MOTORS DIRECTORS ACT ON DIVIDEND TODAY

Directors of the General Motors corporation will meet today to consider dividend action on the common stock. Whether they will reduce or pass payment because of the loss in revenues resulting from the strike has not been disclosed. On Sept. 30, 1936, the corporation had an earned surplus of $371,335,216.

Last year the corporation paid dividends totaling $4.50 a share, or $195,750,000. This included the regular quarterly payments of 50 cents a share, two extras of 75 cents and an extra of $1. The company also disbursed $10,000,000 in Christmas bonuses and in November announced a 5 cents an hour wage increase, which boosted wages by $21,000,000 year.

WHETHER LEWIS OR MEN STARTED STRIKE QUESTION

Martin Admits His Union Didn't Call It.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 31.—[Special.]—That John L. Lewis is using the United Automobile Workers of America as the attacking agency in his attempt to unionize the automobile industry cannot be questioned. Whether Lewis brought about the present General Motors situation or whether the situation brought Lewis into the automotive picture before he was ready, is another question.

A meeting of delegates from a dozen local unions in General Motors plants was scheduled for Flint on Jan. 3. The conference was to have drawn up a set of demands to be presented to the corporation, with the threat of a strike to be used as a bludgeon.

Young and Enthusiastic.

Young, enthusiastic organizers for the union had been roaming the country. They had accepted unionism in much the same way that a neurotic lady accepts a new faith cure—on enthusiasm rather than considered judgment. Their followers did likewise.

Discipline—a cardinal necessity in efficient unionism—suffered in the speedy enrollment of members. The members ran away with the international union when they pulled the "spontaneous combustion" sitdown strike at the Fisher No. 2 plant on Wednesday, Dec. 30.

COLLINS. LEWIS. MARTIN.

Homer Martin, president of the international union at 34, admits that the head office did not call the strike at Fisher No. 2. Robert Travis, Flint union head, who is no older than Martin, sped to Detroit that afternoon to confer with Martin. He went back that night with instructions to save what he could by ordering another strike at Fisher No. 1, a key plant in the production of General Motors bodies.

Act Before Conference.

The conference was held the following Sunday, as per schedule, but it was a perfunctory affair. The undisciplined enthusiasm of the men in Fisher No. 2 had already stolen the only threat that the conference might have offered with its demands.

A small group of "willful minds" in Flint had John L. Lewis on the warpath whether he liked it or not. His demands could be, and were, offered, but the corporation said they wouldn't even discuss things as long as the men continued in the plants. The possible threat had become an ugly reality which Lewis has called upon President Roosevelt to sustain, after having first been denied an opportunity to make a bid for general public support.

Martin epitomizes the youth and inexperience of the automotive union. Four years ago he was a Baptist minister in a suburb of Kansas City, Mo. His congregation was made up largely of workers in the Kansas City Chevrolet plant, but the deacons decided that he was a bit more of a unionist than a preacher.

His childhood was spent in the unionized mine fields of southern Illinois. At the age of 19 he became a minister, later preaching his way through William Jewell college at Liberty, Mo. He found time to become the national A. A. U. hop-skip-and-jump champion in 1924 and 1925.

Martin left his church in the summer of 1933 to become a workman on the assembly line at the Kansas City Chevrolet plant. Since then he has preached unionism without restraint.

In the preceding year the American Federation of Labor had begun organizing federal locals in various automobile plants. As was the custom of the A. F. of L. in the formation of new unions, the locals were affiliated directly with the central body rather than being turned into an "international" union of their own.

Collins Does Organizing.

William Collins did the organizing work in this area. He set up the present offices in the Hoffman building here and went about the unionizing of local plants with a speed that surprised and annoyed the local trades union council of the A. F. of L. The council's protests that Collins refused to heed their advice was not directly acted upon, but in 1934 he was "kicked upstairs" to the directorship of all A. F. of L. activities in New York state.

Other organizers were working across the country. Finally a national council representing the individual unions was brought into being here in the spring of 1934. Martin was one of the delegates.

Out of the council grew a "constitutional convention" in Detroit in August, 1935. The officers of the new international were appointed by William Green, chief of the A. F. of L. He put Francis J. Dillon, a member of the Moulders' union, who had been organizing automobile workers in Detroit, in as president, and Martin in as a vice president. Dillon was unpopular with the rank and file.

Labor Break Widens.

The schism in the new international office widened between Martin and Dillon. In January of 1936 Martin and Ed Hall, another vice president, went before a meeting of the executive council of the A. F. of L. in Miami and demanded an election.

Martin was elected president of the U. A. W. in South Bend, Ind., last April. One of his first acts, in July, was to declare his union "in" on the drive of Lewis to organize the mass production industry into vertical unions. Martin's action was confirmed the following month by the executive committee of his union.

The youthful U. A. W. president has been guided by John Brophy, C. I. O. director, and Adolph Germer, C. I. O. organizer, both of whom are old timers in Lewis' United Mine Workers of America. While neither of the C. I. O. men would ever admit that they did not approve of their step-child's actions, they have appeared to be distressed at times with the "strategy" employed by Martin. It is certain that neither of them would have followed his course of action.

No Figures on Membership.

The question of the size of the U. A. W. has never been accurately answered by the union heads. Brophy said at Flint two weeks ago that they had "more than 100,000" of the half million workers directly connected with the automotive industry. Martin says, "I don't know the exact figure" when asked how many there are in his union.

Flint, Mich., Jan. 31.—[Special.]—Miss Ellen Wilkinson, British labor member of parliament, and Powers Hapgood, C. I. O. representative and Harvard graduate, addressed a union massmeeting in front of Fisher Body company plant No. 1 today. About 300 persons attended. Miss Wilkinson also visited the sitdowners in both plants.

"I am amazed at the political and social backwardness of General Motors," said Miss Wilkinson later.

"I must say I am amazed at the scrupulous care the sit in strikers are taking of the plants.

"Boiled down, it looks to me as if the crucial issue here in Flint is this: Shall President Roosevelt and Gov. Murphy, representing the people, be overruled by the economic royalists that run General Motors?"

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 31.—[Special.]—A combination of better times and an early Lent gave a new record of 395 marriage licenses for January over a previous high of 349 in the boom year of 1929.

SCHOOLS START LIGHTER STUDY SCHEDULE TODAY

Curriculum Is Eased for 375,000 Pupils.

When Chicago's 375,000 public school pupils enter classes for the second semester today they will find the burden of their studies lightened.

Three "solid" subjects—English, general science, and one optional course—instead of four will be required of high school freshmen. And for the first time they will be given credits toward graduation for minor courses in music, art, and physical training.

The lightened curriculum will be followed for two years by new high school pupils, Superintendent William H. Johnson said. Exceptions, however, will be made for freshmen who demonstrate their ability to assume a heavier burden. They will be permitted to enlarge their study programs.

"Practice in matters learned in school can be accomplished at home as well as at school," Dr. Johnson said. "But the place for the study of fundamentals is the schoolroom."

Elementary school pupils also will have lighter work. The plunge into long division and fractions is to be delayed until pupils have "experienced situations which will make these mathematical studies intelligible to them," Dr. Johnson declared.

Nor will the first graders have to wrestle with the alphabet in two forms. They will not be asked to learn longhand script, Dr. Johnson said, until they have a pretty thorough knowledge of printed characters.

New York, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Rudolph Redlin, an unemployed wireless operator, was killed in a six story plunge from his furnished room in West 98th street today.

THREAT IS MADE TO COMPLETELY TIE UP CHEVROLET PLANT

Flint, Mich., Jan. 31.—[Special.]—Threat of a complete tieup of Chevrolet auto plant here was made tonight at a union meeting which was presided over by Roy Reuther, 26 years old, an official of the union, who recently returned from a two years' stay in Russia.

Robert Travis, president of the local union, announced that Arnold Lenz, operating manager of the Chevrolet plant, had been warned that his company "must stop discrimination against union men or else—." Travis did not say what the "or else" meant. He said he would confer again tomorrow with Lenz.

The Rev. Father J. W. R. Maguire, former member of the Chicago regional labor relations board, and Mrs. Gifford Pinchot, wife of the former Pennsylvania governor, were speakers.

Father Maguire was rather embarrassed by his own attack on THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE. He hastened to say he had not meant any attempt to embarrass any one when a TRIBUNE reporter present was pointed out to the priest by Travis. The reporter was forced to rise and show himself.

The clergyman characterized himself as "an outside agitator" who had been laboring for labor for 25 years.

FLAYS FAILURE OF GOVERNMENT IN AUTO STRIKE

New York, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Brig. Gen. Louis W. Stotesbury, New York attorney and member of the Sons of the American Revolution, today told fellow members the government had failed in its duty in permitting sitdown strikers to occupy General Motors plants.

Speaking at exercises at the grave of Gouverneur Morris on the [illegible] anniversary of the Declaration of Independence signer's birthday, Brig. Gen. Stotesbury, who served on the general staf in the world war, said:

"Coercion, intimidation, violence, and terrorism have no part in our system and the government that tolerates them fails in its duty. I am referring frankly to the attitude of the government towards those people who have taken possession of other people's property out there in Detroit."

KING GIVES QUEEN TOP HONORS IN NEW YEAR'S LIST

George VI. Names Brothers Personal Aids.

BY SAM BREWER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 1 [Monday].—Honors ranging from a viscountcy downward, and including three baronies, six baronetcies, fifty-five knighthoods and one membership in the ultra exclusive Order of Merit compose the "New Year's" honors list. It was issued today, a month late because of the abdication in December of King Edward VIII. of England. All predictions as to recipients of honors were badly upset.

Of the number named as likely to get honors for their labors during the abdication crisis, Walter Monckton, attorney for the duchy of Cornwall, is the only one on the list. He is made a knight commander of the Royal Victorian order.

King Honors His Queen.

Queen Elizabeth, wife of King George VI., headed members of the royal family honored. She is made a dame grand cross of the Royal Victorian order and grand master of that order.

Named personal aides-de-camp to King George are his brothers, the dukes of Gloucester and Kent; his uncle, the earl of Athlone; his granduncle, the duke of Connaught; his cousin, Prince Arthur of Connaught, and his brother-in-law, the earl of Harewood.

The duke of Kent also is made the king's naval aide-de-camp, as is Lord Louis Mountbatten, the king's cousin. The duke of Gloucester is elevated to the rank of air vice marshal.

The lone recipient of the Order of Merit, founded in 1902, limited to 24 members, but never yet filled, is Herbert Albert Laurens Fisher, who is warden of New College, Oxford. He is honored in "recognition of his eminent position as a historian and for his services to literature." This brings the membership to 17.

The single viscount named is Baron Greenwood, "for public services." He is a native of Whitley, Ont.

Simon Is Passed Over.

Outstanding among those passed over, though generally touted for honors, were Sir John Simon, home secretary; Baron Hewart, lord chief justice of England, and Lord Nuffield, motor manufacturer whose recent benefactions of millions of pounds sterling were believed certain to open the door to promotion in the peerage.

Simon, Hewart, and Sir Godfrey Thomas, assistant private secretary to former King Edward, were reported slated for promotions for their part in untangling the abdication crisis.

One bye election to the house of commons will result from the honors. Sir Arthur Samuel, for eight years a member of parliament from Fernham, is named a baron, which disqualifies him for membership in the house of commons. Samuel formerly was treasurer of the king's household.

Honored for Public Service.

Other new barons are Maj. Sir George Hennessy, former member of parliament and officeholder, "for political and public services," and Sir Harry McGowan, chairman of Imperial Chemical Industries, "for public services."

Best known of those raised to baronetcies is Malcolm Stewart, who recently resigned as commissioner for "depressed areas" in England and Wales supposedly because of his inability to get action from the cabinet. Among others receiving baronetcies are Sir William Clare Lees, a leader in the British cotton industry, and Sir Derwent Hall Caine, parliamentarian and son of the late Sir Hall Caine, novelist.

Names of few women appear in King George's honor list. Chief among them is Lady Williams, daughter of Elinor Glyn, the novelist. She is promoted to the Order of the British Empire.

The list contains a number of appointments and promotions to the Royal Victorian order of former servants and others associated with former King Edward.

Outstanding among the honors bestowed by Edward prior to his abdication and now disclosed for the first time is the award to Capt. N. P. Doyle, master of the steam yacht Nahlin, on which the ex-king cruised off the Dalmatian coast with Mrs. Wallis Simpson last summer. Capt. Doyle is made a member of the Victorian order, as is Commander Charles Leslie Firth, who commanded the destroyer Grafton which escorted the Nahlin on the cruise. The honors are dated Sept. 6.

Honors List Notables and Some Notable Exceptions

Queen Elizabeth, Baron Hewart, Sir Godfrey Thomas, and Sir John Simon. The queen was named a dame grand cross of the Royal Victorian order and the men were unmentioned.

NO MERCY FOR TRAITORS, RED LEADERS RULE

13 Condemned Men Must Face Firing Squad.

MOSCOW, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Clemency pleas by thirteen confessed conspirators against the soviet union were rejected today by the presidium of the communist executive committee, destroying the doomed men's last hope of escaping a firing squad.

The prisoners, convicted of treason in the sensational trial of Karl Radek and sixteen others charged with plotting with the exiled Leon Trotzky, appealed to the presidium as the last resort from the death verdict of the highest soviet court.

They were ordered shot within 48 hours after sentence was pronounced at 3:30 a. m. Saturday.

Many of them formerly high soviet officeholders, the group included Gregory Piatakov, former assistant commissar for heavy industry; L. Serebryakov, former assistant commissar of communications, and S. A. Rataychak, ex-head of the chemical industry in the U. S. S. R.

Four other defendants at the treason trial, the noted soviet journalist Radek, Gregory Sokolnikov, former ambassador to Great Britain; M. S. Stroilov, and V. V. Arnold, were sentenced to prison for their confessed participation in the plot.

Reds Acclaim Verdict.

[Copyright: 1937: By the New York Times.]

MOSCOW, Jan. 31.—Mass demonstrations throughout the soviet union, announced today's Pravda, testify to public approval of the verdict against the Trotzkyist conspirators. Such demonstrations illustrate the immense power of the press radio as wielded by authoritarian régimes.

One of the secrets of Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's success in Germany is the knowledge that you can fool most of the people most of the time if you say one thing loud enough and allow no one else to say other things. Thus the soviet government succeeded in its main purpose in the recent trial—to convince Russians of the wickedness, futility, and personal danger that such remnants of Trotzkyism as may exist here involve to supporters.

How far the secondary purpose—that of convincing the outer world—was successful will become apparent later and may be furthered by other trials—of Germans arrested on charges of sabotage and espionage or Russian "rights," like Nicolai Bukharin, former newspaper editor.

Blame Trotzky for All.

The trial, however, indicates a further point which is characteristic of modern authoritarian régimes. Just as the Nazis try to identify Jews with Socialists and declare that both represent "bolshevism," so here rights and lefts are lumped in a single opposition group labeled "Fascism" and placed more or less arbitrarily under Trotzky's leadership.

To Russians this aids in damning Trotsky but the question arises whether abroad it may not magnify him beyond his deserts. Official opinion here seems to have little fear of that—it hoped that the evidence of Piatakov, Radek and others would be sufficient to convince workers abroad who supported Trotzky or might support him in the future that his policy is bound in the final issue to be tantamount to counter revolution—or in a word to Fascism.

Flood Refugees Become Town's 'Visiting Friends'

WOMAN FALLS TO DEATH FROM 16 STORY CLUB

New York, Jan. 31.—[Special.]—A young woman, identified by a note in her handbag as Miss Sarah Rubin, was killed some time this evening by a plunge from the roof of Butler hall, a 16 story residence club near Barnard college.

Miss Rubin was graduated from Barnard about three years ago, according to friends. She subsequently became a substitute teacher of mathematics. Recently she had appeared despondent over her inability to find steady employment.

MIRACLE EARNS MOSES RATING AS MAN OF SCIENCE

The miracle of the burning bush that Moses turned aside to see was explained by a Harvard scientist last night as probably a natural gas seepage ignited by lightning. This scientist, Dr. Kirtley G. Mather, noted geologist, used the miracle related in the third chapter of Exodus to illustrate the relation of science and religion. He spoke before the Sunday Evening club in Orchestra hall.

Dr. Mather explained that the exact reason why the bush was not consumed by the fire is unimportant, but that in turning aside to see the strange sight and to discover, if possible, its cause, Moses showed the attitude of a scientist.

"The important thing," said Dr. Mather, "is the reaction of the man to the phenomenon of nature. Presumably there were others who looked on the strange sight, but Moses was the only one who responded by saying 'I will turn aside to see why.' In that response we find the very essence of the spirit of scientific research."

Dr. Mather declared the joint objective of science and religion is to set mankind free and that science has been at the service of religion. But he explained that science without the influence of religion can be perverted to destructive purposes. For instance, an airplane may be used to help Ohio flood sufferers or it may be used to bomb homes in a Spanish city.

PRESTON GIBSON NOT SERIOUSLY ILL, SAY DOCTORS

New York, Jan. 31.—[Special.]—Physicians attending Preston Gibson today said that his illness, a general physical breakdown, is not serious. Gibson is a patient in a Bronx veterans' hospital.

Gibson, one of the war's spectacular figures, achieved further fame by marrying successively four heiresses but is now reported practically penniless. His last wife, the former Mrs. Evelyn Spaulding, procured a Reno divorce nine years ago and is now the wife of Rob Roy Converse.

His first wife was Minna Field, niece of Marshall Field. They were divorced in 1907. He then married Grace McMillan Jarvis, granddaughter of the late Senator McMillan. This union ended in a Washington, D. C., divorce in 1917. Next Gibson eloped with Mrs. Beatrice Pratt, divorced wife of Alexander Dallas Pratt.

5,000 IN CAIRO STAND ALERT AS WATERS INCH UP

Sirens and Whistles to Sound "Emergency."

from the Mississippi into an area already flooded and indicated that the giant river might cut a new channel across the mile wide neck at the Tennessee-Kentucky state line where it reverses its direction and flows north into Missouri in a tight horseshoe.

This break caused waters to rise at Tiptonville, Tenn., where several thousand refugees are being housed and fed, but Mayor A. E. Markham said the rise would not endanger the town or refugees. Boats with steam up are standing by in the event they are needed to remove residents.

Throughout the danger zone from Hickman, Ky., to Caruthersville, Mo., more than 50,000 lowland residents have been evacuated with their possessions.

Under Control Says General.

After an aerial survey today, Maj. Gen. George Moseley, in charge of the army's flood relief work in the lower Mississippi valley, said the river appeared to be under control, that all precaution has been taken against loss of life, and little remains to be done except care for the refugees.

The problem of caring for the refugees will remain for a long time, Gen. Moseley said. As the refugees are evacuated each is inoculated against smallpox and typhoid fever. Then they are dispatched to a dozen concentration centers, some as far from the valley as Birmingham, Ala.

At various danger spots along the river today steamboats were standing by with steel barges ready to push them into any break in the levees. Two steamers were ready at Cairo for this emergency action which would give workmen a chance to fill a break as the barge slowed the flow of water.

100,000 Bolster Levees.

From Memphis to New Orleans more than 100,000 workers continued to bolster levees in anticipation of flood crests in five or six days.

Red Cross officials said 87,000 were homeless in east Arkansas. At Blytheville, Ark., several hundred families were seen in water surrounded homes today by aerial surveyors.

Throughout the stretch levees were found to be in good shape and engineers said they believe crests could be withstood easily.

Up in the Ohio today the flood crest was passing Evansville, Ind., and tomorrow a large number of factories and businesses will be permitted to reopen. The river came to a stand with a stage of 53 feet 9 inches. Cleanup of the city and rehabilitation of flood victims will be started tomorrow morning and pushed as rapidly as possible as the water recedes from the flooded areas.

SHANGHAI, Jan. 31. — Gratefully recalling past American assistance to China in times of floods and famines, a group of leading Chinese gathered at the suggestion of the finance minister, Dr. H. H. Kung, at his home this afternoon and decided to raise funds in a nation-wide campaign to assist flood victims in the Ohio and Mississippi valleys. Another meeting has been called by Kung for Monday noon at which the Chinese Red Cross and other organizations will be represented.

This map covers the territory vitally affected by yesterday's flood news. At Cairo the Ohio river climbed over the 60 foot sea wall onto the three foot wooden bulkhead erected last week, and workmen awaited the "emergency" call. Collapse of a secondary levee at Bessie, Tenn., sent waters of the Mississippi into an already flooded area and indicated the river might cut a new channel across the mile wide neck where New Madrid sits on the "toe" of a horseshoe. There efforts were being made to account for 100 levee workers dumped in the river. In the danger zone from Hickman, Ky., to Caruthersville, Mo., more than 50,000 lowland residents have evacuated.

Homes of 956,603 Persons Flooded

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31.—(AP)—The Red Cross tonight announced it had added 40,000 persons to its rolls in the flood zone in the last twenty-four hours. Persons whose homes have been flooded totaled 956,603, of whom 676,176 had abandoned their homes.

Officials said figures indicated flood stricken areas had been evacuated and that persons who had refused to leave their homes had been reached by boats with supplies.

The Red Cross reported 179 counties affected by flood waters and that 47 counties outside the area were housing refugees. There were 360 concentration camps in operation today and 108 Red Cross field hospitals. Flood states were being worked by 1,215 Red Cross nurses and 380 relief workers.

Officials said $8,319,500 in contributions have been received towards the Red Cross requested fund of $10,000,000.

WOMEN CHIEFS REORGANIZE TO AID DEMOCRATS

Miss Mary W. Dewson, vice chairman, announced the appointment of Mrs. Mary Thompson Evans, Raleigh, N. C., as assistant director of the division, effective March 1. She succeeds Miss Bess Fickel, Hastings, Ia., who resigned after the campaign.

The post of division director, vacated by Mrs. James H. Wolfe, Salt Lake City, would be filled soon, Miss Dewson said.

Paducah, Ky., Jan. 31.—[Special.]—Working with all speed, army engineers hope by tomorrow night to abandon Paducah to the mercies of the flooded Ohio river. Slightly more than 4,000 residents remain in upper floors of houses and buildings and everyone is to be removed. Only a guard of 300 will remain to patrol the town against looting.

Orders for complete evacuation were issued last week as a health measure, but thousands fought against removal. Five hundred were taken out today to Mayfield, Ky., and to Avondale Heights and Arcadia, Paducah suburbs. From Mayfield refugees are to be taken further back to Fulton, Hopkinsville, and Murray, Ky., and Paris and Jackson, Tenn.

American Legionnaires who volunteered for patrol work have been armed and given full police powers. They will row about the city in boats and keep a lookout for fires.

Louisville Emerges.

Louisville was emerging more and more today from the flood disaster. Streets in the flooded zones, more than half of the city, will be passable for trucks and automobiles by tomorrow morning. A few low spots will remain too deep, but boats will be on hand to service these areas. Truck and automobile drivers were cautioned today to drive with extreme care because of the possible holes in pavements where sewers have collapsed.

Strict quarantine went into effect in Louisville this morning. Territory within a five mile area surrounding the city was barred to incoming trafic, except on urgent business. Outgoing trafic is not being stopped. City officials declared this measure was necessary to guard against a possible disease epidemic.

One district in the west end, hardest hit by the flood, is under quarantine against both incoming and outgoing trafic. Relief organizations still face a major problem of caring for the thousands of refugees who will not be permitted to return to their water-soaked homes for weeks to come.

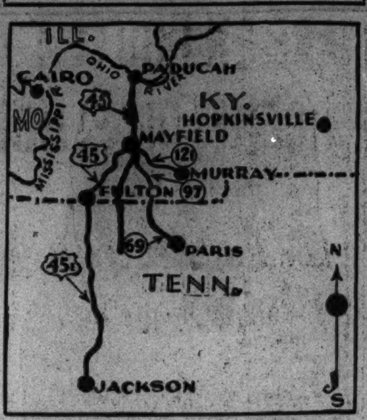
Pray for a Drouth.

Cincinnatians watched the Ohio river continue to recede from their city today and prayers were offered in the churches that no more rain fall until the river has returned to its banks, and that the city be spared from fire and epidemics.

Additional electric power today permitted operation of essential service outside the flood area. Fifteen hundred guardsmen, 200 naval militiamen, and a full force of police kept trafic to a minimum and prevented sightseers from entering the flood zone. The line keeps everyone without a pass five blocks from the water's edge.

City Manager C. A. Dykstra, disaster dictator of the city, said he could make no promise when normal business would be resumed throughout the city, because the need to conserve power and water still is acute. Fifty thousand homeless persons are being cared for by relief agencies.

Evacuation Routes



Flood refugees from Paducah, Ky., which army engineers hope to have completely evacuated by tonight, yesterday were being taken by truck over U. S. road 45 to Mayfield, Ky., for transportation to other cities. From Mayfield some were being transported to Fulton, Ky., over 45 and thence to Jackson, Tenn., on U. S. 45E. Another group was being taken to Murray, Ky., on state route 121, while others were carried to Paris, Tenn., on Kentucky 97 and Tennessee 69.

BESSIE OPPOSITE SITE OF FAMOUS WAR SURRENDER

Bessie, Tenn., Jan. 31.—(AP)—Bessie was never much of a place to speak of, but 2,000 men today fought doggedly to save her and lost.

Flood waters came pounding over Bessie when a spur dike on the Mississippi river gave way. When the muddy waters poured through the dike 2,000 weary defenders scurried to safety.

Bessie was at the head of a trough of land extending diagonally across the mile wide strip inside of a 40 mile horseshoe made by the river.

Almost opposite is all that is left of Island No. 10, no longer an island, but a part of Missouri. It was here that the guns of 15,000 federal troops forced confederates to surrender in April, 1862.

River trouble began in Tiptonville when the Mississippi started transporting its shore line to the Missouri side. Finally the waterfront came so close to the town that merchants put rollers under their stores and buildings and pulled them away from the danger line. It became so bad the buildings had to be moved every day.

In the end the town of Tiptonville was moved to its present site on a high ridge, where it is safe from a tremendous stage of water.

Red Cross Office Busy.

The Chicago headquarters of the Red Cross remained open all day yesterday and was a scene of busy activity in contrast with the Sabbath quiet of the downtown district. Every mail brought a load of contributions so heavy that 10 volunteer workers were engaged in writing receipts alone.

Among the few contributions brought in person was one by a postman, stopping in on his day off. In his hand he held his bi-monthly pay check, which he thrust into the hands of an amazed volunteer. "It's for flood relief," he said.

At the Red Cross warehouse, 330 South Water street, two carloads of blankets and clothing were shipped to the Red Cross distributing post at St. Louis, to be sent wherever needed. An emergency call requesting thirty-five packages of obstetrical supplies was received from the refugee camp at Sikeston, Mo., by Melville Carr, flood relief chairman. The packages were shipped immediately.

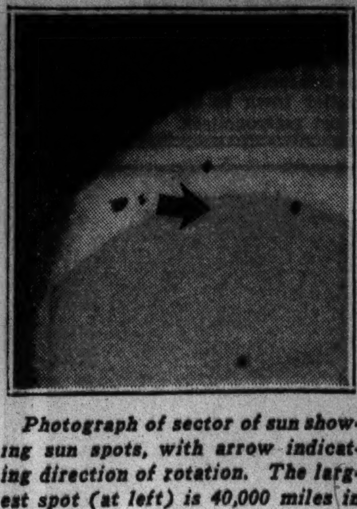
CAPT. THOMAS SEE.

A report from the naval observatory at Washington yesterday of unusual sun spot activity recalled a prediction in 1934 that great floods would occur from 1936 through 1938 from the effect of sun spots.

A photograph of the sun taken last fall disclosed a sun spot 40,000 miles in diameter just being brought into view by the rotation of the sun which makes a revolution once in 11½ years. Capt. J. F. Hellweg, superintendent of the naval observatory, said yesterday that a new photograph made last Wednesday showed "eight small groups of sunspots, two medium groups, one large group and two small spots."



Photograph of sector of sun showing sun spots, with arrow indicating direction of rotation. The largest spot (at left) is 40,000 miles in diameter.

Forecast During Drouth.

In May, 1934—during a prolonged drouth period in Chicago and the middle west—Capt. Thomas J. J. See, veteran mathematician and astronomer of the United States navy, now retired, forecast great floods throughout the world from 1936 through 1938.

"Rainfall will increase for the next two years, after which the floods will occur," Capt. See predicted at Mare Island navy base in California where he was stationed at that time. "Since the decrease of sun spots began in 1928, great drouths have been observed in nearly all countries. But the reappearance of large sun spots will bring vast floods in 1936-'38.

"By extensive research I proved that the 11½ year flood cycle, when the sunspots are most rapidly increasing, is dependable and historically accurate."

Lake Disturbance Seen.

Last December Dr. C. G. Abbot, secretary of the Smithsonian institution in Washington, made public his studies of solar radiation and its influence on weather. Dr. Abbot said he had found that the levels of the Great Lakes fluctuate in regularly recurring cycles of 23 years. [Twice the period of the sun's revolution.]

Dr. Abbot declared the lake levels, like the growth of vegetation, the abundance of creatures that feed on vegetation and the width of tree rings, vary in relation to the intensity of the sun's radiation, which in turn is closely related to variations in the activity of sun spots.

U. S. OFFICIALS ARE EN ROUTE TO SCENE OF FLOOD

Want to Be Sure Relief Job Is Well Done.

En route with Government Commission to Flood Scene, Jan. 31.—(AP)—A commission of high government officials today journeyed toward the midwest's flood scene to be, as Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins put it, "Damn sure the job of relief and rehabilitation is well done."

Hopkins, with Gen. E. M. Markham, chief of army engineers, and others of the group named by President Roosevelt assembled about him, said that after the initial work of saving lives had been accomplished directing heads needed first hand information "to see that we don't miss any bets." That "can't be done by telephone," he added.

Markham, consulting with aides over charts and latest reports from the flood front, said the levee system below Cairo, Ill., was expected to carry the Ohio run-off safely to the gulf but that the situation was being closely watched.

POPE, IMPROVED, TOILS ON SPANISH WAR PROBLEMS

VATICAN CITY, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Pope Pius XI., greatly improved by a restful night, turned today to a study of Spanish civil war problems.

He conferred at length with Cardinal Eugenio Pacelli, Vatican secretary of state. Afterward attendants rolled the pontiff's wheeled divan to a nearby desk, where he wrote several long communications dealing with the Spanish situation.

It was the first time since his illness became serious that the pope had done more than merely sign documents prepared for him or scribble brief memoranda.

26 MORE POLICEMEN TO FLY TO LOUISVILLE FROM CHICAGO TODAY

Twenty-six more Chicago policemen will fly to Louisville this morning to augment the force of 44 Chicago bluecoats now on flood duty there. Two sergeants and 24 patrolmen will make up the new detachment. They will be accompanied by Dr. Alfred C. Wendt, a police department surgeon.

Capt. Andrew Barry, commander of the first detachment sent to Louisville, appealed for more men yesterday. Chief John Prendergast of the uniformed force flew to Louisville and approved the request.

The policemen are leaving the Municipal airport in two Eastern Air Lines planes at 6:30 this morning.

MAP PLANS FOR HEALTH DRIVE IN ILLINOIS FLOOD

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 31.—[Special.]—With the recession of flood waters expected soon, Gov. Horner and state and federal officials drew up plans tonight for a sanitation rehabilitation program for the ten stricken southern Illinois counties. Work will commence the moment the waters begin returning to their channels.

The job to be done is to inspect at least 20,000 flooded homes, help to remove water and débris, flush and clean out clogged up sewage systems, repurify drinking water supplies, sterilize wells, inspect all milk supplies, dispose of dead animals, and in general remove all potential health menaces caused by the flood.

This cleanup program will be financed by $1,087,500 of WPA funds and a state appropriation. At least 5,000 men, mostly from WPA lists, will be employed. The state health department will have charge.

Present at the conference with the governor were Dr. Frank Jirka, state health director; Dr. A. C. Baxter, his assistant; Charles Miner, Illinois WPA administrator; Frank R. Shaw, Chicago district engineer; Arthur P. Miller, New York district engineer for the United States public health service, and C. W. Klassen, state sanitary engineer.

GIVES SELF UP 17 YEARS AFTER FLEEING PRISON

In 1919, when he was 21, John W. Dick climbed the wall of the Oklahoma state reformatory at Granite, where he was serving a five year term for robbery, and fled. Thirty-eight now, married, and the father of two children, Dick walked into the Shakespeare avenue police station yesterday and told Lieut. Emil Anderson his conscience could bear the strain no longer. He begged to be arrested and sent back.

Anderson doubted Dick's story, but telegraphed Oklahoma authorities. They verified that Dick had escaped seventeen years ago and said they would send men for him.

Dick said that for eight years he has been employed by a Chicago [illegible] company and that he has never been in trouble since his escape. His wife, Frances, was broken-hearted when told in their home at 3046 North Kedzie avenue what he had done. He had long ago told her of his past. She said she would appeal for a pardon for him.

Moving Forward

Marshall Field & Company presents here each day observations and opinions intended to be of interest and value to those it seeks to serve.

57TH FLOOR FOLKS

By CALEB

WE entered an air line ticket office in New York City. It was early on a dank and drippy foggy morning. "One to Washington, please," we said. And inquired, "You'll fly this morning, won't you?"

The man behind the counter answered, "Sure." And nodding toward the wet and wispy outdoors added, "We fly this weather all the time. This isn't bad." And as an after-thought, "But we can't convince people on the 57th floor it isn't."

From Newark we took off on schedule. A few feet from the ground we were floating like a fixed center in a milky sphere. There was no rain, but water flowed in parallel streaks across the windows front to back.

We thought of the 57th floor people. It's easy to believe there is no path through a fog. It's easy to stay where you are if you can't see where you're going.

But usually there's a way through. The last half of our trip was in sunshine and above the clouds. We landed on a dry and visible field.

Every venture is akin to flying and—sometime or other—akin to flying in a fog. Many times you take off, leaving the solidity of conventional status quo behind. And there are usually some take-offs scheduled when it looks thick ahead. Then you either sit and wait—or you figure your course as well as you can and get going, using every possible aid to getting through rightly.

It can be added that many people are "flying" all the time in a fog. A plane without instruments and no radio beacon must stay grounded or take a great chance. A business without the assistance of modern research and its collateral analytical approach to problems must likewise "stand by," or fly blind.

Fifty-seventh floor folks are those who stare into problems and give no consideration to the methods of licking them. Their attention is on the fog and not on ways to get through.

These are days when flying must be done in spite of the fog. The fog looks no worse a mile up in the air than it does from the 57th floor. If it looks thick to you in your particular spot today, get down to the ground of fact and certainty for a take-off. Get all possible information. Analyze it. Chart your course. And get going.

Many people fly this weather all the time.

Says Mr. Donald McClelland

• • These photographs show three views of Mr. McClelland before he started Thomas treatment, and three views taken 5½ months later. Note that all of the bald spots have been completely filled in with new, vigorous, growing hair. Mr. McClelland's baldness was of the type known as "alopecia areata".

All of the 14 local causes of baldness (responsible for almost 90% of all baldness) respond to the Thomas method of treatment. Dandruff disappears; abnormal hair-fall stops; and hair growth is promoted on the thin and bald spots. Guess work is banished when you place your scalp problem in the hands of a Thomas expert. He first determines the exact cause of your hair loss, and then adapts the reliable, proved Thomas treatment to overcome that cause. Your scalp is soon restored to a normal healthy condition, conducive to the natural growth of hair.

More than 1600 other persons are benefiting each day from Thomas treatment. You, too, can have a good head of hair. No charge is ever made for consultation or a complete scalp examination (always in private). Call today and learn the truth about your hair and scalp.

REVEAL PLANS ON CALUMET AREA LAKES-GULF LINK

U. S. and City to Dredge Harbor and Build Dock.

Within a few months the federal government and the city of Chicago will begin work on an important development of the Illinois link of the lakes to the gulf waterway. The project includes the dredging of a harbor in Lake Calumet and the construction of transfer and terminal facilities on the harbor for water commerce.

The work is part of a larger program to provide adequate facilities in the Calumet region for an increasing use of the lakes-gulf waterway. Completion of the project will substitute the Calumet and Little Calumet rivers and the Sag channel for the Chicago river as the major connecting route between Lake Michigan and the Chicago sanitary and ship canal.

Start Dredging in April.

Early in April the federal government, which now is widening the Little Calumet river, will start dredging the harbor in the south end of Lake Calumet. On land made from the dredged material, or spoil, the city will construct a dock 700 feet long with loading and unloading facilities and connections with railroads and hard roads. The city has appropriated $101,000 for the work.

This is only the beginning of the program, according to Oscar E. Hewitt, commissioner of public works. The city has reserved a strip around the lake for railroads. Ultimately a highway will encircle the lake, connecting on the west with an extension of Stony Island avenue and on the east with Torrence avenue.

Now Improved for 7 Miles.

The Calumet river now is improved for lake vessels for a distance of seven miles from its mouth to the turning basin at the southeastern end of Lake Calumet. A crook in the river before it joins the Little Calumet has been straightened. Widening of the two rivers beyond Lake Calumet has proceeded to a point west of Cottage Grove avenue.

The city hopes the federal government some day will widen the 18 miles of the Sag channel from its present 60 feet to 160 feet. The cost has been estimated at $18,000,000.

City officials expect a large increase in tonnage to be carried by the lakes-gulf waterway. This shipping, city engineers maintain, should be routed through the Calumet-Sag water course instead of the Chicago river. The provision for an economical transfer of goods between lake vessels, barges, railroads and motor carriers at Lake Calumet will, they say, keep lake vessels out of the Chicago river.

Fixed Bridges Visioned.

When the Calumet-Sag route is in effective operation the federal government, according to the engineers, will permit the city to maintain fixed bridges over the Chicago river.

Fixed bridges mean there will be no lake vessels or pleasure craft with towering masts on the Chicago river. They mean an estimated saving to the city of $3,500,000 annually. The saving to land trafic, which was halted 33,207 times in 1936 before uplifted spans at the sixteen points of entrance to the loop between Michigan avenue and Van Buren street would be incalculable.

Experts on water freight terminals say the facilities planned by the city at Lake Calumet will be a boon to small business men who cannot afford to construct their own terminal facilities. They point out, however, that the city dock should be at least 1,400 feet long, as a shorter one would permit only one boat to unload at a time. The proper kind of a dock, they say, would cost $1,000,000.

BERWYN CITIZENS TAKE A HAND IN POLITICAL GAME

Berwyn taxpayers protested yesterday against the political feud which has put the four police radio squad cars of the town out of commission.

The last of the squad cars broke down several days ago and Police Chief Joseph Pilot has been unable to get money for repairs.

The lack of funds is blamed on a political fight between Mayor Anton Janura and Treasurer Matthew A. Berg, who are rival candidates for the Democratic mayoral nomination in the primary of Feb. 9. Janura asserts that Berg is trying to embarrass him for political advantage and will not sign a $635 check for motor repair bills.

Berg contends there is no money in the corporate fund.

The fourteen aldermen of the town—eight Republicans, six Democrats—were besieged by telephone calls yesterday, but Leslie Moysey, Republican alderman, who is head of the finance committee of the city council, said, "It is not likely we can do anything until the council meeting on Tuesday."

HITLER'S BAN ON NOBEL AWARDS ANGERS SWEDEN

[Copyright: 1937: By the New York Times.]

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Jan. 31.—Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's decision forbidding Germans to accept Nobel prizes in the future created a more unfavorable impression in Sweden than anything that has happened in Germany since the "purge" of June, 1934. By a stroke of the pen Hitler has swept away most of the good will toward Germany built up by Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels' propaganda department in the last few years.

The official German explanation is scorned and it is said that the mere fact that the Nazi government has taken this decision shows that it realizes that the prizes still constitute an important link between Germany and the outside world.

Mexico Navy Officer Beaten at Roadhouse Near Mobile

Mobile, Ala., Jan. 31.—[Special.]—Commander Rigoberpo Otal of the Mexican cruiser Durango, undergoing repairs at a drydock here, was beaten early today at a roadhouse. His face was bruised and several teeth knocked out. He accused Jimmie Barrett, a police officer, former prize fighter, as his assailant. Barrett, who was arrested, said Commander Otal insulted his wife. The commander, who cannot speak English, denied the charge. He said Barrett, who was off duty, called him outside the clubhouse and attacked him.

DRAMA AND MUSIC WILL MARK 100TH BIRTHDAY OF CITY

Plans for a huge dramatic spectacle in the Chicago Stadium on March 4 to open a seven months' celebration of the 100th anniversary of the granting of the Chicago city charter were announced yesterday by Chicago's charter jubilee committee.

A subcommittee headed by Dr. Maurice Gnesin, director of the Goodman theater, has begun to assemble dramatic, literary, artistic, and musical talent for the opening show. Betty Jaynes, Chicago's 15 year old opera star, has agreed to sing, and negotiations are under way to have both the Chicago Symphony orchestra and the University of Illinois band take part.

John McKinlay, chairman of the committee, said the opening show will be a most impressive presentation reënacting Chicago's rise from a frontier town to one of the world's largest metropolises.

YOU CAN'T MAKE Warm FRIENDS IN A Cold HOUSE

AVOID Layer-Cake Heat

Have you ever sat and shivered in some friend's underheated house all evening? You don't feel much like going back again, do you?

The trouble is probably layer-cake heat, caused by the fire starting and stopping suddenly. The heat forms in layers with most of it over your head. None from your knees down.

The best remedy is coal or coke fired properly. These solid fuels give you solid comfort with a steady, even flow of heat that circulates throughout the house.

If your fuel bills are too high, if your house is hard to heat no matter how much you spend, telephone your coal merchant.

First call State 9723 to make sure that he's a member of the Chicago Coal Merchants Association. Then call him. He'll be glad to recommend the right fuel for your furnace and to tell you how to get the most out of it.

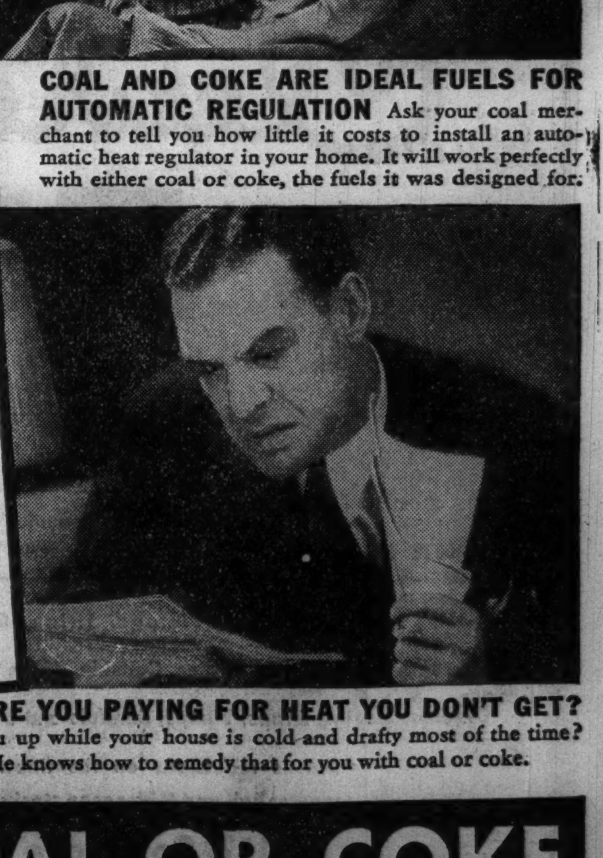
LOST—ANOTHER WEEK OF SCHOOL Cold, drafty floors can cause colds. And colds can be pretty serious for youngsters who spend so much time on or near the floor. Play safe with coal or coke.

COAL AND COKE ARE IDEAL FUELS FOR AUTOMATIC REGULATION Ask your coal merchant to tell you how little it costs to install an automatic heat regulator in your home. It will work perfectly with either coal or coke, the fuels it was designed for.

SAFE WITH COAL OR COKE HEAT— After he's had his bath he'll probably be playing on the floor. He can't reach very far up and that means he's always down in the cold section of the room if you have layer-cake heat.



ARE YOU PAYING FOR HEAT YOU DON'T GET? Do your fuel bills burn you up while your house is cold and drafty most of the time? Call your coal merchant. He knows how to remedy that for you with coal or coke.

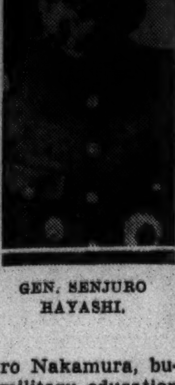
ONE OF 'BIG 3' IN JAPANESE ARMY JOINS CABINET

Military Posts Filled as Concessions Are Made.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Feb. 1 [Monday.]—The cabinet of Gen. Senjuro Hayashi, former minister of war, was rapidly taking shape today as the result of concessions to the army and navy.



GEN. SENJURO HAYASHI.

By noon four important posts had been filled, including the army and navy ministries. It is expected that the remaining civilian posts will be filled during the day without difficulty and Gen. Hayashi will be able to present his cabinet list to Emperor Hirohito.

Lieut. Gen. Kotaro Nakamura, bureau chief of the military education board, has accepted the post of minister of war. Gen. Nakamura is one of the so-called 'big three" of the army, a clique which fought and prevented the formation of a cabinet by Gen. Kazushige Ugaki, who gave up the task last Friday. Others of the "big three" are Lieut. Gen. Yoshijiro Umezu, vice minister of war in the Hirota cabinet, and Lieut. Gen. Juzo Nishio, vice chief of the general staf.

Admiral Accepts Post.

Vice Admiral Mitsumasa Yonal, commander of the combined fleets, agreed to accept the navy ministry. It is believed he will follow a middle course.

Toyotaro Yuki, governor of the Industrial bank, has accepted the post of finance minister. He is an aggressive financier. Kakichi Kawarada is to be home minister. He has been a career man in the home department since 1909. He was director general of Formosa and served as vice minister of home affairs in the Inukai cabinet.

"Big 3" Turn Down General.

Gen. Hayashi had recommended for the war and navy posts Lieut. Gen. Seishiro Itagaki and Admiral Nobumasa Suetsugu, two men with strongly Fascist tendencies, but surprisingly the "Big Three" did not support the choice of Itagaki. The "Big Three" and naval leaders recommended flexible liberal men for the cabinet in an attempt to keep Fascist elements among the younger officers in check.

The cabinet crisis began Jan. 23, when Premier Koki Hirota's government resigned following attacks on it in the diet [parliament] for its pro-Fascist and pro-army tendencies.

Physical Tests Protested by Servants of U. S. Officers

PANAMA CITY, Jan. 31.—Servants in Canal Zone homes of officers stationed at United States naval and air bases are planning a walkout in protest of enforced physical examinations. The servants declare they are forced to disrobe and line up in single file before male medical attendants. Housewives are having difficulty replacing cooks and maids who have refused to take the tests and have quit their jobs. Several servants have been discharged as a result of the tests.

MAN WHO KILLED GIRL 10 YEARS AGO PAYS DEATH PENALTY

Bellefonte, Pa., Feb. 1 [Monday].—(AP)—A button which Robert Dreamer lost from his overcoat ten years ago cost him his life in the electric chair early today at Rockview state prison. Dreamer, 40, a railroader, was executed for slaying 17 year old Thelma Young, whose body was found in a field near Washington, Pa., in 1927. She had been raped and beaten to death.

Trembling from head to foot, Dreamer was led from his cell at 12:30 a. m. to the chair. He was pronounced dead at 12:33½. The body was claimed by Mrs. Ellis Chase of Washington, Pa.

Deputy sherifs said Dreamer maintained his innocence en route to Rockview and declared:

"If you electrocute me you'll be electrocuting an innocent man."

It also was disclosed that he was questioned concerning the slaying of Elizabeth Louden, near Carnegie, Jan. 18, 1936. The Louden girl had been hit on the head and the body was nude, as in the case of Thelma Young. Washington county authorities said they learned that Dreamer was in that vicinity the day of the Louden murder. However, Dreamer made no reply to questions concerning the Louden case.

the ballot box and have a more enlightened judgment because of some alleged popular opinion or temporary whim. I say as a liberal Republican that this is not only a new doctrin put forth by the President, in which he tells the Supreme court "not to mind the context of the constitution, but to look and see what the people back home want.'

Amendment Quickest Way.

"The only way—the prescribed way and the quickest way—to find out what the people want done is to submit a constitutional amendment.

"If the President wants to propose an amendment giving the congress control of minimum wages and maximum hours, I have no fear of it, because there will be a referendum to the people and the people will decide the issue."

Charging that the President in his address to congress had virtually told the Supreme court it must not interpret the constitution on the basis of its provisions, but upon the basis of the election returns, Fish said:

"You might as well say to the referee of a football game, 'instead of abiding by the rules of the game, appeal the decision to those in the grandstand' or to an umpire in a baseball game, 'when a player is sliding to second base and is called out, change the decision and call him safe, in accordance with the volume of boos and noise among the spectators.'"

Held Vital Issue.

In conclusion, Fish said: "The constitutional issue is apt to become the most important before the American people. We Republicans propose to uphold and defend the Supreme court and the powers of the court. . . ."

Representative Raymond J. Cannon [Dem., Wis.] will introduce in the house tomorrow a resolution that calls for a special committee to investigate charges made against the Supreme court and the justices, and especially the claims set forth in the book entitled "Nine Old Men," to probe the circumstances surrounding the confirmation by the senate of the present members of the court, and to suggest possible changes in the method of confirmation.

PROGRESSIVES IN LEGAL RANKS FORM NEW GUILD

New York, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Lawyers throughout the country were invited today to join the National Lawyers' guild, a new organization described by its leaders as aiming to provide progressive leadership for that profession.

Adherence to the new body will not conflict with membership in the American Bar association, said Frank P. Walsh, prominent New York attorney, who is provisional president, but "in localities where local bar associations are hopelessly reactionary, separate chapters or bodies may be established."

Gov. Philip F. La Follette of Wisconsin; Senator Homer T. Bone of Washington; John P. Devaney, retiring chief justice of the Minnesota Supreme court; Federal Appeals Court Judge Ewing C. Bland of Missouri, and Federal Judge William H. Holly of Chicago were announced as members of an executive committee.

One of its objectives, as outlined by Walsh, is "to make the constitution and the judicial and administrative agencies effective and well working instruments for accomplishing the purposes of law as declared by the will of the American people."

Send for free copy of a startling article on syphilis from the Readers Digest. Written by Dr. Thomas Parran, Surgeon General of the United States Public Health Service, it describes the dreadful results of neglecting syphilis and tells how it can be stamped out. Mailed in a plain sealed envelope.

SAFE AND SOUND!

His mother was examined for venereal diseases early in her pregnancy

Protect your unborn baby from the ravages of syphilis and gonorrhea by being examined by your doctor or this reliable clinic—at once!

DR. THOMAS PARRAN, Surgeon General of the United States Public Health Service, declares: "If treatment of a pregnant woman with active syphilis is started before the fifth month of pregnancy, she has nine chances out of ten of giving birth to a healthy child. Without treatment, the child is likely to be stillborn, or so diseased or deformed as to require constant care to live at all!"

In Dr. Parran's opinion, half of all cases of syphilis are innocently acquired—by inheritance, marriage, kissing, or the use of a recently soiled drinking cup, towel, cigarette, etc. Therefore no expectant mother can be absolutely sure she is free from infection without a thorough examination for syphilis and gonorrhea, and it is sheer folly not to undergo such an examination just as soon as pregnancy is determined.

For in addition to being responsible for most stillborn, deformed and feeble-minded babies, untreated syphilis may be the cause of heart disease, blindness, deafness, paralysis or even insanity in the mother. Untreated gonorrhea is likewise a source of grave danger, as it is the leading cause of blindness in newborn infants and often condemns women to mutilating pelvic operations that make it impossible for them ever to have children!

Delay is dangerous!

Although infections discovered late in pregnancy can often be benefited sufficiently to help the child, the most effective treatment is that which is started before the fifth month. In other words, the longer you wait the poorer are your chances of having a healthy, normal baby. So don't delay but go today to your own physician—or to the Public Health Institute!

The Public Health Institute offers you the superior facilities of one of the world's foremost venereal disease clinics. Its friendly, sympathetic men and women physicians are all graduates of reputable medical colleges, and are thoroughly experienced in the most advanced methods of treating venereal infections and their various complications.

Since 1920, the Public Health Institute has aided almost a quarter of a million men, women and children to escape the dreaded consequences of neglected venereal diseases! Each patient is promptly and confidentially treated in a private room, and to avoid embarrassment is identified by a number rather than by name.

Treatments as low as $1.00

Organized by public-spirited citizens as a corporation "NOT-FOR-PROFIT" under the laws of the State of Illinois, the Public Health Institute offers specialized low cost treatment to those unable to pay higher fees. A complete examination for syphilis and gonorrhea, including urinalysis and Wassermann blood test, costs only $3.00, while some treatments for syphilis cost as little as $1.00 and some of those for gonorrhea still less!

Hence there is no longer any need for an expectant mother to fear the effects of syphilis and gonorrhea on either her child or herself. For not only can these infections be cured or benefited, but the very best of treatment is now available at nominal cost. Even persons temporarily pressed for funds can arrange to be treated.

NOTE: The Institute maintains a department for women and children, with a private entrance at 169 N. Dearborn St. Both men and women doctors are available.

Sickness From Colds Cut More Than Half

Startling Results Obtained in Biggest Colds-Clinic of Its Kind Ever Held

Final figures—audited and certified by a nationally known firm of public accountants—disclose really amazing results from a long series of clinical tests of Vicks Plan for Better Control of Colds.

The clinic included four series of winter tests, begun in 1932 and concluded last year. A total of 17,353 men, women, and children took part as subjects—and a staff of 37 physicians and 200 nurses and supervisors was necessary to the work.

Following is an official summary of results.* Just think what such results would mean to you and your family, especially now with colds at their peak—

Fewer Colds—a reduction of about one-fourth (24.66%) in the number of colds, with all their discomforts and dangers.

Shorter Colds—a reduction of over one-fourth (28.78%) in duration of the colds that did develop.

Fewer School Absences—a reduction of considerably more than half (57.86%) in days absent because of colds.

What Can Vicks Plan Do for Your Family?

Throughout these tests, results varied in different groups. Some were almost unbelievably good; others were comparatively poor. In your own family group, too, individual results from following Vicks Plan may vary. But its fine record in this tremendous colds-clinic certainly makes it well worth your trying in your own home. Here is the Plan, in outline:

1. To Help PREVENT Many Colds

Keep out of crowds as much as possible. Get plenty of rest and sleep. Stay in the open air as much as you can. Eat light, wholesome food and drink plenty of water. Keep elimination regular.

Watch yourself and your family after any exposure likely to be followed by a cold. Then—at the first sniffle or sneeze or the slightest irritation in the nose—quick!—put a few drops of Vicks Va-tro-nol up each nostril. Va-tro-nol is specialized medication, expressly designed for the nose and upper throat, where most colds start. Used in time, it helps to prevent many colds or to throw off head-colds in their early stages.

2. To RELIEVE a Cold Sooner

If a cold strikes without warning or gets by even the best precautions—as some colds always will—go straight to bed. Eat lightly and drink plenty of water and fruit juices. For prompt relief, use this vigorous treatment with your dependable Vicks VapoRub:

Massage it briskly on the throat, chest and back, for 3 full minutes. Then spread a thick layer of VapoRub over the chest and cover with a warmed cloth. Long after you relax into restful sleep, VapoRub's famous poultice-and-vapor action continues for hours, loosening the phlegm, easing the coughing, and helping to break up local congestion.

*To Physicians—The official report of this unusual colds-clinic, its methods and results, is now available in handy booklet form. A copy can be had on request to the Research Dept., Vick Chemical Co., Greensboro, N. C.

BRITISH THREAT: SELL US IN WAR OR NOT AT ALL

Crux of Runciman Visit to White House Leaks Out.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31.—[Special.]—The real purpose of the recent visit of Walter Runciman, president of the British Board of Trade, to the White House leaked out today.

It was to head off, if possible, the enactment of neutrality legislation by the United States under which Great Britain, if involved in war, would be unable to obtain vital war supplies in the American market. Mr. Runciman left with Mr. Roosevelt the threat that if our neutrality legislation proves unsatisfactory England not only will refuse to enter into a reciprocal tariff treaty but will look to other countries in peace time as well as war time for her cotton, foodstuffs and other commodities.

Mr. Roosevelt at first insisted that affairs of state were not involved in the visit.

Just an Old Friend.

The President had noted, he said, that Mr. Runciman was coming to America on a holiday. Mr. Runciman was an old personal friend. So he had invited him to the White House.

But when Mr. Runciman had come and communed with Mr. Roosevelt for 48 hours it was quite a different story. And the news came from the Britisher, as generally happens in the case of Anglo-American negotiations. Mr. Runciman summoned the press and announced that he and Mr. Roosevelt had agreed in principle on a reciprocal tarif treaty.

Later it transpired that Mr. Runciman had come to America not so much on a holiday as to head off, if possible, this neutrality legislation so disturbing to the British government.

War Scare Hastens Action.

Here was Great Britain facing the danger of another European conflagration and feverishly preparing for war. And what did Great Britain hear at this awful juncture? That America was planning legislation under which an embargo would be placed on the export to all belligerents equally of everything needed in war. So Mr. Runciman was packed off to America to see his old friend, Mr. Roosevelt.

What Mr. Runciman was bumping up against was the profound and pervasive distaste of Americans for anything that might tend to involve them in another war. Hence the widespread sentiment opposing loans to belligerents, opposing sale of war supplies to belligerents, both of which are popularly connected with our part in the late world war.

Britain Never the "Aggressor."

Mr. Runciman conveyed to Mr. Roosevelt the feeling of the British government which he represented as highly sympathetic with the American attitude. The only suggestion the British would make was that the laying of embargoes be intrusted wholly to the discretion of the President. Then the President could coöperate with the league of nations and embargo exports to the belligerent branded by the league as the aggressor. As Great Britain never would be branded an aggressor by the league, Britain never would be deprived of American war supplies, though Britain's enemy might.

Mr. Runciman learned that his contest was not with the President but with congress.

Unveils the Mailed Fist.

Then Mr. Runciman revealed that his government is prepared to get a bit tough in this matter. England doesn't propose to enter into any trade concession treaty with the United States if the United States is going to close its markets to England whenever England becomes involved in war. That wouldn't be cricket. Besides, if England is to be shut out of the American market in time of war, it jolly well behooves England to be making trade concessions to countries that can be relied upon for war supplies. Brazil, for example.

By the time Mr. Runciman left Washington, he had succeeded in spreading the impression that, if America wants a trade treaty with England and wants to retain her present market for cotton and other products in England, America will not enact neutrality legislation closing American markets to England in time of war.

The administration, since the departure of Mr. Runciman, has been seeking an agreement in congress on neutrality legislation conferring a large measure of discretion upon the President.

Father and Son in the Day's News

Walter Runciman (left), president of the British board of trade, visited President Roosevelt recently. Yesterday it was revealed he was trying to head off the enactment of neutrality legislation which might prevent England's purchase of U. S. war supplies. Lord Runciman (right), his father, who is 89 years old, yesterday was made an honorary commodore in the British royal naval volunteer supplementary reserve. Here he appears at the wheel of his yacht Sunbeam at Cowes.

EVA CAN USE HER MEMORY OR SHE CAN LET IT ALONE

Mrs. Eva Bradean's memory can be long or short, as she wills it. Three years ago, when bandits tried to torture her into telling where she kept $900 in her home at 847 North avenue she told them she couldn't remember.

But she kept her eyes open for Charles Petrascu. She said she suspected that he told the bandits she had the money. Eventually she moved to 3536 Block avenue, Indiana Harbor. By a coincidence, Petrascu moved to the same city, at 2337 High street. The other day she saw him, remembered, and had him arrested. Sergt. Neil Rourke of the Chicago detective bureau brought Petrascu back here yesterday. He denied all knowledge of the robbery.

Insane Patient Slugs Way to Poison; Drinks It, Dies

Slugging an attendant who barred his way, Roy Johnson broke into a medicine cabinet in the Chicago State hospital at Dunning yesterday, seized a bottle of poison, and ended his life. Johnson was 43 years old and had been an inmate of the hospital since he tried unsuccessfully to kill himself last Aug. 9 by hurling himself in front of an elevated train in grief over his wife's death. At that time he lived at 1218 East 64th street.

GIRL, 4, DIES OF BURNS.

RUNCIMAN AT 89 MADE OFFICER IN NAVY RESERVE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 31.—Lord Runciman, 89 years old, ship owner who takes great interest in naval matters and who recently protested because he was refused a naval reserve commission on account of his age, has been appointed an honorary commodore in the royal naval volunteer supplementary reserve, the admiralty announced tonight. The appointment will become effective tomorrow.

Lord Runciman is the father of Walter Runciman, president of the British Board of Trade. Active beyond his years, Runciman is an ardent yachtsman and is chairman or director in many shipping organizations. The honorary commodoreship bestowed on him is expected to end the clash with authorities which arose after the admiralty appealed to yachtsmen to join the reserve.

Lord Runciman was one of the first to offer his services, declaring that despite his age he still could "handle a large or small sailing vessel, mend or make a sail and handle a marlinspike." In announcing his appointment the admiralty said that it has waived the age limit of 18 to 39 years for the reserves.

Hitler Expects Million More Germans to Join Nazi Party

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Jan. 31.—A million more Germans are expected to flock to the Nazi party when its doors again are thrown open to prospective members. Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler informed the cabinet yesterday that this would be done in the near future. Contributions from a million new members would total about $20,000,000. With this money it is planned to erect a vast building to serve as a museum of National Socialism.

DIES AFTER FALL DOWN STAIRS.

An inquest will be held today into the death of Mrs. Mary Wallace, 58 years old, 1024 West 48th street, who died in the County hospital Saturday night after falling down the rear stairs of her home.

UNION MUSICIANS HERE REFUSE TO CAN MUSIC NOW

The campaign to ban "canned music" by forbidding Chicago union musicians to play for recordings will start today. James C. Petrillo, president of the Chicago Federation of Musicians, believes the plan will be adopted in other parts of the country and that it will decrease unemployment among musicians.

Virtually all musicians who make records, including those in well known "name bands," are union members and many of them belong to the Chicago local. Although at present any members who violate the edict will be ousted from the union, exceptions to the rule may be worked out in conferences to be held by Mr. Petrillo with those who make recordings, including heads of radio stations.

Makers of DOUBLE-MELLOW OLD GOLD Cigarettes

THE RULES . . . Please Read Them Carefully

1. OLD GOLD'S PUZZLE CONTEST is open to everybody with the exception of the employees of P. Lorillard Company, Inc., and its advertising and sales promotion agencies.

2. A group of not less than 90 puzzles which will become increasingly difficult as the contest proceeds will be offered for solution. Each puzzle will represent or in some definite way contain clues which will convey the idea of a name. The name may be that of a person, book, song, movie, city, state or nation. The earlier puzzles will be more elementary, in order to assist contestants in familiarizing themselves with the principles for solving this particular kind of puzzle.

3. OLD GOLD will pay a First Prize of $100,000.00 and 999 other cash prizes (a grand total of 1,000 prizes aggregating $200,000.00) to the one thousand contestants who by their submissions achieve the one thousand highest scores through solving puzzles they are called upon to solve under these rules, and who in all other ways conform to all of these Official Rules.

4. The puzzles will be issued for solutions in weekly series of six, and contestants are asked to solve and submit solutions EACH WEEK. The 1st Week's Series of 6 puzzles bears the release date of Monday Feb. 1st, 1937. Each Monday, for fourteen additional weeks, there will be another weekly series to solve. Contestants should solve the puzzles and submit solutions to same during the week following issuance date of each series. In submitting the solutions for any current series, a contestant is privileged to submit solutions for preceding series. Thus, a contestant entering the contest during the 2nd week should submit both the 1st Week's Series as well as the 2nd Week's Series; and a contestant entering during the 3rd Week should submit both the 1st and 2nd Weeks' Series as well as the 3rd Week's Series, and so on. All series should be qualified in accordance with Rule No. 7.

5. Contestants are requested to mail their solutions EACH WEEK, in series of six. The various current weekly series of puzzles, together with Entry Forms, may be obtained FREE at any place where OLD GOLDS are sold, or puzzles and ENTRY FORMS may be clipped from newspapers, magazines or circulars and will be equally acceptable.

6. Neatness will not count. Do not decorate your solutions. Just solve the puzzles in accordance with the rules. In case of ties as many of the prizes will be reserved as there are contestants tied before any prizes are awarded for a less perfect submission; that is, if two or more persons tie in submitting the correct solutions to all of the puzzles then the first two or more prizes will be reserved for them, and these two or more prizes will be awarded in the order of the accuracy of the submissions to a first or, if necessary, a second group of tie-breaking puzzles; the second group of tie-breaking puzzles to be accompanied by a letter as hereinafter specified. In event a second tie-breaking group of puzzles is necessary contestants eligible to solve same will be required to accompany their solutions to this second tie-breaking group of puzzles with a letter of between 100 and 200 words on the subject: "The Increased Popularity of Old Gold Cigarettes in My Community As a Result of the Old Gold Contest." Only in case of ties still existing after submissions to the second tie-breaking group of puzzles have been checked will the accompanying letters be considered, and in that event prizes will be awarded on the basis of originality in description and general interest of the letters. In case two or more letters are judged of equal originality and equal general interest then duplicate prizes will be awarded.

7. To qualify for a prize, the contestant is required to accompany each series of solutions with three OLD GOLD yellow package wrappers, or three reasonably accurate hand-drawn facsimiles. Either will be equally acceptable. It is not necessary to make a purchase in order to compete. A contestant is privileged to enter more than one complete set of solutions, but each entry must be individually identified as entry "A"; entry "B", etc. Each entry will be judged as a unit. No contestant is eligible to win more than one prize, the highest prize won by any individual entry submitted by that contestant.

8. Upon entering this contest and by the submission of solutions to the puzzles, the contestant agrees that the decision of P. Lorillard Company in all matters affecting the conduct of the contest, the acceptance of submissions, the making of awards and the measures invoked to insure individual effort in fairness to all contestants shall be final and conclusive. The P. Lorillard Company will establish an individual file for each contestant, but will not be responsible for submissions or communications unduly delayed or lost in the mail either from or to the contestant.

9. Each weekly series of solutions together with 3 OLD GOLD yellow package wrappers or facsimiles as specified in Rule No. 7, should be addressed to OLD GOLD CONTEST, P. O. Box 9, Varick Street Station, New York, N. Y.

Be sure you have familiarized yourself with these rules. Read them over again and then solve the puzzles.

CANADA'S SCHECHTER CASE.

The judicial committee of the privy council in London has declared Canadian equivalents of our NRA, AAA, and social security acts unconstitutional. The judicial committee is to the British empire what the Supreme court of the United States is to our country and the decisions closely parallel the findings of our Supreme court on New Deal legislation. The acts of the dominion parliament were declared invalid because it had legislated in fields which had been reserved under the dominion act [the Canadian constitution] to the provinces [states] rather than to the dominion [federal] government.

Opponents in this country of the right of the Supreme court to declare acts invalid frequently point to the government of Great Britain as proof that individual liberties and constitutional forms can be preserved without the help of a court which can invalidate legislation. The argument assumes that conditions in Great Britain and in our country are substantially similar. Obviously they are not. The territory of the British Isles, governed by parliament, is only half again as large as the state of Illinois. The population is only a third as large as the population of our country and in many respects is far more homogeneous than ours. The plan of government is not federal.

The proper comparison is between the British federal government—the empire—and our federal government. The empire has a Supreme court among whose functions is the interpretation of the laws passed in the various dominions in the light of their written constitutions. Unless the court can, on occasion, declare acts invalid, it cannot perform its primary duty of maintaining the supremacy of the fundamental law.

If there had been a supreme judicial body in London in 1770, competent to declare certain acts of parliament with respect to the colonies invalid, the American revolution might have been postponed, if not avoided. The colonists took the position that parliament was enacting laws which were in violation of the charters granted the colonies and were therefore beyond the powers of parliament. The colonists found little acceptance of their theory in the king's courts. The appeal to arms became the only alternative.

The American revolution in this sense was an uprising against a government whose courts could not enforce the fundamental law against parliament. Naturally, then, when our federal government was devised the courts were required to defend the fundamental law. Another result of our revolution was a gradual change in the organization of the British empire. In 1833 the judicial committee of the privy council was set up as an empire Supreme court. In the acts creating the various dominions the right of appeal to this empire Supreme court was defined.

Because insular Britain is not federally organized it can get along without our kind of Supreme court. But wherever in the British empire the federal principle has been adopted the Supreme court exists with power to invalidate acts which contravene the constitutional scheme. Otherwise a federal system must disintegrate.

THE NICARAGUA CANAL.

As might have been expected, the utter disregard for the value of money and the craze for building things that permeate Washington have revived the plan to dig a waterway across Nicaragua as an alternate for the Panama canal. The route was first proposed in 1848 and revived in 1876 when a special engineering commission submitted a favorable report to congress. Again springing into prominence early in the present century, when it was preferred by some authorities to the Panama project, the Nicaragua proposal has remained on a congressional abeyance docket ever since—something to be undertaken when a surplus of funds is available.

The midwest should oppose the project to the last man. The damage done to the interior industries by the Panama canal was sufficient without adding a second shaft. It is argued that the fear of earthquakes and landslides in the Panama project creates the necessity for an alternate route, but the real pressure for Nicaragua construction comes from those who believe that it would save five days' sailing time between the west and east coasts.

Few realize how the Panama canal has boosted the value of seaboard locations at the expense of the interior. In 1910 38 per cent of the population of the United States lived within 50 miles of salt water or the Great Lakes. Ten years later, and including six years of Panama canal operation, the figure was 41 per cent. By 1930 it had increased to 45 per cent. Still more startling is the fact that between 1920 and 1930 67 per cent of our population growth took place within this 50 mile zone.

The interior of the country can only advance its industrial development through improvements in the art of overland travel. If a Nicaragua canal is built, further pressure will be exerted to divert the nation's commerce through the new artery. The midwest is expected to donate a very substantial share of the tax funds necessary to dig this new facility. It is entitled to ask how it will benefit through the completion of the national project. There is only one answer—it will lose.

THE HAWAIIAN FLIGHT.

The twelve naval seaplanes which flew from San Diego to Honolulu, a distance of 2,553 miles, accomplished the greatest nonstop transoceanic mass flight in the record of aviation.

The record, it will be observed, requires considerable qualification. There have been longer transoceanic flights by single planes, longer mass flights over land or with intermediate stops, etc. But the record, as such, is not significant, for the navy did not stage the flight to set a record.

It was, we are told, a "routine transfer" of equipment. The planes were in the continental United States. Their assignment to duty was in Hawaii. Therefore they flew to Hawaii.

The real significance of the flight is the demonstration of another advance in the design and manufacture of reliable airplanes and further demonstration of the capability of naval pilots, who made the trip under adverse weather conditions.

THE EUGENICS LAW.

Wisconsin is planning this year to strengthen the eugenics marriage law which for more than two decades has aided in the state's fight to reduce venereal diseases and the consequence of them.

The law has been important chiefly as a factor in enlightening the people of the prevalence of the two diseases and the results that come from disregarding them.

Its effect is educational rather than corrective. It requires a medical certificate that the man is free from venereal disease and provides a five days' interim between the issuance of a marriage license and the performance of the marriage ceremony.

Memory recalls that the law was enacted against a good deal of sentimental opposition that has now completely disappeared. It is accepted for the value it has. If it is evaded by some who cross state lines to avoid the delay it entails or the examination it requires there is no evidence that there are more of such bootleg marriages than there were before the law was enacted.

There are two amendments being prepared which proponents say will strengthen the law. One is to make it apply to women as well as to men, and the second is to make the Wassermann blood test mandatory. Both proposals seem to be desirable.

It is properly presumed that no honorable person will marry conscious of an affliction which if disregarded is a threat to the marriage and a menace to the children who may come of it.

Physicians say that many women approaching marriage voluntarily are inviting tests to insure their normal physical condition. The Wassermann test which Wisconsin has made available at a low cost or without cost should be required. It is a primary weapon in the war against syphilis and the first line offense against the dread secondary effects of the disease.

It is significant that a large percentage of divorces granted in Wisconsin courts are to persons married outside of the state. The interim between the issuance of the license and the ceremony serves to prevent marriages of impulse and the medical requirements certify the absence of physical conditions which are notoriously probable to wreck the marriage.

The law which was enacted in 1913 has more than justified itself as a boon to Wisconsin and an example to other states.

NO MEAN CITY.

The other day the Voice of the People contained three letters expressing gratitude for courtesies received and observed on street cars and elevated trains in Chicago. A motorman showed great consideration for a blind man. A schoolgirl gave her seat to an elderly passenger, weary after a busy day in the city. A visitor from Boston was carefully directed by a street car conductor to various destinations.

Some readers may feel that consideration for the handicapped, the aged, and the stranger is every one's duty and that no one deserves to be commended for doing what every one in decency should do. There is something to that argument, but not much. The fact is that courtesy is a neglected amenity. Chicago is certainly no worse in this respect than many other cities and probably is better than most, but there is vast room for improvement. If the publication of the three letters will advance the cause, the paper and ink were used to good advantage.

In this connection it may be worth while to note that in addition to positive acts of kindness such as were described there are negative acts of almost equal value. It is positively discourteous to remain seated in a public conveyance when an elderly or crippled person is standing. It is negatively discourteous to remain standing near the entrance of the car or bus when there are unoccupied seats farther back. The person standing not only blocks the aile but makes it difficult or impossible for others who enter later to see that seats are available.

It is also discourteous of motorists, including truck drivers, to follow street car streets when an alternative route is available. A street car at the crowded hour will normally carry upwards of a hundred passengers. An automobile may carry five, but generally carries one or two. The capacity of the tracks is limited. It is only fair that those who can relieve the congestion on these routes do so.

Chicago's transportation facilities are poor enough at best. Because of that fact there is great need here for more than ordinary regard for the amenities.

Editorial of the Day

SLOW POLICE WORK.

[Cincinnati Enquirer.]

Last Sunday night two young Cincinnatians were attacked by an assailant with a knife on Lenox avenue in New York City. One of them, William Chatfield, is recovering. The other, Pringle Bowman, died Tuesday morning of his wounds. The assailant had no apparent provocation. He did not rob the youths. It was a brutal murder, and no plausible explanation has been found.

After a week New York police have not turned up so much as one clew. It is a little strange that the nation's largest city, which is wont to boast of its great police department, should allow the crime to stand on the record without a more vigorous effort to solve the mystery and punish the murderer.

It is a black mark against any city if a stranger comes to it and meets death at the hands of a criminal. There is further discredit if it does not make a strenuous effort to see that justice is done. It is to be hoped that the New York police will redeem their reputation by redoubled efforts in this case and by a prompt apprehension of the murderer.

A VALENTINE.

(In medieval manner.)

Customs have changed with changing times, my dear;
As knights accoutred in fantastic gear
Ride questing forth neath Avalon's fair trees.
Not Arthur, that white soul of chivalry,
Not Galahad, whose pure eyes saw the Grail—
Whose glories are the themes of minstrelsy—
More knightly rode in legendary tale
Than you, who are the white knight of my dreams,
Most beautiful, most chivalrous, most true.
No dragons breathing fire infest our streams,
Yet I have seen the gallant deeds you do.
Men bind no bright silks round their arms these days;
But take my heart, instead—'tis yours always.

SPONGING ON MINE HOST.

My friend Mike, who ran the old brush saloon over near the Santa Fe tracks years ago, was a parsimonious soul, and for one to get "tick" from him was a sure sign of a Super-Chief rating. But for years the loafers and other denizens of the nearby woods pulled this stunt on Mike: A chosen one would enter, place a gallon earthenware jug on the bar and say: "Give me a gallon of whisky." Mike would fill the jug and set it back on the bar, whereupon the jugster would say: "I'll pay you next week." Grabbing the jug, Mike would retort: "No, by golly; by golly, no; no trust!" When the patron insisted on having the jug Mike would pour the contents back into the barrel. The jugster would then return to the rendezvous in the woods, crack the jug and get [at times] more than a pint of whisky. Sure! Two dry sponges had been pushed into the empty jug.

CHAMPING AT THE BIT.

After his livery stable had succumbed to exhaust fumes along the hard road, old Johnny Spottswood resolved never again to be a rut in the highway of progress. As soon as recovery permitted he passed such milestones of modernity as pajamas, oil heating and gas pipe furniture. His latest gadget of the streamline age is an electric shaver. Now his greatest pleasure is to shave in front of the loud speaker during the "barber's broadcast" and thumb his nose at the merits of a patent beard softener. SUPER DESSERTER?

One of life's most serious problems in Chicago is the 40 cent lunch that gives the luncher the choice between soup and dessert. Sometimes we waver; frinstance, when it's split pea soup or cherry pie. When this is the case we take soup on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays and the pie on the other three week days. If we are confronted with that watery abomination known as rice tomato we always take the dessert, unless it is pudding. Once, just once, we had to stalk majestically out of a restaurant—the waitress wanted us to choose our favorite from the rice tomato and a dose of bread pudding. To us one disaster is as distasteful as another.

PNEUMONIA AND OXYGEN.

PART I.

MANY a pneumonia victim has good reason to recall the career of Joseph Priestly, the nonconformist English clergyman who discovered oxygen. His grave at Northumberland, Pa., a veritable shrine, is visited frequently by chemists from all parts of the world.

Only recently, however, have physicians come to appreciate the powerful aid offered by oxygen gas in the treatment of pneumonia. Victims of the disease need this "vital air." When a section of the lung becomes filled with fibrin and cells it ceases to function and the active portion remaining may be quite incapable of passing enough oxygen into the circulation; that is, when the element is available only in its normal air concentration—20 per cent.

Those of us who have witnessed the distress of the pneumonia patient can understand the common sense procedure incident to supplying additional oxygen. All too often the patient presents a pitiful picture: the breathing is rapid and shallow, the lips blue, and the countenance dusky.

Lack of proper aeration of the blood is seen also in the finger tips and in the feet. When the gas is given in sufficient amounts, however, the hunger for air abates, the tissues resume their normal color, and often the patient falls into a restful sleep. In addition, the load upon the heart is relieved, as noted by gradual slowing of the pulse. In most cases delirium is lessened and in a few hours may disappear entirely.

We may judge with fair accuracy as to the severity of the attack of pneumonia by the amount of oxygen the patient needs. Whenever the saturation in the blood falls below 70 per cent recovery is rare. If we can raise this level we are giving the victim a chance for life. In order to be effective, however, it should be started with the first signs of difficult breathing or blueness of the lips or fingers, and continued until all danger is over—the lungs clear and free from inflammation.

Many methods of administration are now employed, some of which are most helpful. The ideal equipment is an oxygen room in which the attendants can move about with ease and thus minister to the patient's needs without the necessity of removing a heavy piece of machinery. There is no other device quite so satisfactory, and during the last few years I have had opportunities on many occasions of observing its life saving effects.

Both temperature and humidity can be controled, and the concentration of the gas may be increased or decreased at will. For most cases 50 per cent has been found to be a satisfactory level, although for short periods as much as 60 or 70 per cent may be used. The important thing is that the gas shall be accurately humidified [moistened], so that it will not prove irritating.

The nasal catheter is a simple, inexpensive bit of rubber tubing which can be attached to an oxygen tank, the gas passing first through water for washing and humidifying. The amount may be regulated by a control meter which is set to deliver from six to ten liters per minute. The catheter should be changed from one nostril to the other at from four to six hour intervals. This mechanism rarely annoys the individual and the relief experienced is most comforting. Furthermore, there is no interference with swallowing, and food may be taken without removing the tube.

There are many excellent oxygen tents on the market which are constructed so that temperature, humidity, and the flow of gas may be gauged accurately. Occasionally a patient will feel a sense of oppression when confined in a relatively small space, and the catheter method may be resorted to if the tent is bothersome. Carbon dioxide, which is given off by the patient, is absorbed from the circulating air by soda lime.

Those who have to do with oxygen administration realize that open flames or sparks should not be permitted in the vicinity where oxygen is employed. Accidents have been reported because of the careless use of alcohol lamps, candles, etc.

This discussion will be continued tomorrow.

1. What is the cause of diabetes insipidus in an apparently healthy person?
2. Can grief or shock cause it?
3. Should such a person be under a physician's care?
4. Is it curable other than temporarily even under a physician's care?
5. If nothing is done about it what will the result be?
6. Can this condition cause unusually dry hair and scalp which formerly were inclined to be oily?

The above case is probably a mild one, seven to eight pints of urine being passed daily and none at night.

REPLY.

1. The causes are obscure. It may be due to a vasomotor disturbance of the kidney vessels, to brain tumor, or to functional irritation of some center in the brain. Occasionally it arises during recovery from acute febrile diseases. Some families show a tendency toward the development of diabetes insipidus. Exciting causes include exposure, fright, pituitary gland lesions, injuries to the head, etc.

From Across the Sea

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON.—A new attempt to reach the north pole by submarine is planned by Sir Hubert Wilkins, famed arctic explorer. He hopes to start off in July. Lady Wilkins plans to accompany the expedition as cook.

A $200,000 craft, designed largely by Sir Hubert, will be used in the attempt. All the scientific apparatus is ready. The hull of the 210 ton submersible will be of 7/8 inch steel. The craft will measure 74 feet in length, 14 feet in beam.

Describing the undersea craft as a "steel pencil, sharpened at both ends," Sir Hubert declared:

"We shall carry no superfluous 'trappings.' There will be no diving rudders, the periscope will fit flush with the hull when we are submerged and when we are running on the surface will look like the funnel of a small steamship.

"On deck there will be two flush hatches and a minimum of fittings. Our radio will have to be extremely powerful. We want a range of 600 miles, even when the ship is submerged.

"For steaming out to the ice I shall have 'false noses'—streamlined steel tanks—fitted to stem and stern. This will give additional speed on the surface. When we reach the ice we shall unslip the 'noses,' revealing the sharp pointed ends of the uncrushable steel cylinder.

"Our speed on the surface should be about six knots and submerged four or five knots. We shall submerge by filling ballast tanks and will then hold enough free air to enable us to remain below for two days.

"The crew will be two Norwegian engineers, who sailed with me on my last expedition, two navigating officers, a wireless officer, and an electrician."

Food stores carried will consist of dried meat and vegetables, nuts, raisins, biscuits, and malted milk.

The aim of the expedition is to cruise from Spitzbergen to the Bering sea, spend some days at the pole, and then head for Ellesmere Land to establish whether the land that Peary and Macmillan claimed to have seen actually exists. The trip should last two months from Spitzbergen.

Sir Hubert is confident the new vessel will be able to negotiate the ice, coming to the surface between the floes, and claims that this is the quickest and safest way of exploring polar regions.

Owing to the rush of naval rearmament work in British shipyards, fitting of the craft has been delayed.

SHARE IN ESTATE.

Chicago, Jan. 28.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—An estate in which my grandmother was named a legatee was closed recently and [1] her share was turned over to the public administrator with the consent of her heirs. My grandmother is dead one year and three months.

2. How long a time must elapse before this money is divided among the heirs? The legacy is in cash and there are no bills outstanding on her burial. Any information you may give will be greatly appreciated. C. C.

1. It should have been possible to avoid the trouble and expense.

2. Creditors are allowed a year in which to file their claims. Ordinarily an administrator does not distribute until after the expiration of such year.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

BIRTH ON SHIPBOARD.

Chicago, Jan. 29.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—If a couple, citizens of Germany who have never seen America, boarded an American ship bound for America and at about the center of the ocean the wife gave birth to a child, is said child automatically an American citizen because he was born on a ship flying the American flag? If so, explain why, and if not, why not? P. P.

While it is often said that "children born on shipboard are considered as being born within the allegiance of the country to whom the vessel belongs" [11 C. J. 779], we know of no cases in which the rule has been applied to facts such as you describe.

If your question is not merely theoretical we suggest that you take it up with the naturalization office in the New Postoffice building. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Address Voice of the People, The Tribune.

FOR THE MAYOR'S PLAN.

Chicago, Jan. 28.—Mayor Kelly's statement in yesterday morning's TRIBUNE offers the first really comprehensive plan to improve transportation in Chicago that has been submitted during all of the recent fuss and clamor about better transportation.

Mayor Kelly is right in wanting to substitute buses for street cars. The new buses in Chicago add to the beauty of the city, as well as give comfortable riding to a large number of people in a speedy fashion. They are so much better looking than the rickety street cars that haul so many thousands every day and they make so much better time.

Mayor Kelly is right in wanting to use the present "L" structure for superhighways for both private automobiles and special fast bus service. That is the best idea that has been given yet. What we need is a faster bus service to all parts of the city. One route that I suggest is express bus service on the outer drive south, just as we have on the outer drive north. That will eliminate a lot of trafic from the streets. F. F.

AGAINST.

Chicago, Jan. 28.—The mayor thinks 5,000 buses on the streets in place of 3,000 street cars will lessen trafic congestion. I wonder if he ever crosses the street on foot or rides in a bus or street car.

If buses were to run all over the streets it would be dangerous for pedestrians to attempt to cross the streets. We do not worry about street cars. We know they are on the street car track.

I have lived in Chicago all my life and would be lost without the comfort and convenience of street cars. I hate to ride on a bus because of the jolts over the uneven places in the streets.

As for speed, I can get downtown faster on a street car. If there were more policemen to speed up the trafic that holds street cars back they could make even better time. It is not the fault of the street cars.

Not only are street cars the best means of transportation—they are also the cheapest. A PASSENGER.

THE THOUGHTS OF YOUTH.

Winnetka, Ill., Jan. 26.—"The Dragon Lady is dead!" That was my 9 year old son's response to my inquiry as to what he had learned at church school last Sunday. He volunteered the further information that every boy in the class liked "Terry and the Pirates" better than any other strip. A great many adults feel the same way about Milton Caniff's cartoon. C. W. C.

SITDOWN.

Chicago, Jan. 29.—As the present administration appears to believe in minority rule as evidenced by its attitude in the General Motors strike, how about all our defeated Republican candidates sitting down in the White House and demanding that their platform be adopted? They can then demand heat and light, and also relief, which some of them may need. H. F. BAUMGARTNER.

THE ELECTRICIANS' STRIKE DEFENDED.

Chicago, Jan. 28.—In this morning's Voice of the People there were several letters criticizing the electricians employed by the city for demanding their rightful salary increases.

A few weeks ago I noticed in the newspapers that the judges had increased their own salaries, and not only that, but had also taken their back pay.

I believe the electricians are entitled to their salary increase, and the only way they can get theirs is to strike. They should have their increase sooner than the judges, as they do more work and don't receive near the salary the judges do.

THE SHADOW OF AN UMBRELLA.

Chicago, Jan. 28.—I suggest that Mayor Kelly and Gov. Horner be furnished with press reports of the policemen's strike in Boston as handled by Calvin Coolidge. Is it possible that our glorious commonwealth and city are grooming Mike Boyle as a running mate with John L. Lewis for 1940? What a ticket that would make! GEORGE MCHENRY.

FOR ANOTHER SITDOWN.

Oconto, Wis., Jan. 28.—Why don't the industries of the country call for a sitdown strike? It would be the best thing in the world for the country. In the first place, that awful thing, industry, which employs labor, would then be no more. The bigger the industry and the more people it employs the more fortunate it would be for the country and the more elated the administration would be. The President seems to look on industry as an evil thing and evil in proportion to its size and to the number of people it employs. Then also the country would not have to take tainted money from industry in the form of taxes. Industry might refuse to pay taxes. That wouldn't matter much because manufacturing concerns are of minor importance to the country anyhow. They must be of minor importance when the President of the United States allows a very small percentage of the workers of a big corporation like General Motors to take unlawful and unlegal possession of the plant and close it down and prevent a vast majority of willing workers from earning a living. READER.

SUGGESTION.

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 25.—In view of the fact that John Lewis is bent upon building for himself a position of great power upon the misfortunes and suffering of misguided and innocent workmen, I suggest that he send some of his high pressure organizers into the flood stricken zones and organize about 5 per cent of the Red Cross workers and start a sitdown strike.

This would be right in line with the reasoning he has displayed so far. W. D. C.

GERMANY'S LONE STAND ON PEACE ANNOYS FRANCE

CHATEAUROUX, France, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos expressed scant hope today that Germany's attitude would make European disarmament an easy task, but reaffirmed France's determination to use all her conciliatory powers to avoid war.

YVON DELBOS.

Dealing briefly with Reichsfuerer Adolf Hitler's proclamation of Nazi willingness to coöperate with other powers on world problems in his address to the reichstag yesterday Delbos said:

"Doubtless Hitler turned over a new leaf by declaring himself ready for loyal collaboration in the future. But international collaboration implies negotiations and accords which look very difficult if, as he affirms for Germany, on the matter of armaments—defensive, it is true—each is going to be the sole judge of what he must do."

Delbos Defends Russia.

In a brusque rejoinder to Hitler's blast at soviet Russia Delbos insisted that the communist nation must not be excluded from "the international community."

[Hitler pledged "loyal coöperation with other nations on world problems, but in an attack against the soviet republics made clear he felt coöperation with Moscow was impossible.]

Delbos spoke in pouring rain at the inauguration of a monument for war dead. He asserted he did not pretend to reply to Hitler's address, because he had had no time to give it merited close examination.

"I merely formulate a few impressions," he said.

Recounts His "Impressions."

Recounting his "few impressions," Delbos exulted that Hitler's speech "contained no attack on France"; indorsed the fuehrer's avowal that no dispute between France and Germany is humanly possible; and recognized his will for peace.

The maintenance of peace, however, depends on general rules, Delbos said, and includes, so far as France is concerned, respect of treaties.

In an apparent criticism of Hitler's renunciation of the Versailles treaty and his announcement Germany henceforth will exercise sole control of the Reichsbank and her railways, Delbos said:

"In recalling his previous repudiation [of Locarno when he remilitarized the Rhineland] and in adding to this the reminder, on his own initiative, of new denunciations, the chancellor of the reich does not strengthen the confidence that reposes in the value of signatures."

Reaffirms Fidelity to League.

The foreign minister reaffirmed France's fidelity to the league of nations, twitted by Hitler for "reactionary laziness," but saw difficulties of coöperation by Germany.

[Hitler withdrew from the league in 1933 to continue rearmament of the Nazi nation.]

The minister recognized also that Hitler's speech contained positive passages—"even on the disarmament question, which he rightly declares must be examined in its entirety."

France held the same view, he said, in requesting a disarmament conference.

"I take particular note of this statement: 'Peace is our supreme good. Germany will do what she can to contribute in detailed manner to this work.'"

A short time before his address the French statesman symbolized good will toward Germany by placing a wreath upon a monument for Germans killed at Chateauroux in the war of 1870.

GETS HALF MILLION

LILLIAN CASTLE.

Lillian Castle, actress on the French and American stage for many years, was a visitor in Chicago yesterday. She left last night for St. Louis and then expects to go to New York City to sail for France to claim the $500,000 she inherited from her uncle, Georges de la Montdier, who made it during the Yukon gold rush. The actress, who is 72 years old, was working as a stand-in for May Robson when notified last summer of her inheritance.

AVIATORS DROP FOOD TO TRAPPED SPANISH REBELS

Isolated in Church Since Start of War.

MADRID, Jan. 31.—(AP)—The government resumed the offensive against Fascist rebels today in the northern Basque provinces and in the southern province of Jaen.

The war ministry reported rebels in the vicinity of San Pedro had been routed, and that they left behind supplies of ammunition and medicine.

Government artillery shelled enemy positions at Kalamua, on the Bilbao front, destroying fortifications and an ammunition deposit. Many rebels were killed, it was reported here.

Government forces were reported to be menacing Granada after taking the towns of Beas de Granada and Quentar.

Planes Drop Food.

A group of rebel civil guards, who since the beginning of the Spanish civil war have been more or less isolated in the Church of the Virgin at De La Cabeza and Lugar palace, Jaen province, were supplied yesterday with food, medicine, and ammunition by air.

Ten rebel planes circled over the church and palace to drop the packages. Some of the parcels fell within government lines. One rebel pilot was killed when his plane crashed into nearby mountains. Two other rebel ships fell near government lines.

The Madrid government appealed to Socialists throughout Spain to reduce food rations to ensure a steady supply of food for the besieged capital. The minister of commerce urged towns having supplies in excess of their immediate needs to communicate with the government at once. Seventeen truckloads of food arrived from France.

The Spanish leftist press seized on the reichstag speech of Adolf Hitler yesterday with assertions the Nazis are conducting a world-wide campaign against democracy using Spain as a stepping stone.

PREDICTS RASHES OF SPANISH WAR WILL HIT OTHER NATIONS

MADRID, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Gen. José Miaja, head of Madrid's defense junta, forecast the problems which have thrown Spain into civil war will soon appear in other countries in an interview today. Spanish loyalists are fighting only for "the essential needs of the proletariat," the general said, branding as "stupidly untrue" reports he was the tool of foreign elements.

GEN. JOSE MIAJA.

"I wouldn't remain a single minute in this cause if that were the case. I obey orders from [Premier] Francisco Largo Caballero as minister of war," he declared. Miaja said he was "absolutely sure of victory," admitting Madrid's situation is difficult, but asserting militia men in possession of the capital would retire "not one foot" farther. "Not only this, but we'll push the enemy back many miles notwithstanding the Germans and Irish in their army," he said.

MANILA CHEERS U. S. CARDINAL, ENVOY OF POPE

City Packed for Opening of Eucharistic Rite.

MANILA, Feb. 1.—[Monday]—(AP)—Flying the papal flag of yellow and white, the liner Conte Rosso sailed into Manila bay today bearing Cardinal Denis Dougherty of Philadelphia, the papal legate, to the international eucharistic congress here. The congress will open officially Wednesday. Traveling with the cardinal was the papal mission.

Thousands Jam Bay Front.

As the eucharistic ship dropped her anchor, thousands of Filipinos and congress delegates, come to do honor to Christ in the blessed sacrament, jammed the colorful bay front.

Four giant ocean liners landed delegations from the United States, Australia, Europe, Borneo, Mexico and South America.

The keynote of the congress will be of a missionary character, prelates in the Philippines said, with chief consideration given to spreading the faith throughout the orient.

Churchmen rushed final plans for celebration of outdoor masses on the shores of Manila bay where 500,000 are expected to kneel before an outdoor altar such as has been used at other international congresses to venerate the Holy Eucharist.

Conduct Mass at Islands.

Among the arrivals was Father Ignatius Fealey who came on the Pan-American Philippine clipper. He said en route he conducted the first masses ever said on Midway and Wake islands, outposts of the trans-Pacific airways system.

In Manila an attempt to halt the sale of special Eucharistic congress stamps by the postal department failed. A motion by Gregorio Aglipay, former Catholic priest and now head of the Philippine Independent church he organized, to stop the stamp sales was denied in court. Aglipay alleged the stamp sales violated the constitutional provision separating church and state.

Authentic
Balmoral Tartans
Created by the Prince Consort and worn by Edward VIII and George V

We saw the first yard of this "king's plaid" ever to land in this country—and immediately fell in love with it. Silvery gray plaided with the rich red of the famous castle's granite walls. It has a charming history, created originally by Prince Albert, Queen Victoria's Prince Consort. Great interest was aroused in it last fall when Edward VIII had it redesigned for himself. We have had this noble plaid tailored with royal precision into a whole new collection of town and country clothes. Schiaparelli reefers, little suits, box jackets and skirts as full as kilts. They will be found exclusively in the Sunningdale Sports Shop on the sixth floor.

SCHIAPARELLI'S FITTED REEFER with her much-talked-of frog fastenings. British in tailored silhouette, American in fit. Sizes 12 to 18. $85

POLICE SERGEANT WALKING IN ROAD IS KILLED BY CAR

Chief Detective's Brother Hit After Own Crash.

Sergt. Sidney T. Sullivan of the Desplaines street police station and a brother of Chief of Detectives John L. Sullivan, was killed early yesterday by an automobile. He was struck as he walked in Roosevelt road, a half mile east of Wolf road, Hillside.

SERGT. SIDNEY T. SULLIVAN.

His automobile had skidded off the slippery pavement into a ditch near York road in DuPage county nearly two miles west of the scene of his death. He was believed to be walking to get help when he was hit by a car driven by Ross Bogott, 33 years old, of Morrison, a plumber.

Blames Skidding Wheels.

Bogott said he jammed on his brakes and swerved the car in a vain effort to avoid hitting Sergt. Sullivan, but that he could not stop soon enough because the wheels skidded on the ice coated pavement. He took the policeman to Westlake hospital, where it was said death had resulted instantly from a skull fracture. Bogott was held for the inquest today at 5350 West North avenue.

Desplaines street policemen said Sergt. Sullivan left that station at 2 a. m., saying he was going to do some investigation in connection with an important case.

Sergt. Sullivan joined the police force twenty-three years ago. From 1924 to 1927 he was secretary to Capt. Patrick Hogan in the trafic division. Several years ago he passed the state bar examination, but never practiced law. He was assigned to the Desplaines street station for the last four and a half years. Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 9:30 a. m. from the funeral home at 5350 West North avenue to St. Peter Canisius church. Burial will be in All Saints cemetery.

Surviving are the widow, Virginia; a son, Thomas, 18 years old, and a daughter, Virginia, 6 years old, who live at 2135 West Adams street.

Run Down Leaving Party.

Sidney Stall, 42 years old, 4021 Arthington street, a world war veteran and laborer for the city in the water pipe division, was fatally injured yesterday by a hit and run driver at 27th street and Forbes road. He was leaving the hall of the Cornwall post of the American Legion, where he had attended a party.

Mrs. Olga Cellner, 37 years old, 1756 North Rockwell street, was injured fatally yesterday when an automobile ran into a group of persons waiting to board an eastbound street car at Albany and North avenues. Three others were less seriously hurt. The driver of the car, Harry Lawrenz, 18 years old, 1503 North Washtenaw avenue, a laborer, was held.

James Walter Pringle, 52 years old, 4133 West End avenue, was struck by an automobile and fatally hurt yesterday as he crossed Washington boulevard in the 4100 block. Earl Jacobi, 24 years old, 1426 South Kenilworth avenue, Berwyn, driver of the car, was held for the inquest today. He said Pringle walked in front of his machine.

Dies on Way to Hospital.

Anton Dawgielewicz, 44 years old, 1266 North Lincoln street, died of a fractured skull yesterday as he was being taken to a hospital. He was hit by an automobile as he crossed the street in front of 1712 West North avenue. The driver of the car, John Bradley, 21 years old, 2356 Newcastle avenue, was held.

The bodies of Julius Kaplan, 24 years old, 1311 Turner avenue, a driver for the Confection Cabinet corporation, and his helper, Fred Porter, 30 years old, were returned to Chicago yesterday from Sterling, Ill. They were burned to death Saturday afternoon when their truck collided with another six miles west of Sterling. Three Cascade, Ia., men also were burned to death. Blame for the crash was placed by a coroner's jury yesterday on Kaplan, who was found to have been driving at excessive speed.

Services to Be Held for Mrs. Rose Dombrowski

Funeral services for Mrs. Rose Dombrowski, wife of Dr. Edward F. Dombrowski, manager of the Chicago State hospital, will be held at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow from the chapel at 1317 North Ashland avenue to St. Stanislaus Kostka church, Noble and Ingraham streets. Mrs. Dombrowski died Saturday in her home at the hospital after a long illness which followed injury in an automobile accident in November, 1935. She was active in several civic and philanthropic organizations, serving as a director of the Polish Welfare association.

J. L. BARCHARD, MILWAUKEE, TO BE BURIED HERE

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 31.—[Special.]—Funeral services for John L. Barchard, Milwaukee industrialist and civic leader, will be held tomorrow morning. Burial will be in Rosehill cemetery, Chicago.

Mr. Barchard, a former Chicagoan, 55 years old, died of a heart attack in Madison Friday night, shortly after he was stricken at a governor's conference.

He also was president of the Milwaukee horse show and a member of the citizens' military training camp's advisory board. A director in several other organizations, Mr. Barchard sponsored many athletic events here, among them water carnivals, and organized the Milwaukee District Golf association.

Born in Toronto, Ont., Mr. Barchard engaged in the wooden box business there with his father, moving to Chicago in 1903. He engaged in the lumber and box business in Chicago until 1921, when he came here. He lived many years in Evanston, and during that period was a director of the Chicago Athletic association.

Surviving are his widow, Lillian, and a daughter, Mrs. Phyllis Smythe, both of Milwaukee.

JULIUS LIEBMAN, 47, DIES; DIRECTING HEAD MILWAUKEE SENTINEL

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 31.—(AP)—Julius Liebman, general manager of the Milwaukee Sentinel since 1934, died today after a fall on the ice-coated lawns of Lake park. He was 47.

Liebman, who had been taking his dog for a walk, was found unconscious in the park and apparently was dead when a police ambulance brought him to his home nearby.

Twenty-five years ago, when he was 22, Liebman came to the Sentinel as a cub reporter and joined the staf of the Milwaukee Journal in 1910. After short service there he returned to the Sentinel and rose through various executive positions to that of managing editor and vice president of the old Sentinel company. Dull Headaches? Dizzy Spells? It's Nerves Due to CONSTIPATION

Modern doctors now say that poisons from constipation swell up digestive organs causing pressure on nerves in this region. This nerve pressure causes frequent bilious spells, dizziness, headaches, sour stomach, dull, tired out feeling, sleepless nights, coated tongue, bad taste and loss of appetite.

Don't fool with laxatives that give slow action, overnight relief, or are timed to act in 12 to 24 hours. What you want is QUICK results. GET THAT PRESSURE OFF THE NERVES. Flush the intestinal system. When offending wastes are gone, the bowels return to normal size and nerve pressure stops. Almost at once you feel marvelously refreshed, blues vanish, and life looks bright again

That is why so may doctors are now insisting on gentle but QUICK ACTION. That is why you should insist on Adlerika. This efficient intestinal evacuant contains SEVEN carminative and cathartic ingredients. It acts on the stomach as well as the entire intestinal tract. It relieves stomach distress at once and often removes intestinal congestion in half an hour. No violent action, no after effects, just QUICK results. Recommended by many doctors and druggists for 35 years.

FREE Trial size of Adlerika will be mailed FREE to any adult. Send name and address to Dept. 179, ADLERIKA, ST. PAUL, MINN.

Some Real Information on COLDS
How to reduce the suffering time and discomfort in "Cold" season

Place no faith in so-called "instant cold cures." To relieve the disturbing symptoms of a cold, you should clear the head, dry the secretions, reduce the fever and keep the bowels open. This takes more than a "few minutes" and medicine of more than one kind.

You can get the necessary medicines of any druggist, by asking for Pape's Cold Compound which combines them in a pleasant tablet.

To relieve the discomfort of a "new" cold take two of these little tablets; chew them up, drink a glass of water.

Some cases may require additional treatment. If so, follow directions on the package. The relief thus afforded and the comfort it brings you are well worth the time.

Nothing else that would be safe for you to take will bring relief more quickly than Pape's Cold Compound.

PARK FOREMAN HELD AS RAPE CASE SUSPECT

Three Claim They Saw Him with Rogers Park Girl.

Maxwell Dowdell, foreman of a park labor gang, was held by the Rogers Park police last night as a suspect in the rape of a ten year old girl Saturday. Dowdell, a married man of 49, and father of two grown daughters, was identified by three persons as the man seen with the girl. He denied the accusation.

MAXWELL DOWDELL.

Dowdell's workmen have been cleaning Sheridan road between Touhy and Howard avenues in the vicinity of the girl's home and he was arrested after one of the workmen said he saw the foreman talking to the child.

Identified by Maid.

Miss Sally Brown, a colored maid in the girl's home, identified Dowdell as the man who introduced himself as Dr. Johnson and whom she admitted to the apartment with the girl. "Dr. Johnson" said he was helping the girl look for the $3 she had lost on her way to a dancing school. The unsuspecting maid left the stranger alone with the girl, whom he took into a vacant apartment and raped. Dowdell was taken before the victim, still suffering from shock, and she said she was not sure Dowdell was the man.

Two children who helped the girl look for the money identified Dowdell as the man who offered to aid in the search. They said the man sent them in opposite directions in the search for the money and then walked off with the victim.

Protests His Innocence.

Arrested in his home, 6906 Lakewood avenue, Dowdell said he was with his workmen at the time of the crime and vehemently protested his innocence. Capt. Charles Essig ordered statements taken from all the workers.

The victim's name has been withheld because of her youth.

Hoosier Art Salon Opens Today in Field Galleries

Winter scenes comprise half the landscapes included in paintings hung in the Hoosier solon, which opens today in the Marshall Field galleries and will continue through Feb. 13. The feature room this year is devoted to flower paintings. Portraits, still life and some religious subjects are included. The John Shaffer prize of $500 for an outstanding work in oil was awarded at a preview Saturday night to Carl Wolsey of Nashville, Ind., for "Hills of the Middle West."

TELLS OF PAYING BIG BOY KENNEDY $100 FOR LIBERTY

Pickpocket Sings the Bondsman's Praises.

For such friendly gestures as persuading a judge to free an alleged pickpocket on a no schedule bond, William [Big Boy Kennedy] Cannady was rewarded with $100.

This was revealed yesterday by the man who was freed. He is Willie Sherman, now under arrest in Detroit. He told police there he thought Cannady earned the $100. Anyway, Willie said:

"I wanted to be sure of help when I got into trouble, and besides, it cost less than a surety bond."

Failed to Appear in Court.

Willie failed to appear in Felony court here last Oct. 1 on a felony charge arising from a pocket picking. Investigation disclosed that he had been freed on the no schedule bond by Judge Joseph A. Graber of the Municipal court at the request of Cannady.

Cannady, an 11th ward Democratic worker and professional bondsman, has been sought for months on a centempt of court charge for the part he played in getting Judge Cecil C. Smith of the Municipal court to free Louis Swinberg, another alleged pickpocket, on a worthless bond.

Tells of Meeting Cannady.

Willie told the Detroit police he had known Cannady for 20 years, and very pleasantly, too. The prisoner explained that he had been arrested here more than once, and that he was always careful to meet Cannady in a restaurant and pay him after Cannady had "sprung" him, as they say in police circles.

MAYOR BEECHER OF TERRE HAUTE, WIFE ARRESTED

Terre Haute, Ind., Jan. 31.—(AP)—Mayor Sam Beecher and his wife, Katharine, who is city controler, were arrested late today after a Vigo county grand jury indicted them for misconduct and misfeasance in office. Mayor Beecher and Mrs. Beecher were released on bonds.

Prosecutor Leonard Kincade said there are four counts in the indictments. One charges Mr. and Mrs. Beecher used 1,246 gallons of gasoline purchased for the police.

Another alleges $250 was paid to Noble Wilson for salary as assistant superintendent of Highland Lawn cemetery, in charge of Woodlawn cemetery, when Wilson did not perform any services for the city.

The third alleges that C. T. Davis, street commissioner, was paid from gasoline tax funds for a month when he was absent in the interest of Mayor Beecher's campaign for the Republican gubernatorial campaign.

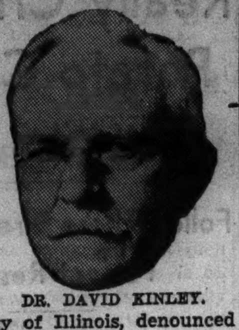
The last count alleged that a portion of a $1,000 fund appropriated by the city council for the expense of moving city hall furniture was used to pay clerical workers and for postage in the campaign. Mrs. Beecher, as city controler, approved payment of the accounts, it was charged.

REPAIRS AUTO; DIES OF FUMES.

Neglecting to open the doors of his garage while repairing his car cost John Rozenski his life yesterday. Rozenski, who was 27 years old, was found dead from exhaust fumes in the garage behind his home at 454 West 60th street.

DR. KINLEY HITS COMMUNISM AS FOE OF SOCIETY

Urbana, Ill., Jan. 31.—[Special.]—"Economically unsound, religiously atheistic, socially destructive, ethically indefensible, and morally debasing," was the manner in which Dr. David Kinley, president emeritus of the University of Illinois, denounced communism here today.



DR. DAVID KINLEY.

While acknowledging that much is wrong with present social arrangements, Dr. Kinley, an internationally known economist, said that such a statement is true of every form of society history has known.

He declared "communism is not the road to its elimination. The right road is along an ideal practice law of love, faith in God, deeper sense of personal responsibility for one's neighbors, for social progress and for righteousness, a deeper and wider feeling of the brotherhood of man."

Communists propose, Dr. Kinley said, that all agriculture and industry having been taken over by the government, the distribution of their product to each member of the community shall be according to the dictates of the ruling communists.

"I have never seen a proposed plan of wealth distribution of either socialism or communism which does not involve deprivation of freedom," he said.

Expert Reads Generous Nature in the Writing of Bing Crosby

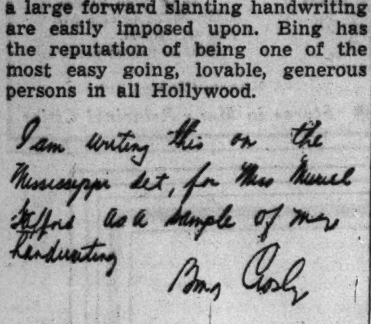
BY MURIEL STAFFORD.

[Copyright: 1937: By Muriel Stafford.]

Sometimes you can make real money by caring more about others than about yourself. If you don't believe it, look carefully at the handwriting of Bing Crosby. The slant shows an affectionate, sympathetic nature and the large open-at-the-top a's reveal open-hearted generosity.

There is even more than generosity and affection in this expansive handwriting. The y is made with the loop branching off toward the right instead of the left. Tests have indicated that such a letter formation is the sign of altruism or self-sacrifice.

Those who write with this y and a large forward slanting handwriting are easily imposed upon. Bing has the reputation of being one of the most easy going, lovable, generous persons in all Hollywood.



I am writing this on the Mississippi set, for Miss Muriel Stafford as a sample of my handwriting

Bing Crosby

As I was reading his handwriting just after he wrote these lines, one of his associates called jokingly, "Does it say anything about those old sweaters he loves to wear?"

I could very well have said that he might be wearing the old sweaters because he gave his new ones away. That might not have been the reason, though. The handwriting reveals no interest in surface appearances. It is people that count with Bing Crosby. He wouldn't care much if he had to wear old clothes all the time, but he'd be unhappy if he had to be alone for a single day.

This love of others, completely unrestrained and unselfish, has given Bing's personality a magnetism that is expressed in his voice, his acting, and everything he does. People like him and they don't know why.

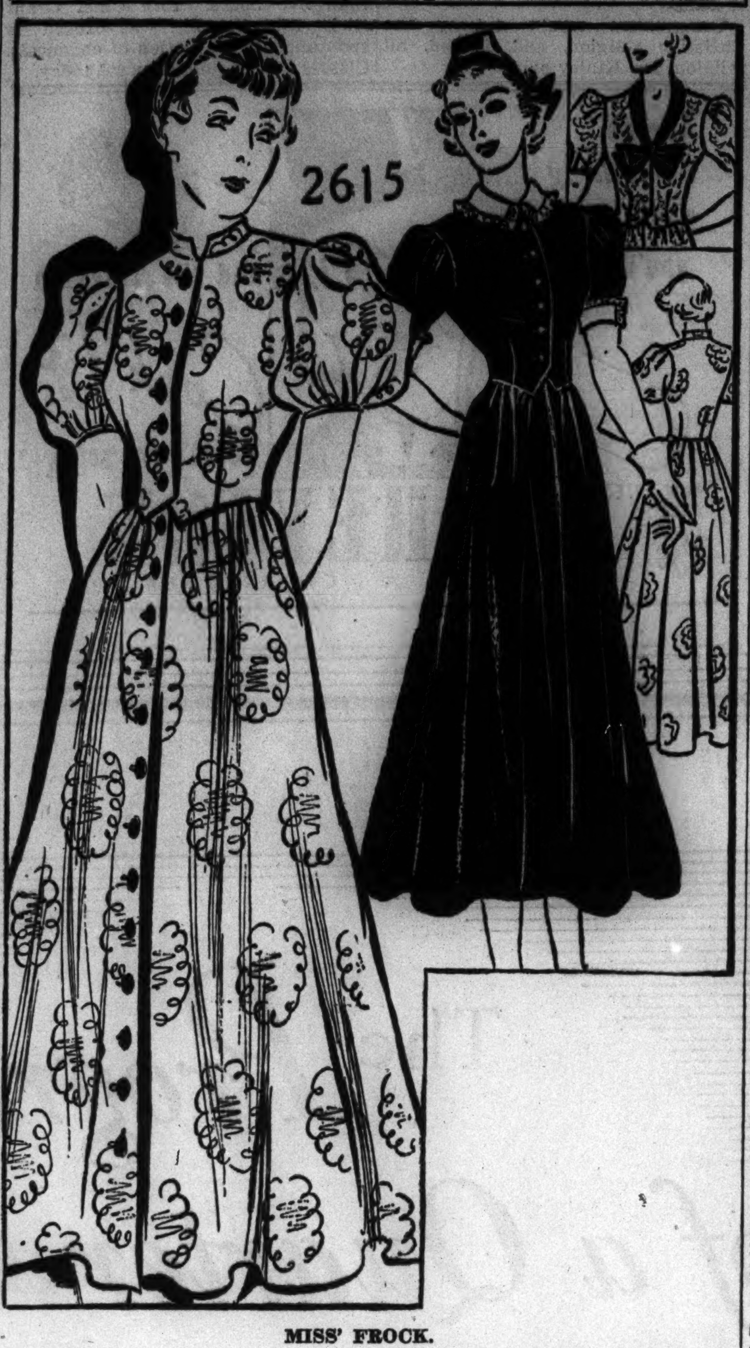
Tyrolean Styling Is Quaint



MISS' FROCK.

Only fairly slim figures may wear this delightful frock with Tyrolean styling, and what it does for the silhouette! The basque bodice hugs the figure within an inch of its life. The sleeves puff out in marvelous abandon from the trim armholes. The skirt is gathered into the tightly fitted waistline and flares in generous folds over the instep. Buttons runs a steady course in chic all the way down the frock, from the mandarin type of collar to the flounced hem. A gay silk print fashioned the original of this model, appropriate for informal parties of the mid-season or early spring.

This same pattern creates a street dress, too. The smaller sketch shows one interpretation. Dainty collar and cuffs enhance the dark fabric, and buttons trim only the bodice. The skirt, of course, is street length. Any dark shade may be employed for this daytime version, or a large or small print in gay shades. A sheer woolen also is a possibility, since there are plenty of nippy days now and in early spring which will make a fairly warm frock welcome.

Style No. 2615 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20 years, and 30, 32, 34, 36, and 38 inches bust measurement. Size 16 requires 4⅜ yards of 39 inch material.

BY MARY MEADE.

[Copyright: 1937: By The Chicago Tribune.]

If there's any more unappealing food than pale, greasy, fried potatoes, I never want to see it! The average American is fond of his French fried or cottage fried potatoes, and of crisp, homemade potato chips, but when these come to him improperly cooked and soaked with fat, they are not only unappetizing, but also indigestible.

Experts of the bureau of home economics of the United States department of agriculture have done some research on the making of potato chips at home and their findings have changed some of our old ideas and methods. In the first place, they have found that vegetable oils are more suitable than solid fats for use in frying potatoes.

The temperature to use depends somewhat upon the sugar content of the potato as well as upon its coldness and wetness and the number of slices placed in the frying kettle at once. A temperature of 350 degrees Fahrenheit probably is best.

It is important to dry the slices well before they go into the hot fat. Soaking the slices for 15 minutes or less, or washing them well in cold water, should result in crisp chips, unless the potatoes used are withered slightly. In this case longer soaking is sometimes necessary.

HOMEMADE POTATO CHIPS.

Pare and slice potatoes thinly. A potato slicer will be helpful in keeping the slices of uniform thinness. Wash the slices well in cold water and soak them for a time if the potatoes are at all withered. The washing removes starch on the outside of the slices which would cause the chips to stick together. Dry the slices thoroughly between absorbent towels before placing them in the kettle.

Fill the frying kettle to the depth of several inches with vegetable oil or a vegetable shortening and allow it to reach 350 degrees. Fry only a handful of the potatoes at a time until they are delicately brown and crisp, and remove with a wire egg whisk or a strainer to absorbent paper to drain. Sprinkle with salt.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

From the previews of tub frocks for young and old! Stunning, original ideas that take these hitherto practical necessities out of a rather ordinary existence into the top rating stuff that means imagination sewed and cut into every seam.

Linen processed to withstand all kinds of wear, linen that will not show wrinkles the first hour of wearing or for many more thereafter. Printed and embroidered linens to make the most blasé soul sit up and buy.

Black and white prints that look as fresh, as crisp, and as decorative as the most expensively printed silk. Plain colors of every tone ever asked for, and other all-over prints of blazing, splashy glory.

Short sleeves, some so short they're just shoulder caps, others shirred and tucked into shoulder seams to end in tight cuffs high above the elbow. Two piece dresses that look like suits, one piece outfits that can't be equaled for snap and smartness, the kind of a dress you'll wear with a hat and gloves of either white or contrasting color on hot days next summer. Clever details include pockets, a double plait down the front to simulate a redingote dress, white tape bandings, bright patent lether narrow belts, bows of pigskin at the throat, flared skirts that are young, demure high necklines, younger yet, and lots of other new ideas.

Play clothes . . . better and in larger assortments than ever. Bloomer and romper suits shown—a bit uncertain, but gaining every day. Wraparound skirts over these romper suits and the classic shorts and blouse combines. Cotton prints, linen, silky broadcloths, dotted Swisses, thin sheer cottons, dark colors, bright colors, and lovely pastels, with black a color to watch.

Separate blouses and skirts in cotton are expected to be popular for street and office wear, either in dark or clear, strong bright colors to be changed with costume accessories of white or colors.

Culbertson's "Gold Book of Bidding and Play"

[Copyright: 1937: By Ely Culbertson.]

To pass partner's opening suit bid of one is the loudest warning in bridge. It shows a hand so weak that its total strength is:

1. Less than one honor trick;
2. Less than adequate support for partner's suit; or, if adequate support [Q x x or x x x x] is held, such poor distribution that there is little or no hope of winning a ruffing trick;
3. No higher ranking suit as good as K x x x x or Q J x x x [five cards, headed by one-half an honor trick], and probably no lower ranking suit that good.

Some response should be made with as much as one honor trick; or with adequate trump support and a ruffing trick; or with a biddable suit containing about three or four winners, depending on whether it can be shown at one-odd or two-odd. Sometimes, it is true, a pass is made on a hand containing one honor trick, but only when it is a bare ace, without an honor in some other suit, and without support for partner's suit.

TODAY'S HAND.

Nothing will throw a partnership on the rocks more quickly than for one partner to disregard the other's warning signal. It not only costs tricks but has a lasting effect on the morale of the team, disrupting the mutual faith that is indispensable to good results.

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
1 club	Pass	1 spade	Double
Pass	2 diamonds	Pass	2 hearts
Pass	Pass	2 spades	3 hearts
Double	Pass	Pass	Pass

The fact that the hand occurred in a match point duplicate game explains the bidding. East, it will be noted, was quite correct in passing over two diamonds. He hardly dared hope that the contract would be allowed to stand, but certainly did not intend to help the opponents by doubling. He felt certain that South would bid hearts, and did not want to trap his partner into an early heart double. But when the two hearts passed around to East again, he properly felt that it would be unwise to allow a vulnerable team to steal a part-score when he himself was not vulnerable and had the superior ranking spade suit. Thus, his two spade bid, while based on a weak suit, was strategically correct under the circumstances. West's double of three hearts was well considered, even though close.

Unfortunately, West's play was not up to his strategy. He opened the ace of spades and, although East played the deuce, continued with the ten, in the hope of a third round ruff. After that there was no defense possible. Dummy's jack covered the ten, and gave declarer two spade tricks. The hearts were drawn, and a club trick made by straight leads.

Particularly in situations involving close doubles, where the fullest cooperation between the defenders is vital, signal cards should be treated sacredly. East's deuce on the first lead was a positive shriek for a non-continuation. It would have required courage for West to have shifted to a diamond, which would have resulted in a two trick set, since East could have led a club and ruffed the third round. But even if West had made the safe trump shift, the contract would have been defeated the one trick that meant the difference between top and bottom.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

South	West	North	East
1 heart	Pass	2 hearts	?

As East, what should I bid with the following:

♠ A K Q J 10 ♥7 3 ♦6 4 2 ♣ 9 7 3?

Miss Wardwell and Haley Fiske Wed in the East

Mrs. Frank Ogden Magie Is Bride's Grandmother.

BY JUDITH CASS.

ROMANTIC news of interest that came to light over the week-end concerns young men and women of several other cities as well as Chicago. From New York comes the announcement of the marriage on Jan. 23 of Miss Henrietta Wardwell to Haley Fiske II. in Poundridge, N. Y. The marriage is announced by the bride's mother, Mrs. John Lewis Montgomery of 430 East 86th street, New York, formerly Henrietta Magie of Chicago. The bride is a granddaughter of Mrs. Frank Ogden Magie of Chicago and a daughter of the late Chester Alan Wardwell.

Mr. Fiske is the son of Mrs. Archibald Fiske and grandson of the late Haley Fiske, former president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company. Mr. and Mrs. Fiske will live at 29 East 83d street, New York.

A shipboard romance that began nearly two years ago when Miss Gladys Perrow went abroad to cover the Salzburg music festival for a north shore paper will culminate in her wedding Feb. 13 to Alexander August Siems. The young German, who is engaged in the export business in Haiti, was on his way back to Hamburg, Germany, to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederich A. Siems, when he met Miss Perrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Perrow of Lake Forest this morning are announcing their daughter's forthcoming marriage, and next week they will accompany her to Miami, Fla., where the wedding will take place Feb. 13. Mr. Siems and his bride will live in Haiti until spring, and then will go to Europe to live.

Miss Perrow is a graduate of the Principia Junior college and of Northwestern university, and has recently been associated with the League of Nations association in Chicago.

From Racine, Wis., comes the engagement announcement of Miss Alice Batten, daughter of the Percy H. Battens of that city, to John Raymond Murphy Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Raymond Murphy of Chicago. Young Mr. Murphy, who is associated with his father in business in Chicago, will bring his bride here to live, which will mean that the Chicago Junior league will have another transfer member, for Miss Batten is an active member of the league in Racine.

From St. Paul, Minn., comes the announcement of the engagement of Miss Eleanor How, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elisha Litchfield How of 700 Lincoln avenue, St. Paul, to Howard Kinsley Hamm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Wilbert Hamm of Chicago. Mr. Hamm, who is a Princeton graduate, and his bride will live in St. Paul temporarily after their marriage in the spring, but they expect eventually to come to Chicago to live.

Miss Mary Louise Hamilton, daughter of Henry Raymond Hamilton Jr. of Oak Park and Mrs. Louise Barlow Hamilton of Winnetka, will be married to Donald Kyle McAllen of Glencoe Friday evening. Dr. Horace J. Bridges will read the marriage service at the home of the bride's mother with only members of the immediate families present. Mr. McAllen, son of Mrs. William Johnson McAllen of Glencoe, was graduated from Princeton in 1931.

Miss Phyllis Grell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Grell of 708 Forest avenue, Evanston, and Thomas Robinson Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Robinson of 2112 Lincoln street, Evanston, will be married Saturday at the residence of the bride's parents. The Rev. F. J. Magner will read the service at 7:30 o'clock, after which there will be a reception at the Orrington hotel.

Miss Grell attended Northwestern university and the Chicago Art institute. Her husband-to-be also attended Northwestern and was graduated from the University of Illinois. They will live in Ottawa, Ill.

June 17, 18, 19, and 20 will be red letter days in Lake Forest next summer, for the executive committee of the Lake Forest horse show has announced those dates for the annual show on the Onwentsia club grounds. Albert B. Dick Jr., who recently attended a meeting of the American Horse Show association in New York, of which he is a director, brought back the dates. Donald B. Douglas, president of the Lake Forest show committee, announces that Ned King, well known manager of the national horse shows held at Madison Square Gardens in New York, will come west to manage the Lake Forest event. As usual the proceeds will be given to the Hospital Association of Lake Forest.

Mrs. Insull on Committee for Welsh Choir Concert.

Mrs. Samuel Insull, who with Mr. Insull always is found at all noteworthy musical events, is emerging from the semi-seclusion in which she has lived for the last few years to be a member of the committee in charge of a concert the Welch male choir will give on Feb. 12 for the benefit of the British Old People's home. Mrs. Insull is particularly interested in the home and in the choir, because her husband was born in England.

The concert will be given in the evening at Orchestra hall. Mrs. L. Hamilton McCormick is chairman of MRS. RALPH F. CHATILLON is one of the young women assisting Jason F. Whitney, president of the Chicago City Opera company, with plans for the opera ball to be given at the Palmer house next Monday night. The ball really is to be a dinner-dance with none of the kid glove formality that the term opera ball suggests. Mrs. Chatillon, Miss Frances Jeffery, Mrs. Thomas S. Tyler, Mrs. Kendall Lingle, Mrs. Martin Stevenson, Mrs. Theodore Tieken, and Mrs. Ray Prescott Johnson will be among the ushers, costumed as famous opera stars, at the affair.

MRS. RALPH F. CHATILLON.

Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Jack B. Finn, 811 Buena avenue, announce the marriage of their daughter, Ruth Elizabeth, to Raymond Prosper Lamy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Lamy, 3750 Sheridan road, on Jan. 23. After a wedding trip Mr. Lamy and his bride will make their home in Chicago.

A Fishing Story.

While fishing on a lake in northern Michigan I had just tamped my old pipe and was getting a match out to light it, when, bang, I got a strike. The strike was so hard and fast it knocked the pipe out of my teeth and it immediately sank while I played the fish. I got the fish, but the pipe was gone forever—that is, I thought forever, but the next day I went back to the same location and started to cast. Suddenly a big black bass stuck his head up aside of the boat, with my pipe sticking out of his mouth, and said: "Heh, buddy, U gotta a match?"—M. C. H., Marion, Ind.

A Natural Liar.

I am a natural liar, but last summer I got false teeth, and do you know I can't tell a lie now, no matter how much I want to, because those teeth know a lie when they see it, and while I am thinking a lie they up and speak the truth, and now I am forced to believe what I say myself.—Mrs. C. F. B., Aurora.

Business Men's Orchestra Gives Varied Concert

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Since the one track mind is such a familiar phenomenon, there is always some news value in anybody who has learned to do two things well.

But the news value of the Chicago Business Men's orchestra is vastly greater. This organization, which yesterday afternoon played the first Orchestra hall concert of its season, consists of no fewer than 115 persons who have triumphantly lifted themselves out of the normal rut. Each of these 115 is a skilled musician; each has some other business or profession which wins him a livelihood.

In the freemasonry of music the Chicago Business Men's orchestra unites doctor, lawyer, merchant, chief, poor man, rich man—but that is quite for enough, for people who fall into the rime's next classification care nothing, as a rule, about the joys of ensemble playing, and any one who comes under the final head is rigidly excluded. Aside from these omissions, the group offers a pretty fair cross section of this city's vocational scheme.

George Dasch, the conductor, does not allow his men's outside interests and the limited rehersal time which these interests enforce to affect the orchestra's standard of répertoire. Yesterday's program offered a symphony and concerto and a variety of exacting smaller items.

The Schubert "Rosamunde" overture and Nicolai's heartening preface to "The Merry Wives of Windsor" profited in their differing ways by the orchestra's precision of attack and its remarkable accuracy. The latter work had such rhythmic verve and enthusiasm that you could not help wondering why the song writer who borrowed its chief melody for simpering little "Marcheta" had not taken some of the overture's greater qualities along with it.

Amy Neill, Chicago violinist, who appeared as guest soloist with the Business Men's orchestra, chose the Brahms Concerto. Its adagio had a rich, yet correctly restrained richness, under her bow. She managed a good rhythmic fillip in the intoxicating Allegro Giocoso.

In the darkened Studebaker theater Myra Hess began her piano recital yesterday afternoon with a group of rarely heard excerpts from the early music of England. Purcell, Peerson, Farnaby, and Arne [two of them contemporaries of Shakespeare] were each represented by the kind of delicate, half-lit music which Miss Hess does so extremely well.

She preserved their spirit in the Haydn Variations which followed, chiseling out her phrases cleanly though somewhat coldly. Beautiful playing throughout the group, but deficient in the rich variety of colorings by which the modern piano can legitimately revivify antique music.

The Illinois Symphony orchestra, playing its regular Sunday concert at the Great Northern yesterday under Albert Goldberg's direction, gave a first performance of the "Pygmalion" overture of Radie Britain, Chicago composer. Based on the legend of the sculptor who fell madly in love with the ivory maiden whose beauty his own chisel had fashioned, the overture does not on first hearing reveal its connection with the tale. It does reveal itself as good music, fertile of idea, and opulently orchestrated.

Fritz Siegal, young violinist, who normally serves as concert master of the orchestra, stepped into the soloist's classification yesterday. His vehicle was the Burleigh Second Concerto. The first movement proved that the violinist has a sturdy tone of good quality and an effective, eloquent manner of phrasing.

De Havilland Cuts Loose on Errol Flynn

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., Jan. 31.—[Special.]—Errol Flynn was Olivia De Havilland's sweetheart in two prominent motion pictures—"Captain Blood" and "Charge of the Light Brigade," and sentimental fans of the high school classification might think that Errol and Olivia just could hardly help being "that way" about each other after all those ten months in front of the camera.

OLIVIA DE HAVILLAND.

But you ought to hear Olivia talk. "Errol Flynn!" she says. "Mr. Flynn is the typical small boy who in school would be pulling the pigtails of the girl in front of him. It's a good thing I didn't wear my hair in braids when I worked in my pictures with him because he did everything else he could think of to tease me.

"I've got to admit I like him because he's handsome and he has a sense of humor and he is such a gentleman; but he isn't big brotherly to the slightest degree. If I'm nervous about a scene, he'll never do anything to put me at ease. My teeth can be chattering and he just chuckles at me.'

"Understand, I don't mean to paint Errol Flynn as some kind of an ogre. It's the fact that he can be such a meany and still act like such a gentleman that makes me mad at him. He just loves to see me get mad.

"Mr. Flynn is not in my latest picture, 'Call It a Day.' You might think that would be a relief, but do you think he would stay away and stop teasing me? Not at all. On the days I had to do my hardest scenes—there were some in which I had to cry my eyes out—he would stomp onto the set and in front of Director Archie Mayo and everybody he would announce, 'I have come to see Miss De Havilland act.' Then he would sit on a chair next to the camera with an impudent grin on his face.

"Sometimes he would say, 'Please go ahead and emote, Miss De Havilland; I could sit and watch you act for hours. You inspire me so.' I feel embarrassed and angry and want to throw things, but I don't seem to think of a way to get even with him. He sarcastically calls me 'beautiful'; I sarcastically call him 'Big Shot.'

"Taking it all in all, Mr. Flynn is a terrific nuisance. But in spite of it he is a likable man."

I wasn't out at Colmotor Speedway where Lambert Hillyer has a Columbia cast shooting "Racing Luck," but from some who did go to the speedway comes the story about what happened when Hillyer lined up the racers for their start and then yelled "Gardner."

People sprang toward him from all directions. There was Chet Gardner, automobile racer. There was Ray Gardner, Chet's brother and mechanic. There was Harry Gardner, Chet's son; Jack Gardner, an extra cast as the mechanic for Charles Quigley, the actor; Terry Gardner, electrician from the studio whom Hillyer really meant, and another extra who wasn't a Gardner at all; he spelled it "Gardiner."

Just as Hillyer got it straightened out by having the men respond according to the numbers of their autos, up limped a gray-haired little old man in overalls. "Did you want me, sir?" he asked Hillyer.

"Don't tell me your name is 'Gardner,' too," Hillyer said.

"No sir," said the old man, "my name is Henry Wilson. But I'm putting in the lawn over there [pointing to the speedway infield] and I thought you called for the gardener."

Front Views and Profiles

AN ambitious actor sent his publicity agent to New York ahead of him to stir up some interest in his departure for Europe to make a new picture, Joe Reedy reports. The attention he received from the newspapers was disappointing. When his ship got to sea the actor radioed his p. a., "Thanks for sneaking me out of the country."

SLIM, dark, clear-spoken Count Raoul de Roussy de Sales, speaking before the Council of Foreign Relations Saturday to an absorbed audience, commented that in Paris the parlor whites have succeeded the parlor pinks, and this year flock to Jacques Doriot as last year they flocked to Col. François de la Rocque. Doriot is the nearest thing to Naziism outside of Germany, he declared, and his idea of a French empire could only be brought about by the destruction of the democracy and the establishment of a minority party which would be controled by the élite of the "rejuvenated" country.

"This is pure Fascism," he said. And he gave a strange picture of the bejeweled ladies of the exclusive Faubourgs getting into their cars to go to hear Doriot, in shirt sleeves and suspenders, speak in halls in the section outside Paris that is the oldest communist community.

"It only proves the universal law that people of the most conservative and patriotic intentions run to what is going to destroy them," he said.

THE strength of Premier Blum's government is in his foreign policy, Count de Sales told his hearers. Blum has one fear—that of being a Ramsay MacDonald, but he will not become a Ramsay MacDonald, the speaker continued. He governs France as the leader of a coalition in which his party, the Socialist, plays a dominant rôle, and he is trying to work as much socialism in as a capitalistic nation can take, and not go beyond it. He said France realized Blum has kept her out of war, and has made untiring efforts for nonintervention in Spain; has succeeded in repairing the rift which occurred between France and Britain during the Ethiopian war of last year, and has succeeded in bringing about a unity of foreign policy with Britain that has given assurance to France. Blum's past is pure, and he has, as far as can be discovered, no entanglements with "those sinister powers of the modern world, armament makers and international bankers"—another reason for his strength, the speaker declared.

AN ironic note pointed to by the speaker followed his discussion of the offer made by Blum to Hitler to give Germany "what no prime minister of France has offered to Germany since the war"—aid in solving Germany's problems, even that of colonies.

"The irony of this is that such an offer should be made to Hitler by a Marxian Socialist and a Jew," he concluded.

SYNOPSIS.

Adrian Somervell and Diana Lake become engaged when the young scientist learns he is heir to the fortune of his late stepmother, Rose Somervell, ex-star of the theater, who was Diana's godmother. Until shortly before her death Adrian and she had been estranged. Adrian had lunched with her shortly before her death. Also there were Nicholas Blundell, wealthy bachelor solicitor, who lived in the London flat below Rose, Felix Arenson, an old friend, and Blundell's neurotic secretary, Elsie Dilworth. Elsie was madly in love with Adrian, who'd repulsed her. Blundell is Diana's godfather. She'd always disliked him. An autopsy reveals that Rose was poisoned. Then Diana's mother is murdered. Robbery is thought to be the motive. Adrian is arrested, suspected of Rose's murder. Blundell persuades Diana to move to Rose's flat.

INSTALMENT XIX.

A MYSTERIOUS SEARCH.

When Blundell had gone Diana got down the Medical Jurisprudence firmly resolved to master what she had failed to take in that morning.

Aconitum napellus. . . . It would have wanted very little of the root, grated and mixed with the horseradish on one particular plate, to do the damage. Which of the four did the mixing? For there were certainly four to be considered—Petty, Arenson, Elsie Dilworth, and Uncle Nick himself. Petty? Too faithful and too stupid, O, by far!

What a demon of a plant! Within a few minutes would begin that tingling sensation Rose had complained of—first in the lips and tongue, next in the stomach. Later would come numbness and nausea. Sometimes the victim would be unable to stand; always he would find extreme difficulty in articulating. A sense of impending paralysis, blindness, even lockjaw were possible. Coma quickly set in, and in from three to seven hours the sufferer would be dead.

Arenson? A queer, cold fish, an unknown quantity, even to his theatrical colleagues. Once, it was said, he had been in love with Rose, who had flouted him, and then there was the three years' quarrel, recently patched up. Diana would have said Felix was a coward. Still, to kill in this manner called for no great daring or risk. Suppose——

Someone had come into the flat, using a latchkey. The person seemed to be lingering with but slight movement in the hall. Doing what? The prolonged hesitation struck Diana as odd. She laid down her book and stole, without noise, to the half open door. She glanced out and drew back.

There, within three yards of her, stock-still, and gazing fearfully around, was the departed secretary.

Elsie, back again, and from her furtive manner not anxious to be seen. Her attitude was a listening one, but what had struck Diana still more sharply was her altered, hag-ridden appearance, in grotesque contrast to the jaunty green hat and dangling jade earrings she continued to affect. There was no rouge now on her muddy complexion, her hazel-green eyes were red-rimmed and small. Her clothes hung on her gaunt, big-boned frame, and her badly waved hair, once mouse-colored but recently brightened with henna, straggled in dispirited wisps around her ears and neck.

Feeling sure this room was her objective, Diana held a rapid debate with herself. Should she accost the secretary boldly or hide and watch her? A second cautious peep made her decide on the latter course.

Not an instant too soon was Diana flattened against the windows with the thick curtains covering her. She heard the key turn and experienced a slight shudder to think that here she was, locked in with a creature quite possibly mad. Adrian had suggested it.

Without hesitation, the intruder had pulled the green-shaded lamp round so as to focus its rays on the big table, planked down a pair of dark, fleece-lined gloves on the blotting pad, and from a small attaché case she carried took out a bunch of keys. Her movements were business-like, brusque; and though she was on the far side of the table, there was no doubt as to what she was doing. She was opening all the drawers in turn and running with practiced thoroughness through their contents. Twice she lifted out a file and pored over it with a strained, desperate sort of eagerness, but throughout she worked so quietly that only an occasional crackle of paper betrayed her occupation. Whatever it was she was looking for, it was not the will, for when she came upon it—the document was clearly visible in the lamplight—she put it back without a glance.

Every drawer had been hauled out and replaced, not before the searcher had thrust her arm into the farthermost recesses and drawn it out again with gesture of despair. Now she gave up and stood, leaning clenched hands on the table. Formerly she had been a plain, unnoticeable woman, but scrupulously neat. That was in the days when Diana had known her merely as Uncle Nick's employé, and not thought of her twice. Now she was unkempt, one might almost say unwashed, looking as though she had not slept for nights and been roaming the streets in rain and mud.

Muttering to herself, she began to pad softly about, prying into every receptacle. Before the expanse of bookshelves she paused, letting her gaze travel over the closely packed volumes. A few of these she removed, only to stick them back hopelessly. Her shoulders sagged. She broke into hushed, spasmodic laughter, dreadful to hear, but it did not last long With another of her lightning movements she turned, swooped upon her gloves and attaché case, and in a twinkling had quitted the room.

Diana slipped forth to hide behind the door and peep through the crack. She was just in time to see Elsie go into her employer's bedroom, where she remained for a few minutes, only to come out again with the same baffled expression. For a second she hovered in the hall, undecided. Then she plunged her hand into the huge oak cupboard and took from the nail the spare key to the flat above. In another instant she was out of the door and had softly closed it.

Half a minute passed—and then down the invader rushed, so precipitately that Diana barely had time to dart back to the library. A little metallic "ping" announced the return of the spare key to its nail, and immediately the hall door shut. The secretary was gone.

Quick! She must be followed. Within fifty seconds Diana had made a dash for her coat and hat and was running along the single outlet Queen's Close possessed. Its short length terminated in a broad street leading from the park down towards Kensington station, so at the junction she paused to scan the distance in both directions. Yes, she could make out the angular form at the parking place in front of the Albert Hall. Hurrying, she overtook it just as the trafic was held up and, unnoticed, crossed the road behind it to the opposite bus stop. Elsie boarded a down-going bus. To the top of it Diana scrambled and kept a sharp lookout at each stopping place.

Along Knightsbridge they trundled, up Park lane, along the crowded hurly-burly of Oxford street, then by a devious route to Baker street station. There! Elsie was getting out. Three minutes more and, still unaware of pursuit, she was entering a Number Thirty, traveling east. Again Diana kept out of sight by riding on top. They reached the huge, dingy mass of King's Cross station, rounded the side, and climbed the huge slope towards Islington.

The bus, following tram lines, stopped opposite a low, walled-in embankment, grass covered, and with a railing round it. Here her quarry descended, one of a crowd, and so inconspicuously that she was away before Diana saw her hurrying figure detach itself from its chance companions. The bus was moving on. She swung off it perilously, just escaped a tram, and managed, by extra speed, to lessen the distance between the secretary and herself. On the two went, Elsie with bent head and long awkward strides, Diana afraid on the one hand that she would be seen, on the other that at any moment the woman she was tracking would vanish into some dark doorway just round a corner.

Now she crossed and entered the bottle-necked opening to a small, dimly lit square, where low-roofed houses huddled round a railed enclosure of laurels and stunted plane trees. It was a shabbily decent place, aloof and superior to the street just quitted. Elsie was already on the far side before Diana, anxious to remain unrecognized, dared overtake her, the result being that when she turned the corner of the iron railings the pavement before her was empty. All the houses facing her were dark, but as she looked a light flared up in the upper front window of one of them. For an instant only, then a blind was drawn down to hide it, but it had given a reliable clew.

Greased Palm Pays Dividends in Eye Beauty

There are many women who are inclined to pan the eye makeup artifices, but there is this to be said about them: They have made women eye conscious. They have caused women to give more attention to their eyes. I'm not referring to consultations with opticians and oculists. I mean giving more careful attention to the skin texture, combating the fine under eye lines, wrinkled eyelids, and crow's feet.

In connection with this subject I might relate an experience with a woman well past 50, who has an amazing lack of lines or shriveling of skin around this upper face area. She gave me her formula for keeping this sector line-free. It's simple enough, and takes only a few minutes. With the palms of her hands, and eyelids closed, this woman embraces the eye and forehead area in a smoothing out and upward gesture. She does it frequently during the day without greased palms. Bue she does it nightly for a minute or two with the palms greased with cream. Lately she has found a tissue oil she likes a great deal, but it is that smoothing up and out of the plam that matters.

Another little eye youthifying trick recommended for the conventional, older women, who leave eye shadow and mascara to the young and reckless, is to use the tissue oil and leave just the tiniest film of it on the skin of the upper lid, then wield a finger underneath the lower lid lightly enough to give just a suggestion of moisture, and you have a younger, fresher looking eye. These little tricks are things that every woman can do and should do. They take so little time or effort, and pay wonderful dividends.

To dye or not to dye? If you are thinking of tinting your hair, read what Antoinette Donnelly has to say in her booklet, "Bring Out the Beauty in Your Hair." Get a copy at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower. Price, 5 cents; postpaid, 7 cents.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

A "blue spruce" cologne that came to our desk recently is positively exciting. We don't ordinarily care for even the best of pine fragrances; we ask obliging people who're fanatic about pine to give us their opinions. But this is so elegant, even we are crazy about it!

This cologne is made by experts, people who tinker with flowers and essential oils all of the time. They know what we've always suspected—that it's frightfully difficult to reproduce the fragrance of spruce without that overpowering resinous odor which verges so closely on the blunt, most unbeautiful smell of turpentine.

In this blue spruce cologne there isn't a trace of that disturbing undertone. It's true and it's soft. We thought it as beautiful a pine as ever could be—and a woman of our acquaintance who is a connoisseur of pine and all its varieties tells us that it's simply daisy.

It's a perfectly beautiful body rub—cooling and not a bit sharp or strong. We can't imagine anything more refreshing. Invalids especially should adore it, especially if they like the woodsy scent of pine.

This is a distinctly inexpensive product. The containers are simple; the makers concentrated on the product itself. You can buy it in pints, too—which is our idea of the way to package colognes. They should be slathered, not dabbed on.

We think you pine fans will indorse this. ELEANOR NANGLE.

N. U. Settlement Board Sponsors Tennis Matches.

When Paul Bennett, Northwestern university's tennis coach, asked members of the Evanston board of Northwestern university settlement last week to sponsor the tennis matches of William T. Tilden II. next Friday evening at Patten gymnasium in Evanston Mrs. Arlington C. Harvey and her board at once agreed to shelve temporarily the preparations for their annual card party and fashion show March 29 and to plunge into arrangements for this additional benefit.

The matches are to be particularly noteworthy, because not only Tilden himself is appearing with Vincent Richards and Martin Plaa, the French star, both already known to Chicago fans, but a brilliant newcomer, Taro Satoh, twice captain of Japan's Davis cup team, will play a match with Tilden.

The Renaissance society of the University of Chicago is giving a tea today from 4 to 6 o'clock in Wieboldt commons for Mr. and Mrs. Guy Murchie Jr. An exhibition of Mr. Murchie's drawings is on view in the galleries of the society. It will be there until Feb. 12.

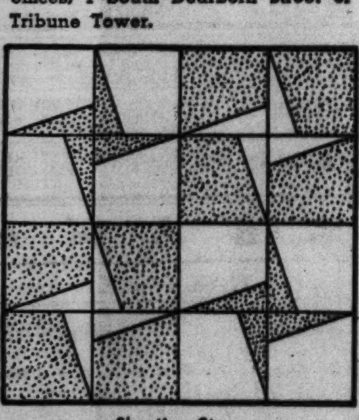
Gayety of Dainty Quilt Is Achieved with Two Colors

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.



Shooting Stars.

BY NANCY CABOT.

"Shooting Stars" is a dainty pieced block in two gay colors and is ideal for the room of a boy or girl approaching the teen age. It is, perhaps, one of the simplest of all quilt patterns. Careful study will reveal a pattern on which the rankest amateur may work without fear or trembling. Sky blue and white are the two favorite color schemes, with the star reversed in each block. Forty-two pieced blocks are set together to form an all-over design and the coverlet is finished simply with a one-half inch bias binding.

Just What Do Children Owe Their Parents?

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

We should not expect from our children gratitude—appreciation of our "sacrifices." But neither should we allow our child to feel that anything and everything we can do for him or give him is his due because he didn't ask to be born.

The relationship between us and our children should be founded on a deeper, more human basis. We have of course to do for him, protect him, even serve him when he is little and when he is big. But our ultimate aim is to make him a fine, well-rounded human being, able to take his place in the world, do his part, give and receive love, give and receive friendship, and give and receive material things.

To do this we should not weigh our children down with gratitude, nor spoil them with selfishness. We know in our hearts what we owe them as parents, but we must lead them so that they will learn that they owe us certain things as human beings owe each other these things.

Unrestrained Youth Seldom Is Respectful

BY DORIS BLAKE.

At a certain dinner for young people one youth, it appears, took up an olive, chewed on it, took the pit between thumb and forefinger, and fired it straight against the newly and formally treated dining room wall. The act brought forth applause from the crowd at the table. They immediately reached for olives and took aim with the pits until the wall became peppered with the messy shots. Ill bred young persons, of course, but why would, why should, any adult stand by helplessly until complete ruin followed the hoodlum inspiration?

We say that half the lawlessness reported as part of current youth's good time may be laid to the cowardice of the parent or parents of the boy and girl giving the party. They fear for the popularity of their girl or boy. They'd rather put themselves in the position of contempt they rightfully earn than stand up to miscreant youth and order a better form of behavior.

It's the cowardly streak in the older generation the hoodlums reckon on to get away with their hoodlumism. That streak apparent, what is there to stop them from seeing how far they can go? What is to stop their hilarious contempt when they think back of what they were let to do in that home?

LOVE LAUGHTER THRILLS
"LINDA'S FIRST LOVE"
Radio's newest and most absorbing serial
Here is the real story of a real American girl . . . lovely, lively Linda at the crossroads of life. She is yourself — your daughter — the girl next door. And loyal, worshipping Danny Grogan; wealthy, polished Kenneth Woodruff are both in love with her. Which shall she choose? What does pert, sophisticated Daisy, Linda's true friend and confidante, have to say about them? What does lovable, loving "Pa" think of it all? Will stepmother Aunt Sarah make Linda's road easier . . . or harder.

HYGIENE LEAGUE TO TELL NATION OF SYPHILIS PERIL

City to Share in First Observance Wednesday.

The first National Social Hygiene day will be observed throughout the United States on Wednesday as a means of focusing public attention on the menace of venereal infections and the necessity for eradication of these plagues.

Leadership in national observation of the day has been taken by the American Social Hygiene association, which is headed by Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of Leland Stanford Jr. university and secretary of the interior under President Hoover.

For Illinois Observance.

In Chicago the Illinois Social Hygiene league, headed by Dr. Rachelle Yarros, professor of social hygiene at the medical school of the University of Illinois, has arranged a luncheon meeting, an afternoon conference and a dinner meeting for Wednesday in the Woman's City club, 6 North Michigan avenue.

The Chicago Medical society has also arranged a program for Wednesday evening in the auditorium of the Medical and Dental Arts building, 185 North Wabash avenue.

Dr. Thomas Parran Jr., surgeon general of the United States, in commenting on the activities of the Hygiene association in promoting these and similar programs, said:

"This association has been and continues to be an ally of the health and medical professions in their battle against syphilis and gonoccocal infections. Its work is particularly needed just now to arouse community interest, to explain the measures approved at the conference on venereal disease control held in Washington recently, and to secure their practical adaptation to local needs and conditions."

Eradication Possible.

Syphilis and gonorrhea are "two of the most dangerous health enemies which the American family has to fear today," said Dr. Wilbur. He added that syphilis could be wiped out in one generation if the medical profession had an opportunity to apply the knowledge at its command.

"When every American family sees that the children coming forward in each generation are taught the truth about these diseases, how to avoid them and what to do if infected, we shall no longer see our young manhood and young womanhood their chief victims," said Dr. Wilbur. "When every expectant mother asks her doctor to make sure that no syphilis infection lurking in her blood stream threatens her baby, we shall not count each year a tragc toll of prenatal and infant deaths.

"When every community realizes its obligation to give its young people wholesome surroundings, free from degrading amusement places and disease-breeding 'red light' districts, we shall be well on the way toward a further increase in health and happiness for the American people."

PROTECT NOSE AND THROAT THESE DAYS!

Use Nose Drops that "Stay Put"!

Don't trust to old-fashioned nose drops. Use Grove's Emulsified Nose Drops. These nose drops, made by the makers of famous Grove's Bromo Quinine, are different. They're white and creamy. That creaminess holds them up in the nose. It holds them in contact with the mucous membrane. Thus, they can do some good.

Grove's Nose Drops afford an excellent coating of protection for the nose and throat. Any minor irritation or any congestion that starts is quickly checked.

Potent, though pleasant, Grove's Emulsified Nose Drops are preferred by children as well as adults. They don't burn or sting. That's something you mothers will appreciate.

RICH FAVORITE

MAGDA LUPESCU.

VIENNA, Jan. 31. — (AP) — Mme. Magda Lupescu, daughter of a Jewish money lender and intimate friend of King Carol of Rumania, now is considered one of the richest persons in Rumania.

Several other qualified superlatives are applied to this plump red haired "uncrowned queen," who is nearly 40—she is regarded as one of the most retiring, most secretive, and most powerful women in the world. And, reports from circles close to the Rumanian court add, she is one of the shrewdest capitalists in Bucharest. Her stock is widely and cleverly held. She reputedly owns considerable interest in Bucharest banks and newspapers and in a foreign motor company.

These are sources of great power—never openly used, however. For example, new motor contracts for the Rumanian army were placed with the firm in which she owns shares.

Again, her word is said to have carried weight in the way Rumanian newspapers treated the dispatches regarding Edward of England, his love for Mrs. Wallis Simpson, his abdication, and his self-exile. When the cabinet crisis and abdication occurred temporary censorship prevailed in Rumania. The Rumanians were allowed to believe for a while that the abdication of Edward VIII. was the result of social troubles. Finally, however, Rumanian newspapers were again free in the matter because, perhaps, of the dispatches in foreign papers received in Rumania.

Mother Calls Bride Good at Cooking, Sewing.

Sneedville, Tenn., Jan. 31.—(AP)—Shy Eunice Johns, 9 year old bride of two weeks, alternated betwen smiles and tears today as her scripture-quoting mountaineer neighbors bestowed mixed blessings upon her marriage to a man 22 years old.

Rawboned Charlie Johns, clad in new overalls and jumper, the six foot bridegroom, sat by in nervous silence. But not his 33 year old mother-in-law, who had plenty to say in defense of the union.

"The Bible says not to disturb those peacefully getting along, and I don't believe in going against the Bible," firmly declared Mrs. Lewis Winstead.

"If they love one another, then getting married is the thing to do, and if they are to be happy, people should let them alone."

Herself married at 16, Mrs. Winstead is a grandmother and has another daughter, who married at 13.

"Charlie is a good boy," said Mrs. Winstead, beaming with pride as she talked of her new son-in-law. "He's a hard worker. He bought forty acres a few days ago so they could have a home. Of course, understand I haven't brought my children up to marry what men has got but to marry for love."

Mrs. Winstead heatedly denied Eunice, bright-faced, blue-eyed child, is interested in dolls. "Charlie bought her a nice big doll for Christmas, but she only played with it a few times," she said. "Eunice is interested in sewing and I taught her to help me cook and she is as smart as can be about cooking."

"I love Charlie," was all Eunice would say.

Wears Bright Red Dress.

She wore three rings, one a yellow gold band, and one which Mrs. Winstead said was the "gift of a neighbor."

Eunice wore a bright red dress and sweater. Her golden hair tumbled over her shoulders from beneath a blue cap. Until she married Eunice went to school. She reached the third grade. Her husband had some grade schooling.

The Rev. Walter Lamb, red haired Baptist minister, said he performed the ceremony "because they told me they were going to get some one else if I didn't marry them."

Mr. Lamb, 53, sitting before a wood fire in his two room log cabin, recounted the details.

Married Them on Highway.

"They overtook me on the road and said they wanted to marry," he said.

"I noticed the girl looked a little young, but they wouldn't tell me their ages."

They joined hands there in the road and heard the minister read what he said was the "Baptist service.

"I then pronounced them man and wife," he said.

● Well, it has been done! A new organization composed of some of the country's greatest artists in hair design has just been formed. Its name is the American Hair Design Institute. Its purpose is to break away from the extreme, over-elaborate Continental coiffures and develop original American hairstyles, styles that are practical as well as beautiful.

The coiffures pictured here were shown in the January issues of Vogue and Harper's Bazaar. They are lovely to look at, yet easy-to-care-for . . . a typically American idea.

Our Beauty Salon has dedicated itself to the Institute's beauty creed which we are sure will become the strongest hairdressing influence in the country —"American Hairstyles for American Women".

Champ Refuses to Meet Schmeling.

All negotiations, except a few incidentals such as attracting a million dollar gate, breaking a legal contract in New York, and placating ambitious Max Schmeling, were completed yesterday for a heavyweight championship fight in Chicago next June between James Braddock, the title holder, and Joe Louis.

SHELDON CLARK.

JOE GOULD.

The day's developments were:

1. Joe Gould, Braddock's manager, announced in New York that he had accepted an offer of half a million dollars, or an option on 50 per cent of the receipts, made by Sheldon Clark for a bout at Soldiers' field.

2. Mike Jacobs, New York promoter who holds exclusive rights to Louis' services, said he had an appointment with Clark here today to discuss the possibility of the match and Louis' share, whereupon

3. Jimmy Johnston, promoter for Madison Square Garden, which has Braddock under contract for a bout with Schmeling on June 3, roared that "nobody ever broke a Garden contract" and "Gould can't do it!"

4. Schmeling, in Berlin, was nonplussed and said: "It looks like a publicity stunt to build up my match with Braddock," a view which was shared in Chicago fight circles.

5. Jack Kearns, new matchmaker for the Detroit Olympia, who had offered $400,000 for the match, said he would better any and all offers Braddock received and "lay it on the line."

6. Sam McQuade, Madison Square Garden matchmaker, said: "We'll go before the commission and if they don't uphold our contract we'll take legal steps."

Will Ask Forfeit Returned.

Gould said he would appear before the New York commission this week and ask the return of the $5,000 forfeit check posted as evidence of Braddock's "good faith" in signing articles for the Schmeling fight after the commission had designated Schmeling as the No. 1 heavyweight challenger.

"I'm going through with the Louis fight, even if the commission won't return the five grand," Gould stated.

"The fight will draw a million dollar gate," he continued. "I want to be fair to Schmeling, but I got to take care of Jim. I have taken a poll among boxing experts and have done some quiet investigating on my own hook and I am convinced a Schmeling fight can't draw $200,000. Therefore I must accept this $500,000 offer. It looks like a lot of money to me."

Fears Schmeling Boycott.

Since Braddock and Schmeling signed with the Garden the second time, their first contract having been nullified by an attack of arthritis in the champion's hand, the Anti-Nazi league has announced a boycott of the fight on the ground that Schmeling is a "German product." Gould referred to this as a "political situation that has arisen and will affect Schmeling's drawing power."

Jacobs, who is interested in the Schmeling fight to the extent of 50 per cent of the profits, was more in-

1,100 TO FIGHT IN GOLDEN GLOVES SECTIONAL BOUTS

More than 1,100 amateur boxers will compete in the four Chicago Golden Gloves sectionals, the first of which will start next Monday night at the Madison Athletic club, 4711 Madison street. This estimate was based on the number of entries received for the final physical examination which will be held Wednesday night at Trafton's gymnasium, 180 West Randolph street.

All boys who send in entries are required to report for physical examinations. The last group of entries —the deadline was Saturday midnight—was received yesterday. These boys, and all those who had been assigned to previous examinations but who could not appear, are eligible for this last examination. There are 814 boys on the lists now. It is expected that 300 more will pass this final examination, completing the list of Chicago boxers ready for the tenth annual tournament sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.

2,400 Letters Received.

More than 2,400 letters were received by the tournament officials. A high percentage of these, some because they lived in suburban towns, others because of illness or conflict with employment, could not report for physical examinations. The rule that contestants must be examined cannot be waived. Approximately 7 per cent of the boys examined so far have been rejected by physicians.

The number of contestants will require two rings on the first night of all Chicago sectionals. There will be no sectional which will require three rings. Last year the exceptionally large number of boxers in the north side tournament at Loyola university forced the tournament committee to use three rings on the opening night. That has been avoided this year by creating the northwest sectional at Marigold Gardens, Broadway and Grace street, which will open a week from tomorrow night.

South Side Largest Meet.

The south side tournament, which opens Feb. 10 at White City, again will be the largest sectional meet. This always will be true because of the large territory south and southwest of the loop. Consequently, the south side tournament will be held on six nights, concluding on Feb. 18, the same evening that north side qualifiers for the Tournament of Champions are named at Loyola.

All Chicago tournaments will start at 7 o'clock each evening. Admission to all sessions is 75 cents. Seats are not reserved. Contestants will report at each tournament between 4 and 6 p. m. on the night to which they have been assigned. After physical examinations pairings will be made by lot.

The list of timers for the sectionals and the Tournament of Champions includes the following officials: William Finn, William J. Dowling, S. R. Darwent, J. J. Lipp, W. W. Adams, Herman Henning, Harry Normoyle, Charles Sidebotham, Theodore A. Gross, Walter Sonnenleiter, Harry O'Hare, and James Masker.

THE END OF A LONG, LONG SEASON

Little Defeats Christian in Coast Tourney

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 31.—(AP)—Lawson Little proved invincible at match play golf today when he defeated Neil Christian of Yakima, Wash., on the 20th hole to win the $5,000 San Francisco match play open tournament.

In the same relentless fashion which saw him twice win the American and British amateur crowns, Little crushed his opposition during the first three rounds, faltered in the final match, then finished in top form to win on the second extra hole.

From the 15th to the 18th greens, Little three-putted. Meanwhile, Christian won four holes and turned the match from a one-sided affair to a fighting finish.

Little Gets Birdie.

They halved the first hole in par fours. Little went one up on the second with a birdie four after Christian's drive hit a spectator and his fourth was dubbed.

Christian stymied Little to win the sixth with a par 3, but Little reciprocated on the next hole to go two up again. They halved the eighth in pars, Christian missing an eight footer.

Little went 3 up by winning the ninth with a birdie 3, dropping his second within eight feet of the cup.

Little was three up as they turned the ninth, with a 35, one under par, against Christian's 39. The one time king of amateurs dropped a 20 foot putt at the fourteenth to go four up, Christian missing from 6 feet.

Little's ball was trapped on the 15th. He was out weakly and used three putts. Christian needed 4 for the par 4 test, but he won the hole.

Christian parred the next three holes as Little apparently lost his putting magic. He three putted the 16th, 17th, 18th, missing an 18 inch putt on the last hole for victory. They halved the first extra hole in par 4's.

On the second 500 yards Little pitched his third up for an easy putt, dropped a birdie 4 and clinched a match he had almost had in his pocket seven holes before.

Lazzeri Gets the Player of Year Award

The writers voted Lazzeri as the player of the year because of his comeback, coupled with record slugging performances during the regular season and in the world series.

Jackson, who has closed a fifteen year career in the majors, was chosen for the award recognizing meritorious service in baseball over a long period.

Both players will be formally honored at the annual Baseball Writers' banquet Feb. 7. The selections were announced by James P. Dawson of the New York Times, chapter chairman.

Helps Develop Youngsters.

Lazzeri will receive a plaque which in four previous years has been voted to Lou Gehrig of the Yankees, Hank Greenberg of the Detroit Tigers, Carl Hubbell of the Giants, and Dizzy Dean of the Cardinals.

The veteran Yankee second baseman achieved extraordinary heights in a year in which he played 150 games at second base and staged an all-around return to form after being considered through. He is credited with having had much to do with the development of Frankie Crosetti and Joe Di Maggio.

By hitting a home run with the bases full in the second game of the world series Lazzeri equaled two records. He shared a new record with Bill Dickey by driving home a total of five runs in the same contest.

Lazzeri, who came up from Salt Lake City in the Pacific coast league, won a regular infield job with the Yankees in his first year, 1926. His best batting year was 1929, when he hit .354. His lifetime average for eleven seasons is close to .300. Last year he hit .287 and drove in 109 runs.

Twelve thousand loyalists saw the Blackhawks absorb their 18th loss of the season and their fifth at the hands of the Montreal Maroons, who triumphed, 2 to 1, last night at the Stadium. They also saw a third period which produced all the goals of the evening and perhaps the most rapid hocky that has been crowded into 20 minutes here this season.

The Maroons scored first on a long shot by Jimmy Ward, but the Hawks tied it up a bit less than six minutes later on a swell play which enabled Johnny Gottselig to count on passes by Glenn Brydson and Pete Palangio. Then, with four minutes and 10 seconds of the regular time to go, that ornery old cuss, Lionel Conacher, set up a play for Baldy Northcott, who slashed in the winning goal.

Scoreless, but Active.

The Maroons have won only 11 games this season, but five of them have been in as many tries against the Hawks, once managed to a world championship by Tommy Gorman, now manager of the Maroons, which is prima facie evidence that Gorman and his man Conacher ought to be interred or something.

The first period, though nonproductive, was rough and merry, each side skating quite furiously until the last two minutes when Blair was waved into the penalty box for hooking.

It was through no lack of trying by the Hawks that the second period was a scoreless session. The Chicagoans, especially Gottselig, Palangio, and Seibert, gave the visitors quite a few anxious moments during the course of the period. Beveridge was obliged to make seven startling saves to thwart the Hawks.

Ward's breaking of the scoreless tie by the nature of the effort itself came as a big surprise to everybody, including Goalie Karakas. Ward glided slowly over the middle of the blue line, braced and cut loose when not more than two feet inside the Hawk defense zone. The low, hard shot whizzed right past Karakas, who didn't even get a piece of the rubber. The time was 1:05.

Hawks Tie Score.

The Hawk's tying marker was the result of a nice series of passes on which Gottselig scored in 6:56. Palangio slammed a hard shot off Beveridge's boots and the puck bounded to the Hawks' left boards where it was retrieved by Brydson. Brydson passed out to Gottselig in front of the cage and Johnny shot the goal from close in.

The Maroons put over the winner in 15:50 on a neat demonstration of collaboration by Northcott and Conacher. Conacher carried the rubber the length of the rink into the Hawk defense zone, then started crisscrossing with Northcott. When he found himself in possession of the puck on the brink of the cage, Northcott shot home the victory tally.

ENGEBRETSEN'S 35 YARD PLACE KICK SNAPS TIE

Wipes Out Chicago's 14 Point Rally.

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 31.—The battle for supremacy between the Green Bay Packers and Chicago Bears, which began when the National pro league football season opened last September, was ended today when Paul Engebretsen, former Northwestern star, stood on the 35 yard line in the last 30 seconds of play and place kicked a field goal that gave Green Bay a 17 to 14 triumph and an edge in the season's series.

JOE LAWS.

TINY ENGEBRETSEN.

Nine thousand spectators watched the game, played on the soggy field of Gilmore stadium in Hollywood, where the teams battled to a 20 to 20 tie last week.

Green Bay had sufficient punch in the line to earn two touchdowns in the first quarter, but the crippled Bears rallied to tie the score on touchdowns in the second and third periods, then behind the spectacular play of George Musso, Joe Stydahar, and Luke Johnsos, took the ball on their one yard line early in the fourth quarter after Paul Miller, a back field sub, had streaked 63 yards with a punt to put the ball in scoring position.

Nagurski Is Hurt.

A few minutes later the Packers, who had disdained the field goal from so short a distance, were forced to try for one from the 36 yard line, where three of Arnold Herber's long forward passes had been batted down. Ad Schwammel, standing on the 45 yard line, missed the attempt.

Chicago was equally impotent on line plays and Jack Manders gambled for three points standing on his own 43 yard line, a 57 yard attempt. Ernie Smith blocked the attempt, recovered the ball when a teammate blocked off Masterson, and ran to the 25 yard line. On next to the last play of the game Engebretsen deftly kicked the ball between the uprights for the winning margin.

There was time for only one more play, and that was an incomplete pass by John Doehring, the Bears' long distance southpaw passer, who had gone in at right half back after an injury to Bronko Nagurski's leg forced the big fellow out of the game in what may be his permanent retirement from pro football. Manders filled in for Nagurski

Packers Score Quickly.

George Sauer and Joe Laws crowned two line onslaughts with touchdowns in the first seven minutes of play. The Bears came back with passes in the second quarter and two completions, Masterson to Johnsos for 27 yards, and Masterson to Karr for 20, advanced the ball to Green Bay's 12 yard line.

The Packers held for downs on the 16 yard line after Schwammel and Scherer had thrown Masterson and Nolting for losses of 2 yards apiece.

On the next play, Bob Monnett fumbled the pass from center and Milton Trost recovered for the Bears on Green Bay's 12 yard line. Masterson tried to pass, but saw a chance to run and, with Oech and Manders

MARQUART SEEKS NINTH VICTORY IN MANRIQUEZ BOUT

Has Unblemished Record as Professional.

Billy Marquart, Winnipeg, Man., featherweight challenger, who has an unblemished record as a professional, tonight will meet Al Manriquez of Sioux City, Ia., in an eight round return bout at Marigold Gardens, Broadway and Grace street. A cofeature at eight rounds will involve Pat Robertson, aggressive New York 128 pounder, and Paul Lee, Indianapolis.

Marquart, who represented Canada in his class in the Olympic tournament at Berlin last year, will be out to extend his streak to nine victories. One of his earlier victims was Manriquez, whom he beat on a technical knockout at the 124th Field Artillery armory Dec. 12. Manriquez, who conquered Robertson and knocked out George Feist in earlier battles here, disputed the decision.

Oki Shikina, Japanese heavyweight wrestler, and Jack Conley of Boston tonight will engage in a jiu jitsu exhibition at White City, 63d street and South Park avenue. The match is set for 60 minutes. Frankie Hart and Bill Brooks will be opponents in a secondary feature listed for 30 minutes. Other encounters match Frankie Talaber with Paul Miller, Danny Russo with Bairam Bey, and Johnny Silvy with Ken Fenlon.

◆

Subsequent to his scheduled ten round contest with Merle Thompson, St. Louis featherweight, at Majestic arena Wednesday, Leo Rodak will battle Wishy Jones at Houston, Tex., Feb. 9. . . . George Mansor has been signed to meet Andy Moen in a featured bout of the wrestling show at Rainbo Fronton Wednesday. . . . Joe Louis will make his next appearance at Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 17. His antagonist will be Natie Brown, who went the distance with the former Chicago Golden Gloves champion last year at Detroit. . . . Davey Day, recognized as No. 1 lightweight challenger by the Illinois boxing commission, yesterday was paired with Lou Ambers, division titleholder, in a ten round nontitle conflict at the New York Hippodrome Feb. 10. Other scraps at the Hippodrome involve Otis Thomas, 1934 Golden Gloves heavyweight king, and Arturo Godoy, Wednesday, and Gunnar Barlune, heavyweight from Finland, and Nathan Mann, Feb. 17.

MEL JONES WINS CHICAGO PARKS ICE YACHT MEET

Four races were held on a three mile triangular course. Jones, representing Garfield park, won the class E race, the free-for-all, and the Chicago Ice Yacht club invitational race. Orville Sonntag's entry, Silver Streak, won the 100 square foot class event, for Gage park. In both the free-for-all and class E races, Jones was followed at the finish line by Dick Kaup of Marquette park. Erwin Wilzbach of Ridge park, was third in the free-for-all.

A. R. [Nap] Prager, commodore of the Penquin Ice Yacht club, won the opening event. T. E. [Ted] Mead, commodore of the Zero club, was in third place as he rounded the leeward buoy, but lost his position when he rounded sharply and a runner plank broke on his racer, the Minx.

BY OFFSIDE.

The Sparta Garden City professional soccer champions had little trouble winning from the Olympia team, 5 to 0, yesterday in the second round of the national cup series at Sparta stadium.

Sparta, with the aid of a strong wind, scored all its goals in the first period. Wright started the scoring for Sparta, working the ball down the left. Pearson crossed for Monro to score with a hard drive. Kratochvil had no chance to get to the ball. Twelve minutes later Fidler put the professionals two up with a well taken goal high into the net out of the reach of the goalkeeper. Five minutes later Wright added number three from a scrimmage close in.

Olympia tried to reduce the lead, but Scott and Murnka put up a splendid defense.

Sparta added another goal when Fidler, catching a ball that rebounded from the goalkeeper, kicked over the line, and Rezak, who took Monro's place after he had been injured, scored from a corner kick, the ball crossing the line over the goalkeeper's head, a feat seldom accomplished.

MARINO RETAINS AMERICAN MATCH BOWLING TITLE

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 31.—(AP)—Hank Marino of Milwaukee retained his American match bowling championship by a margin of 20.36 pins tonight at the conclusion of his 120 game title series with Joe Miller of Buffalo, N. Y., title holder in 1934.

The champion spilled 2,376 pins for a 237.6 average in the last block of ten games, the highest average of any block in the series, but was hard pressed all the way by Miller, who averaged 231.5 on 2,315 pins. Miller won six of the games and one was tied.

Marino, who built up a big lead in the first thirty games on Miller's home alleys, led throughout the match, which consisted of four thirty game blocks, one in Buffalo, one in Cleveland, one in Detroit, and one here.

Packers Whip Bears, 17-14, in Last Minute blocking out an opening, went around the Packers' right end for a touchdown.

Bears Tie Score.

The Bears opened the second half with a devastating attack. Manders ran the kickoff back 39 yards to his own 34 yard line and three line plays moved it up fourteen yards. Manders threw a thirty yard pass to Luke Johnson, who made a miraculous catch as he fell sprawling on the Packers' 22 yard line. Nagurski took a pass from Corbett to the 8 yard line, where he was nudged out of bounds by Svendsen and Bruder.

Nagurski was hurt on the play and a doctor ordered him out of the game, but he stayed to open a hole for Corbett on a three yard plunge. On the next play Manders went around left end after faking a shovel pass to Corbett. Manders kicked the tying point.

The Packers' subsequent attack was interrupted while Coach Lambeau ran on the field to protest to Referee Bill Lopez after Monnett was thrown twice for losses totaling 27 yards. Lambeau claimed a Bear player was unnecessarily rough in tackling Laws, who was carried off with a leg injury.

Santa Maria and Carroll Keep Lead in K. of C. League

Carroll, built up a 14 to 3 lead in the first half and hung to that margin to defeat Calumet, 28 to 22, while Santa Maria rallied in the final minutes to whip St. Cyr, 25 to 19. In the other game, Loyola-Hyde Park kept in the running for first place with a 30 to 23 victory over Cardinal.

◆

The Santa Maria-St. Cyr contest was one of the most thrilling in recent league competition. With brilliant guarding marking the play, Santa Maria led at the half, 7 to 6. The margin was widened to four points, but St. Cyr rallied to take a 19 to 15 lead. Then, with hardly three minutes left to play, Barder, Sotak and Motz sank baskets to put Santa Maria in front and clinch victory.

◆

Sykora paced Carroll, the league champion, to its victory over Calumet. Loyola-Hyde Park, for the second week in a row, came from behind to win its game. Cardinal led at the half, 12 to 8, and maintained the margin well into the second period, but brilliant floor work by Tim Meehan and accurate shooting by Emsley, Gilmour and Egan enabled Loyola-Hyde Park to finally take and hold the lead.

Timid Ducks Easy Prey of Many Enemies

BY BOB BECKER.

Building exposed nests, possessing little courage and depending on flight or diving to escape their enemies, the ducks of North America have a none too easy time during the course of the year.

Big turtles will make small ducklings their victims and feed upon them in certain breeding areas. Knowing something of the voracious habits of the muskalunge, it is reasonable to believe that this fish must account for some young ducks during the course of the year.

But even before the hen duck has hatched a clutch of eggs the crows stand ready to raid the nest. Observers in the Canadian breeding grounds have seen crows destroy many duck nests.

False Nests Poisoned.

When a duck leaves its nest the waiting crows swoop down and eat the eggs. The owner of a waterfowl reserve in Wisconsin reports so much destruction of duck nests by crows that he resorts to false nests filled with eggs that have been treated with poison in order to kill the crows that continually raid waterfowl nests. Ducks nesting on ponds on the experimental farm are the target of crow raids to get the eggs in nests.

Several times we have seen ducks being harassed by hawks. The only escape for the birds was to dive under water. One afternoon when we were in the Oregon lake county below Burns, Ore., we saw this happen twice. The hawk making the second attack was after young ducks on the water. The hawk swooped and presto! There wasn't a duck to be seen because the five ducklings with the old hen had disappeared by lightning quick dives.

Duck Hawks a Menace.

Waterfowl may escape even the duck hawk, a predator noted for its speed, power, and courage, if the duck has a chance to dive into water. "Gamekeeper" reports seeing a duck hawk pursue a teal in Texas. He was near a large water trough when a teal whizzed by and dove into the trough. There was a duck hawk just behind. The hawk was so bold and fearless [typical of the independence and rapacity of the bird] that it ignored the man standing near by. It perched on the side of the trough and as the duck came up for air it soared away to seize it. The duck was exhausted and unable to dive again when "Gamekeeper" killed its pursuer and thus saved the life of the teal.

MAROONS MEET OHIO; SEEK 1ST VICTORY TONIGHT

Week's Schedule

TONIGHT.
Indiana at Ball State [Muncie, Ind.].
Chicago at Ohio State.
De Paul at North Central.

WEDNESDAY.
North Dakota at Iowa.
Purdue at Notre Dame.

SATURDAY.
Indiana at Iowa.
Ohio State at Minnesota.
Marquette at Northwestern.
Michigan State at Wisconsin.
Illinois at Notre Dame.
Loyola at Chicago.
De Paul at St. Louis.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Chicago's Maroons, who seem headed toward completing a second Big Ten campaign without a victory, meet Ohio State tonight at Columbus. Saturday night, the Buckeyes, if victorious over Chicago, will play at Minneapolis, the winner taking third place in the current race. However, basketball news this week will be made at Notre Dame.

On Wednesday night Purdue plays the Irish. On Saturday the Illini, leading the Boilermakers in the Western conference race by half a game, are Notre Dame's guests. This pair of games is the peak of the Notre Dame season. They are expected to set an all-time attendance record.

Illini Whip Purdue.

Purdue probably has the edge over Illinois in rivalry with Notre Dame, although the Illini defeated the Irish, 44 to 29, in the first game of that series at Champaign. Illinois also holds the only victory of the year over Purdue, a 38 to 37 conquest at Lafayette two weeks ago. But Purdue is the team Notre Dame would rather beat, not only for the rivalry between these two Hoosier universities, the rivalry between their veteran and remarkably successful coaches, Ward Lambert of Purdue and George Keogan of Notre Dame, but because the Boilermakers whipped the Irish two years ago, 54 to 40.

Purdue also is defending co-champion of the conference and still very much in the race for this year's title. The Boilermakers play furiously. All their players can score. And 6,000 will be jammed into the bleachers at Notre Dame Wednesday night hoping that the Irish quintet will be at top form. If Moir, Nowak, Meyer, Wukowits, and Brown are ready, and the Irish have rested since their eastern trip which brought victories over Pennsylvania and Western Reserve, this game may easily be one of the greatest of the year.

The Illinois game at Notre Dame, to a degree, depends on the outcome Wednesday night. Should Notre Dame whip Purdue, enthusiasm will run high, as the Irish seek a revenge verdict over the Illini.

Ohio Can Tie Purdue.

Ohio State can go into a tie with Purdue for second place in the conference race by whipping Chicago tonight. The Buckeyes lost to Indiana, 43 to 36. They have beaten Wisconsin, Minnesota, and Michigan. Chicago has lost six Big Ten games. The Maroons' best game of the campaign was played on their home court when they lost to Michigan in overtime, 35 to 29. At Ann Arbor a week later, however, the Wolverines whipped Chicago, 32 to 19. Chicago gave Illinois a battle at Champaign, losing 28 to 22, after leading midway in the second half.

SET TEN MARKS IN MILWAUKEE SILVER SKATES

BY CHARLES NEVADA.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 31.—Ten records were broken and another equaled today in a series of unprecedented performances in the seventh annual Milwaukee Silver Skates races, major victories in which went to Gerald Guttormsen of Kenosha and Regina Schroeder, Oconomowoc. Competition was held at Gordon park before a crowd of 10,000.

Guttormsen, entered under the standard of the Auto Acceptance corporation of Milwaukee, won a pair of sterling silver skates, offered for the high point scorer in the men's Class A group. Guttormsen, who captured first places in the 220 yard race and the one mile test, finished with a total of 80 points, 30 more than his nearest pursuer. He set a new mark in taking the longer race.

Wins in Skateoff.

Miss Schroeder, entered from the Oconomowoc Skate club, and Marie Kaczmierczak of South Milwaukee, skating as a teammate of Guttormsen, tied at the end of the regulation program, each with 60 points. Officials then ordered a skateoff over 220 yards and Miss Schroeder won by a comfortable margin. She previously had taken another furlong test and a race at one mile. Today's winners succeed Joseph Yanz and Isabel Becker, both of Beaver Dam, as Silver Skates king and queen.

Robert Goodman, racing for the Poenisch A. C. of Milwaukee, and Bernard Mack of the Beaver Dam Skate club, each set two new records while coming through with perfect performances in their classes. Goodman won the 440 and one mile sprints for Class B men, while Mack swept to victory in the 220 and 440 for junior boys. Other records were hung up in the men's Class A two miles, the senior women's one mile, the boys' intermediate 220, 880, and one mile events and in the juveline boys' 220 yard sprint. William Schmitt of Milwaukee tied the Class A men's record for the half mile.

Oconomowoc Wins Again.

The Oconomowoc Skate club, coached by E. A. [Shorty] Kersten, carried off the team trophy for the third successive year with a total of 270 points, nearly twice the aggregate of its closest rival, the Acceptance corporation.

Today's Silver Skate races, postponed from Jan. 1 and Jan. 3 because of unfavorable weather, attracted a total of 411 entrants, the largest for an event of this kind in Wisconsin. Approximately half of those enrolled were present. The meet was sanctioned by Wisconsin Skating association and staged with the help of its members.

SET SKATE RECORDS

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 31.—(AP)—Three new national records were bettered as a fast field of athletes opened competition today in the annual two day North American indoor skating championships, a feature attraction of St. Paul's winter carnival.

Ralph Hachenbach of Chicago clipped almost four seconds off the old record of 5:58.3 in the senior men's two mile event when he made it in 5:54.8. The previous record was made by Alex Hurd of St. Louis in 1935.

Boy Sets Two Records.

The other two records were bettered by Byron Moe of Minneapolis in the intermediate boys' class.

The Minneapolis youth sped over the 220 yard course in 20.8 seconds. The previous mark of :22 was held jointly by Howard Malone and Howard Speed, both of Detroit and made in 1928.

Dorothy Franey of St. Paul, defending her women's indoor title, won both the 220 and 880 yard events to take a commanding lead. Her nearest competitors were Shirley Jameson of Chicago and Florence Hurd of Sudbury, Ont.

SET 4 MARKS IN CENTRAL A. A. U. WEIGHT LIFTING

Ray Garcia of the German-American A. C. lifted 205 pounds in the clean and jerk event to set a new record in the second annual Central A. A. U. weight lifting meet last night at the Chicago Weight Lifting club, 2065 Roosevelt road. Garcia competed in the 132 pound division. His feat broke the old mark by ten pounds.

Three other records were established. Al Von Nezal of the same club totaled 525 pounds in the 148 pound class; Eddie Vodak, Mid-City club, 580 pounds in the 165 pound class, and Elmer Freckelton, Englewood Y. M. C. A., 630 pounds in the 181 pound division.

The Chicago Weight Lifting club won the team title with 14 points. The other point winners were German-American A. C., 11; Mid-City, 8; Englewood Y. M. C. A., 5, and Decatur, Ill., 4 points.

Michigan Club to Hear Kipke at Luncheon Today

The meeting of the University of Michigan club of Chicago in Mandel Brothers' green room this noon, at which Coach Harry Kipke is to speak, will also be a reunion of members of Michigan's class of 1924. Kipke was graduated in that class. Kipke will review Michigan's football record and discuss prospects for 1937.

terested in the German's drawing account. Schmeling owes him $31,000. Unless Schmeling fights in this country he apparently is without means of collecting, since Hitler has legislated against the transfer of money out of Germany.

Jacobs Meets with Foley.

Jacobs conferred with Joe Foley, Chicago promoter, yesterday. Foley assisted Jacobs in the promotion of the Louis-Levinsky fight here in 1935 and is expected to represent him if Braddock should meets Louis at Soldiers' field. In addition to the Braddock business, Jacobs also signed articles for a match between Louis and Natie Brown at Kansas City next month. Brown is one of the six men to go the limit with Louis.

Meanwhile, local fight followers pondered the possibility of a million dollar gate, imperative for the fight if Braddock is to receive half that amount. No fight has drawn a million dollars since Gene Tunney defended his title against Jack Dempsey at Soldier field in 1927. The nearest approach was the Max Baer-Louis fight, in which gross receipts, including $143,000 taxes, totaled only $948,352. Louis' showing against Pastor and his knockout by Schmeling undoubtedly would play prominent parts in the publicity for such a bout and neither is apt to boost ticket sales.

Julian Black, co-manager of Louis, announced the colored heavyweight was admitted to a Detroit hospital yesterday to have x-rays made of his nose, injured in his ten round victory in New York Friday over Bob Pastor, whom Gould described as "an eight dollar fighter." If no serious injury is revealed, Louis will go to Black's Stevensville, Wis., farm to rest.

VINES DEFEATS PERRY; TAKES LEAD OF 8 TO 5

Miami Beach, Fla., Jan. 31.—(AP)—Ellsworth Vines stretched his barnstorming lead over Fred Perry to eight matches to five today, defeating the Englishman, 5-7, 7-5, 6-4.

Bruce Barnes defeated George Lott, 6-2, 6-4, in a preliminary match. Vines and Perry teamed to defeat Barnes and Lott, 6-4, 5-7, 10-8, in a doubles match.

De Paul Quintet, North Central to Clash Tonight

The De Paul university basketball team and North Central college will clash at Merner fieldhouse in Naperville tonight in the first contest of a home and home series. A capacity crowd of 2,500 is expected to view the game, the sixth basketball meeting between the two schools.

The contest will mark the return to the De Paul lineup of Nick Yost, high scoring center who has been on the sidelines with injuries. Knez, who starred in the Blue Demons' victory over Chicago Saturday night, and Campion are expected to start at the forwards, with Phillips and Wendt opening at guards.

In an effort to add speed to North Central's attack, Coach Len Beiber will send John Tiefenthal, diminutive sophomore forward from Maywood, to forward. North Central has split even in eight games this season, one of its losses being to Western State Teachers, who also whipped De Paul.

Probable lineups:

CONSERVATIVE SPENDERS.

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 31.—[Special.]—Florida's most profitable crop—winter visitors and tourists—so far this season has proved disappointing to more optimistic sponsors of expensive hotels, apartment houses, night clubs and hot spots. Conservative places are satisfied with the peak of the season yet to come.

Apparently there are more people in this sector than ever before, either during the land boom of 1925 or before the depression. Likewise there are many more places to house, dine and wine them. Many of these places were financed with the idea that returning prosperity would prove plenty of "throw away" spenders of the old days. True, this class is numerous, but their patronage, spread over more places, is thinner. Therefore, some of the high charging niches already have lowered dinner and minimum charges. Those still holding out look to February and March to get back their "nut" as the amusement verbiage goes.

As a result of conditions, persons wishing to engage houses or apartments for the remainder of the season, by shopping about a bit, find accommodations at about last season's level, or a little less—and where landlords become panicky at a substantial discount from asked prices. All this, of course, does not mean that prices are cheap, even low, compared to those of two or three years ago, during the depression.

Dinners with floor show accompaniment, liquors extra, still command $5 or $4, or an equivalent minimum charge, but those customers expecting and willing to pay that amount possess adult money, not the childish foolish coin of the realm circulating back in 1929 and 1930. They expect something for that money, and there are not enough of them to keep alive all the places, many of them New York owned, willing and anxious to provide fun and merriment.

Wide and Handsome.

Tropical Park race track closed its first meeting far ahead of last year, both in attendance and mutuel handle. Hialeah, now operating, is continuing the percentage increase. Four dog tracks are operating nightly with large crowds out. People like to gamble, and seemingly expect to lose on the average although walking out from some of the hotels and night club charges.

No one yet has given us a lucid explanation of open gambling operations. One old timer remarked: "Well, it's hot and cold between tolerance and strict enforcement until we don't know where we're at."

We'll investigate that further when our first pay check arrives, although we have no specific instructions from Friend Arch to improve the breed of roulette wheels.

The conservative casual spender finds living accommodations about on the same scale as the last two years, with restaurant charges higher, about as much higher as in their home localities, because of national rise in food products.

Trailer camps are filled to capacity at all available sites. The tincan tourists' camp of former years are not as plentiful, probably because the nomads found Florida living, no matter on what basis, hardly cheap. Moreover they are no longer welcome generally.

Within two weeks it is anticipated that all accommodations, both moderate priced and even exorbitant, will be at least comfortably filled by the influx to "America's Playground." It is only because of so much new building they are not filled now. Milder weather in the north, flood conditions, and the fact that many business men find they have a business again, delayed the hegira to these parts.

Caption Flood Waters.

Coming from Chicago via St. Louis and Memphis, we were only fourteen hours late at our destination, all lost up in the flood district while the train was feeling its way through Missouri and Arkansas before recrossing the Mississippi at Memphis. We saw plenty of housetops, swirling water on both sides of the highly banked tracks but no denizens of the territory where the levee broke. It all looked safe enough from inside the train but we were mighty glad we decided to ship the old bus instead of fording the flood waters in it.

Iowa Invites Three Coaches to Discuss Job

Iowa City, Ia., Jan. 31.—[Special.]—The Iowa board of athletics announced after a meeting today that three candidates for the football coaching job, Ira Tubbs of Miami university, Matty Bell of Southern Methodist, and Arthur [Dutch] Bergman of Catholic university, Washington, D. C., will be invited to Iowa City to confer with the board at the earliest opportunity.

It was announced that an attempt would be made to have the three candidates come to Iowa City Thursday, at which time a meeting of the board would be held. Tubbs will try to be on hand Thursday, but may not arrive until Friday or Saturday.

The announcement said the board had not committed itself to any one of the three men it wishes to look over, and that it may decide in a few days to call one or two other coaches here for conferences.

Decision to call the trio followed a scouting trip taken last week by Prof. C. M. Updegraff, chairman of the athletic board, and Ernest G. [Dad] Schroeder, newly appointed athletic director. Prof Updegraff interviewed both Tubbs and Bergman at Washington, D. C., and Schroeder talked with Bell at Dallas, Tex.

DETROIT BEATS BOSTON, 2 TO 1; KILREAS STAR

Brothers Score Both of Red Wing Goals.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 31.—(AP)—The Kilrea brothers enabled the pace setting Detroit Red Wings to come from behind and beat the Bruins, 2 to 1, in a National Hocky league game tonight before 15,000 at the Boston Garden.

The Bruins, who have won only one home game this month, losing five and tying another, took command of the action early in the first period when Lorne Duguid celebrated his recall from the Providence International-American club by caging a shot that Bun Cook had bounced off the Detroit back boards.

The speedy Wings, however, pulled even in the second period when Hec Kilrea scored his second goal of the season, with the assistance of his brother Wally and Pete Kelley. Early in the final session Wally lashed an easy fifteen foot angle shot that struck Allan Shields on his left side and bounced into the cage for the score that gave the visitors their fifth consecutive triumph over the Boston forces.

New York, Jan. 31.—(AP)—The Montreal Canadiens, minus such injured stars as Howie Morenz, Peter Lepine and Walter Buswell, conquered the New York Americans, 3 to 2, tonight in an overtime National Hocky league contest.

Alec Woods, the International American league's spare goalie, guarded the American net in place of Alfie Moore, who shut out the Canadien in last night's 4 to 0 game at Montreal.

BRITISH PAPER REPORTS WORLD INDUSTRY GAINS

International Trade Moves Less Rapidly.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 31.—World economic activity today is on a higher level than ever before, according to the Economist, which, in the current issue, reviews the nature and significance of economic changes and the relative prosperity of nations since the depression.

Both world industrial activity and the volume of international trade, the Economist pointed out, suffered in the headlong decline between 1929 and 1932.

From 1932 onward, however, industrial activity and the volume of world trade began to expand again. But while industrial activity in 1935 was only about 5 per cent below the 1929 level and has since exceeded it, the revival in international trade proceeded at a considerably slower rate.

Effects of Depression.

The depression and subsequent recovery in the various countries of the world have been far from uniform, the Economist states. Industrial countries suffered from a severe contraction of production and from unemployment, while the population of agricultural countries had to accept a marked reduction in the monetary value of their products and hence in their standards of living.

The Economist's index of industrial production for twenty-two countries emphasizes the unevenness of the recovery movement. With 1929 equalling 100, the industrial production of the United States dropped to 53.8 in 1932 and then rose to 75.6 in 1935 and 86.9 in the period January to November, 1936. On the same basis, the United Kingdom's totals were 83.5 in 1932, 105.7 in 1935 and 114.1 for the period January to September last year.

Japan Makes Gain.

Corresponding figures for Japan were: 97.8 for 1932, 141.8 in 1935 and 146.9 in the January to September period, 1936. Germany: 53.3 in 1932, 94.0 in 1935 and 105.0 for January to October, 1936. Canada: 68.8 in 1932, 67.4 in 1935 and 70.4 for January to November, 1936. Soviet Russia: 183.4 in 1932, 293.4 in 1935 and 362.3 in January to August, 1936.

The majority of industrial countries, it was indicated, reached the lowest level of the depression in 1932. Some, including Great Britain, and most of the others which left the gold standard in 1931 and 1932, not only equalled but surpassed their predepression level of activity.

But the United States' volume of industrial production last year was still appreciably below 1929, according to the Economist.

In the last few months, however, world recovery tended to become more general and the expansion of industrial activity reached a stage where the world's output of primary products can again be sold at remunerative prices.

PLACES $11,000,000 VALUE ON ASSETS ONCE GIVEN AS $1

New York, Jan. 31.—[Special.]—The rise in security prices last year enabled the United States and Foreign Securities corporation to revalue at more than 11 million dollars investments which it had carried at the nominal price of $1 each since June 30, 1931, its report for 1936 discloses. Chief among the revaluations was the trust's $9,497,704 investment in the United States and International Securities corporation.

Ernest B. Tracy, president of United States and Foreign, said in the report that, based on the underlying assets of United States and International, the value of the former company's investment in the latter was about $11,600,000, and that, therefore, the board had decided to restore to surplus the reserve against this investment and again to carry it as of Dec. 31 last at cost of $9,497,704. Other investments carried at $1 were given estimated fair values of $1,671,569 on Dec. 31.

After this revision, the net assets of United States and Foreign had an indicated value on Dec. 31 of about $56,635,000, or about $269 a share of first preferred stock.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Frank Ridgway

Pasture Problem.

January 31, 1937.

THE efficient management of pastures to prevent wasting of feed and to hold down labor costs is becoming of increasing importance on THE TRIBUNE'S experimental farms, where more emphasis is being placed on the maintenance and upbuilding of the fertility of the land. With soil conservation being stressed more and more it may be expected that acreage of pastures will be increased. At the same time attempts to get more land in grasses and legumes have been disappointing in the last few years because of unfavorable summers and winters.

Increasing the pasture land calls for revision of the live stock breeding and feeding programs. More grazing land encourages the production of cattle and sheep. Up to the present time the Tribune farm at Yorkville has depended primarily upon the western range for feeder cattle. The farm manager is now attempting in a small way to start a breeding herd of pure bred cattle.

Oats Less in Demand.

The farm managers realize that with changes in crops, addition of new crops, and the expansion of grazing land, they are faced with other problems in both breeding and feeding. Oats still is an old standby nurse crop in starting new pastures and meadows. But the demand for oats as a cash commercial grain continues to dwindle year after year. There are other grains more valuable as feed, and there is a limit to the amount of oats that can be raised and fed profitably as grain on the farm where they are grown.

This situation has raised the question of the advisability of utilizing oats for pasture rather than allowing them to mature to be harvested for grain. Sometimes oats are grazed for a short time early in the spring, especially when there is a rank growth of the plants, and then later a crop of grain is harvested. The farm managers have had limited experience in attempting to utilize oats as a pasture crop exclusively and are seeking the advice of other farmers as to the best time to turn live stock into the fields.

Feeding Suggestions.

It has been suggested it might be advisable to turn hogs into the clover or alfalfa fields early in the spring until the oats fields are ready for grazing. Then, to minimize labor costs further, this plan could be coupled with the hogging down of corn practiced by some farmers. This brings up the question of what stage the oats should be in when hogs are turned into the field.

Experts have observed that when oats are about 10 inches high they are not palatable as a pasture crop for hogs. If pasturing is delayed until they are in the milk stage the oats are likely to be even less palatable, because of the larger portion of fiber they contain.

Sowing oats with rape for early spring and summer pasture is considered a good practice. The oats furnish early grazing and the rape is valuable a little later. This plan helps to fill in the gap between the oats crop and the time when corn is filled and ready to be hogged down. Soy beans often are planted in with corn that is to be hogged down to furnish additional protein, especially for young hogs. Some find it best to turn hogs in the oats when the plants are about six inches high.

U.S. ENDS POLICY OF SCARCITY IN FARMS' OUTPUT

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

The advice of Secretary Wallace to farmers that they should "produce all they can" in 1937 is indicative of the shift that has taken place in the administration's farm policy. A condition has arisen that was not foreseen by Washington.

A world-wide wheat scarcity, a corn shortage and a lack of feedstuffs generally have brought realization that planned production is not the simple matter that it appeared to its sponsors three years ago.

In a year when the world is crying for wheat the United States has none to sell. It was only a few years ago that wheat bins all over the world were full and the farm board adopted an official policy which encouraged farmers to maintain their production at a high level. That policy later brought on the AAA acreage restriction program, under which production was curtailed.

Urges Replenishing Supplies.

That means, it is assumed, that farmers should plant the largest possible acreage so that the consumers of their products will not have to pay high prices in the next few years. It is doubtful if any individual farmer is guided in his plans by his "duty to the consumer" any more than the consumer worries much about the farmer.

If the new policy is one of moral suasion, it appears as unlikely to succeed as the previous experiments under the farm board and the AAA.

Farmers' Outlook Favorable.

On the basis of supply and demand conditions alone, there is a favorable outlook for American farmers. They have the opportunity, if crops turn out well this season, of regaining some of the foreign markets which they have not had for years. At this time it appears likely that foreign buyers will be found for any surplus wheat that may be produced in the United States this year.

The wheat market at the present time is feeling the pressure of the movement of supplies from Argentina and Australia. The prices have not declined to the extent that they usually do at this season, but market's upturn has been checked.

Hearing on Jewelers' Fair Trade Rules Set for Feb. 17

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31.—[Special.]—The federal trade commission today promulgated tentative rules for the wholesale jewelry industry as proposed by the National Wholesale Jewelers' Association of Philadelphia, and set Feb. 17 to hear oral arguments on final adoption. The industry was said to have an aggregate investment of 90 million dollars, annual sales of about 200 million dollars, and to employ between 3,500 and 4,000 persons. The association was said to represent about 70 per cent of the industry in point of sales volume. Some thirty-five rules governing unfair trade practices and defining ethical standards were published by the commission.

BUTLER BROTHERS' FIRST STORE

Butler Bros. Started Store 60 Years Ago

Sixty years ago today three brothers opened a small wholesale notions business at 9 Arch street, Boston, Mass., and today the entire organization of Butler Brothers is celebrating that event in the big building at Randolph and Canal streets, Chicago, which is the headquarters of a wholesale organization that is the largest of its type in the world. The three brothers were Edward B., George H., and Charles Butler.

Edward Butler conceived the idea of selling merchandise at a stipulated modest price. He originated and developed the 5 and 10 cent counter, an innovation in merchandising which immediately became popular in Boston.

The Jason Bailey store at Boston pioneered the first 5 cent counters, with merchandise supplied by the young brothers. Shortly afterward, the Butler brothers provided the merchandise and plans for what was said to have been the first 5 and 10 cent store, an establishment in Pennsylvania.

Business Expands Rapidly.

The brothers' business expanded rapidly. In 1878 Edward Butler came to Chicago and opened a branch at 202 Randolph street, close to the old Briggs house. In 1880 George Butler, in charge of the Boston house, died. In 1889 Charles, who had charge of the New York establishment, also died, leaving Edward as the only original partner, who moved the headquarters of the concern in Chicago.

Two years after the Chicago office was opened it was moved to Wabash avenue, near Madison, then to 197-99 Adams street, and in 1913 to the present location.

Cunningham Is President.

In 1886 Frank S. Cunningham arrived in the city from Goshen, Ind., and answered an advertisement in THE TRIBUNE for a stenographer. The offer was from Butler Brothers and young Cunningham was accepted, getting $8 a week. Cunningham is now president of the company. Edward Butler died in 1928.

Pork Prices Drop During January; Beef Is Steady

The Institute of American Packers yesterday reported that declines ranging from 12 to 24 per cent in the wholesale prices of most cuts of fresh pork, and little change in the wholesale prices of beef, veal, and dressed lamb featured the live stock and meat trade during January.

DIVIDENDS PAID DURING JANUARY SHOW DECLINE

New York, Jan. 31.—[Special.]—In contrast with the record disbursements ordered in the two preceding months, dividends declared in January were smaller. They also were slightly less than those of the first month of last year.

The contraction in payments was attributed in part to the absence of special declarations such as were made at the year-end to avoid taxes on undistributed profits; to the fact that many corporations declared in December dividends ordinarily voted in January and to a change in the policy of dividend declarations by several corporations.

Dividends declared last month aggregated $266,699,645 for 958 companies, compared with $474,924,217 for 1,614 corporations in December and $267,405,114 for 862 concerns in January, 1936. The payments for this January were the smallest for a month since October.

STEEL OUTPUT REMAINS HIGH DESPITE FLOOD

Only Few Districts Show Recession.

Although the steel industry's operating rate last week declined 4 points to 76 per cent of the nation's capacity, the magazine Steel in its weekly report released yesterday asserted that the continued floods and automotive strike have had "relatively little effect" on steel production.

The decline in the rate was due to flood conditions in a few districts and the necessity for repairs in others. Eastern Pennsylvania and Birmingham districts continued at a steady rate last week, while St. Louis advanced 4 points, Buffalo 2 points and Chicago 1 point. The greatest loss in production was registered at Wheeling, which dropped 52½ points to 41 per cent. Youngstown and Cleveland were off 2 points each, New England 5 points and Detroit 10 points, all to 90 per cent, because of needed repairs.

Still Have Heavy Backlogs.

"Heavy backlogs of unfilled orders at the beginning of the year have not been reduced by the large shipments through January because current new buying is sufficient to offset efforts to reduce book tonnage," Steel asserted.

The journal pointed out that six leading steel producers making financial reports and representing 64 per cent of ingot capacity showed 1936 earnings were 264 per cent above 1935. All companies report heavy backlogs of unfilled orders. The American Iron and Steel institute reported that improvements and extensions so far authorized this year exceed $290,000,000.

"Surmises as to second quarter prices are beginning to appear and are backed by protective action by producers," the magazine stated. "An early sign appears at Chicago, where sheet capacity to April 1 is fully sold.

Qualify Second Quarter Prices.

"Poducers there are accepting orders for second quarter delivery with the provision that the price be that prevailing at time of delivery. Other signs indicate belief that an advance may be made in some products, wire and nails being among these.

"Shipbuilding offers prospects of considerable plate tonnage, with the usual proportion of other steel. Bids have been called for April 1 on a liner for the United States Lines to take 15,000 tons or more."

Steel said that railroads continue to be an important factor in spite of a tendency to await decision on new rates and their effect on income.

Strength in all markets, especially in the east, where export demand is a factor, has raised scrap quotations sharply.

Plan Large Expenditures.

The steel industry will spend more than $290,000,000 for new construction and equipment during 1937, the American Iron and Steel institute estimated yesterday. The figure is based on reports from 85 companies constituting 90 per cent of the industry's total capacity.

This year's budget represents an increase of 45 per cent over the $200,000,000 set aside last year for the same purpose. This figure, however, proved too low by $16,000,000 compared with actual expenditures.

At least three new blast furnaces are scheduled to be completed this year. Two of these will replace older furnaces and the third will be the first entirely new addition to pig iron producing facilities of the country since 1930.

Studebaker Truck Sales in 1936 Set New Record

The Studebaker corporation sold 6,473 trucks in 1936, the largest number in any year of the company's history, Paul G. Hoffman, president, announced yesterday. Sales were 34 per cent ahead of 1931, year of the previous high mark, when 4,845 were sold.

MODERATE WEATHER PROVES HANDICAP TO CHICAGO'S BUSINESS

Unseasonable weather, coupled with floods and adverse labor conditions, resulted in a reaction in Chicago's business activity last week, according to the Chicago Association of Commerce. While little of the inundated area falls within the Chicago trade region, the association said that the tieup of rail and motor trafic, and curtailment of mail order business had bad effects.

The mild weather enjoyed by Chicago this winter has cost merchants heavily. Department store inventories of heavy clothing and winter sports equipment are said to be the largest in years and doubts are being expressed about their clearance.

"Continuance of the deadlock in the automobile industry," the association said, "is holding back industrial progress. While few Chicago factories are concerned directly and Chicago steel mill output has shown little curtailment, it is felt that until a truce is arranged other industries will be slow to expand operations.

"On the other hand, it is regarded as certain that replacements of transportation, public utility, and factory equipment destroyed by floods will mean heavy demands upon Chicago in the next few months."

BANKERS' PAPER SEES BUSINESS OUTLOOK AS GOOD

New York, Jan. 31.—(AP)—The American Bankers' association reported today in its monthly review of business that all the factors which have stimulated business in the last year are present at the start of 1937 and the rising curve of consumer demand shows few, if any, signs of straightening out.

"The chief uncertainties of the moment," the association's journal Banking said, "are the effect of labor disputes upon industrial activity, and the long term course of federal authorities with respect to credit control and money rates.

"It is certainly indicative of broad, underlying strength that adverse factors have had little material influence upon current business."

American Airlines Carry 255,324 Passengers in 1936

Big Financing Firm Reports Rise in Profit

Net profits of the Commercial Investment Trust corporation for 1936 amounted to $21,181,020, Henry Ittleson, president, informed stockholders yesterday in his annual report. This was equal to $6.07 a share on 3,307,422 common shares outstanding, and compared with 1935 net income of $15,867,591, or $6.25 a share, on 2,357,274 shares then outstanding.

The company is one of the largest in the world engaged in financing instalment purchases. A considerable portion of its business is in the automobile field. During 1936 the total volume of receivables purchased was $1,169,696,815, an increase of 21 per cent over 1935. The volume of instalment receivables increased 48 per cent.

Receivables Show Increase.

Outstanding receivables at the year end amounted to $397,657,763, compared with $256,498,263 at the preceding year end, an upturn of 55 per cent. Of the total business handled last year retail automobile receivables accounted for $400,342,002; retail industrial receivables, $79,150,928; wholesale automobile acceptances, $410,659,252, and factoring receivables, $279,544,633.

Current assets on Dec. 31, last, amounted to $449,028,656, compared with current liabilities of $247,915,135.

Ittleson said that the greatest dollar increase in last year's business occurred in retail automobile notes, but that the largest percentage gain was in the industrial field, which includes refrigerators, household appliances, office and store equipment, industrial machinery and other items.

Devoe-Raynolds Earns More.

Devoe & Raynolds Co., paint and varnish manufacturers, yesterday reported for the fiscal year ended Nov. 30 net profits, after all charges, taxes and depreciation, of $707,210, equal after preferred dividends, to $4.49 a share on the combined class A and B common stocks. This compares with $530,064, or $2.89 a share on the combined shares, in the preceding fiscal year.

The company and its subsidiaries have plants in New York, Newark, Chicago, Malden, Mass., and Louisville, Ky.

Petroleum Corporation Assets Rise 39 Pct. in 1936

Net assets of the Petroleum Corporation of America on Dec. 31 totaled $47,897,087, an increase of $13,491,681, or 39 per cent for the year, the company announced yesterday. Asset value per share was $23.94, compared with $17.11. Assets were figured at the market as of Dec. 31. Net income for 1936, exclusive of profits from sale of securities, was $1,810,326, against $695,370 in 1935.

TRADE OUTLOOK GOOD DESPITE FLOOD, LABOR TROUBLE, SAYS BANK

New York, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Despite the Ohio river floods and labor troubles in the automotive industry the general business picture remains excellent, the National City bank of New York said today in its monthly letter. Referring to the strikes and floods the letter says:

"In these respects the month has been unfavorable, and in the speculative markets sentiment shows some unsettlement. On the other hand, trade and industrial reports continue excellent, allowing for these handicaps.

"The slowing up is confined to the areas affected, and otherwise the detailed business news gives satisfaction. Merchants continue to prepare for a good spring season, manufacturers are busy with full order books, and both are looking ahead with confidence moderated only by uncertainty in the labor situation."

While the Ohio floods have brought many business activities to a standstill, previous experience has given grounds to believe the interruption will be brief, the letter says, adding:

"Meanwhile the work of reconstruction is to be done, requiring labor and supplies, and probably this is where the emphasis belongs for the early future."

ASKS CONGRESS FOR AMENDMENT TO REVENUE ACT

New York, Jan. 31.—(AP)—The National Association of Credit Men announced today the organization had petitioned members of congress to amend the revenue act of 1936 to eliminate discriminations against "debt burdened corporations" under the undistributed profits tax clauses.

The association said it had pointed out to the federal law makers what it termed "inconsistencies" in the law which "grant an exemption to corporations in bankruptcy on receivership, but deny similar exemption to corporations operating under creditors extension agreements and out of court liquidations."

"In many instances," the announcement stated, "those operating under creditors extension agreements are as distressed financially as a concern in receivership or bankruptcy."

STOCK MARKET FIRM DESPITE ADVERSE NEWS

Floods Cause Little Trading Concern.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 31.—Tension over the automobile strike situation continues to act as a brake on stock market operations. Price averages of the week, however, made a creditable showing, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S index on fifty representative issues losing only about 3 points and that mostly in the first two sessions of the week when the deadlock seemed to have reached a rather hopeless stage. Reports of an impending settlement brought an impressive rally in the late dealings of Friday and yesterday's dealings saw further slight improvement in most sections of the list.

Concern over the flood situation was surprisingly low in brokerage circles, particularly toward the last of the week, when reports indicated that the high waters were receding in the principal midwest manufacturing centers.

Losses May Be Offset.

The consensus of opinion was that the gains in business resulting from rehabilitation would very largely offset losses in industry from the floods, although small local business in the affected areas admittedly will be crippled. Shares of building material concerns especially are expected to reap stimulating results from the disaster.

One reason—if not the main one—for the market's firmness in the face of the heavy sweep of adverse news is believed to be the disappointment of short sellers who had run up obligations on the debit side of the column in anticipation of a corrective or readjustment movement widely expected to take place in January.

Shorts Get Squeezed.

Wall street circles report that a lot of shorts got badly squeezed in the upturn in steel shares last week and that as a result the short interest in this group is now practically nil. Just how sharp the pinch may have been in some overconfident circles may be guessed from the abrupt rise in United States Steel common, bellwether of the list, which recorded a new high for the year for the third successive day of the week, to close with the very substantial gain of 15 points to its credit.

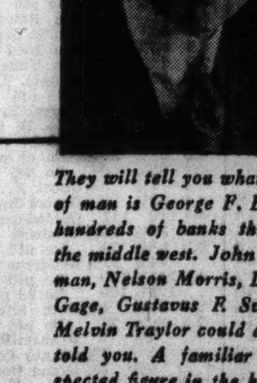
"I'M JUST A YOUNGSTER COMPARED TO THE BANK"

. . . says GEORGE F. EMERY

"I started when I was 16—when the Stock Yards were in the town of Lake and I came to work by horse car. But the bank had been established for nearly a quarter of a century even then, and the help it gave those early shippers, feeders and packers can never be forgotten. I've seen many changes since. I've seen the sidewalks out here come down off their stilts. I've seen many of those industries grow until they are internationally known. I am proud that through Live Stock National I have had a part in the agricultural and industrial development of the middle west."



They will tell you what manner of man is George F. Emery in hundreds of banks throughout the middle west. John B. Sherman, Nelson Morris, Lyman J. Gage, Gustavus F. Swift, and Melvin Traylor could also have told you. A familiar and respected figure in the history of agricultural banking in America, Mr. Emery has been associated with the Live Stock National Bank since 1889—19 of these 47 years as Director, 17 as Vice-President.

Of course, not all our officials can point to 47 years of service. But each can point to a rich experience in vital phases of business administration. Organized 69 years ago, principally for agriculture, Live Stock National today is a bank for all industry—and, incidentally, one of the 250 largest (out of 16,000) banks in the United States.

★ In what kind of real estate are you interested—city, suburban, or in other communities?

Whichever it be, you will find it helpful to study the offers in the real estate columns of the Tribune want ad section. The volume of real estate want advertising printed by the Tribune is one of the most reliable measures of interest in real estate.

Today, as for more than a quarter of a century, the Tribune prints more real estate want advertising than any other Chicago newspaper.

IF IT CAN BE SOLD, A TRIBUNE WANT AD WILL SELL IT!

MANUFACTURERS RAP 6 HOUR DAY FOR RAIL LABOR

Warn of Higher Costs for Shippers and Public.

Voicing opposition to the proposed six hour day for railroad employés with no reduction in pay, the Illinois Manufacturers' association said in a statement last night that legislation providing for such "unreasonable, unfair and economically unsound" wage advances is designed to admit government ownership of the carriers "through the back door and bring it up the back stairs."

The chief objection of the association was that the increased cost of transportation rates would be "saddled upon industrial shippers, agriculture and the general public," especially in mid-western states unfavored with the low transportation facilities by water.

Sees Vast Tonnage Affected.

Conveying some idea of the large amount of money involved in freight charges, not only on manufactured products but on agricultural products and products of the forests and the mines, as well as miscellaneous commercial freight, the association asserted:

"There are no accurate figures available of the total cost of the freight rates on manufactured products but 15,000,000 tons of manufactured and miscellaneous freight originated in Illinois in 1935 on 23 railroads. Intra-freight transported in Illinois in 1935 on these 23 roads produced $168,000,000 in revenue. Freight transportation on class 1 railroads in 1935 amounted to $2,790,551,400.

Gives Reason for Objecting.

The association stated that it objects to the increased cost of transportation for the following reasons:

"It will add to the expense of factory operation.

"It will be especially destructive to the welfare of Illinois and other middle western states which do not have the advantage of coast wise transportation through the Panama canal.

"It will increase the cost of living.

Griesedieck Western Brewery.

Investors' Guide: Please give me information on the Griesedieck Western Brewery company stock.—J. B.

Answer: This concern was incorporated in 1904 as successor to a business originally established in 1857. It manufactures beer, other cereal beverages and distilled water ice. The brewery is located at Belleville, Ill. The St. Louis metropolitan area is the principal outlet for the company's products.

Although figures on 1936 business are not yet available, plans to double the size of the brewery by spring indicate that capacity was taxed last year. The building program is to be financed without resort to borrowing money or selling additional stock, the company said.

Sales were $1,138,000 and net income was $53,000, or 88 cents a share, in 1935, compared with sales of $1,390,000 and net income of $134,000, or $2.23 a share, in 1934. Sales were $917,000 and net income was $140,000, or $2.33 a share, in 1933.

Although the stock is on no regular basis, dividends have been paid since the final quarter of 1933. They amounted to $1 in 1934, 75 cents in 1935 and $4.25 in 1936, including a payment of $3 in five year 5 per cent scrip. The latter payment presumably was made to avoid tax on undistributed profits and at the same time permit the company to retain funds for expansion.

General Theatres Equipment.

Investors' Guide: I own one $500 convertible debenture of 1940 of General Theatres Equipment, Inc. Kindly inform me the market value of this bond. I have been told that it is worthless.—Mrs. S. S.

Answer: The General Theatres Equipment convertible debenture 6s of 1940 are quoted around forty cents on the dollar bid.

Under a plan of reorganization of General Theatres Equipment, Inc., effected in 1936, holders of each $1,000 of debentures with April 1, 1932, and subsequent coupons attached are entitled to 10 shares of stock in the successor company, General Theatres Equipment corporation, and warants to purchase 1¾ units of stock of Twentieth Century-Fox Film corporation at $70 per unit until Oct. 1, 1937. Each unit consists of two shares of $1.50 dividend preferred and one share of common stock of Twentieth Century-Fox.

Quotes.

Chicago, Jan. 27.—I have been a reader of THE TRIBUNE for 35 years and am pleased to note that you have added the quotations of the Toronto Stock exchange in your financial page. O. B. MAYER.

Rents.

Evanston, Ill., Jan. 28.—I have read with interest several articles reporting that various associations of real estate men have decided to raise rents throughout the Chicago area. The tone of the resolutions passed by these organizations would suggest that the fixing of rents is a matter arbitrarily settled by real estate men. The renter, too, I may add, does have something to say about it, although at times he is at a disadvantage. Resistence to unreasonable increases will be encountered. W. C. F.

THE H. W. GOSSARD CO.

Hair Stylists Are in Demand Everywhere.

The Chicago Hairdressing Academy receives a great many requests each week for men and women who have been trained as HAIR STYLISTS under the internationally known John Mueller and his proven academy system.

This famous system develops natural talent for creative hair and beauty work. Every effort is made to allow the student to follow natural inclinations instead of a cut and dried course of study.

You are invited to visit our school without obligation. See for yourself the fine quality of our student body and the definite advantages of our superior training.

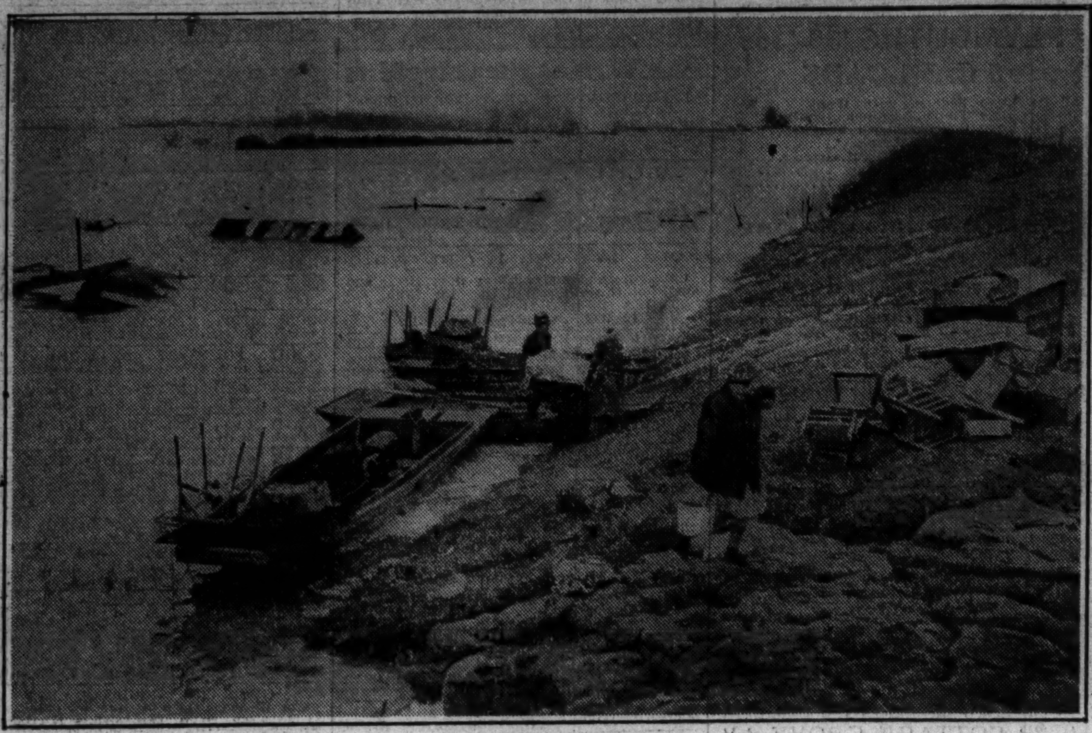
Flood Victims Make Best of a Bad Thing as New Break Adds Difficulties—Refugees Tax Relief Facilities



[TRIBUNE Photo.]

[Acme Photo.]

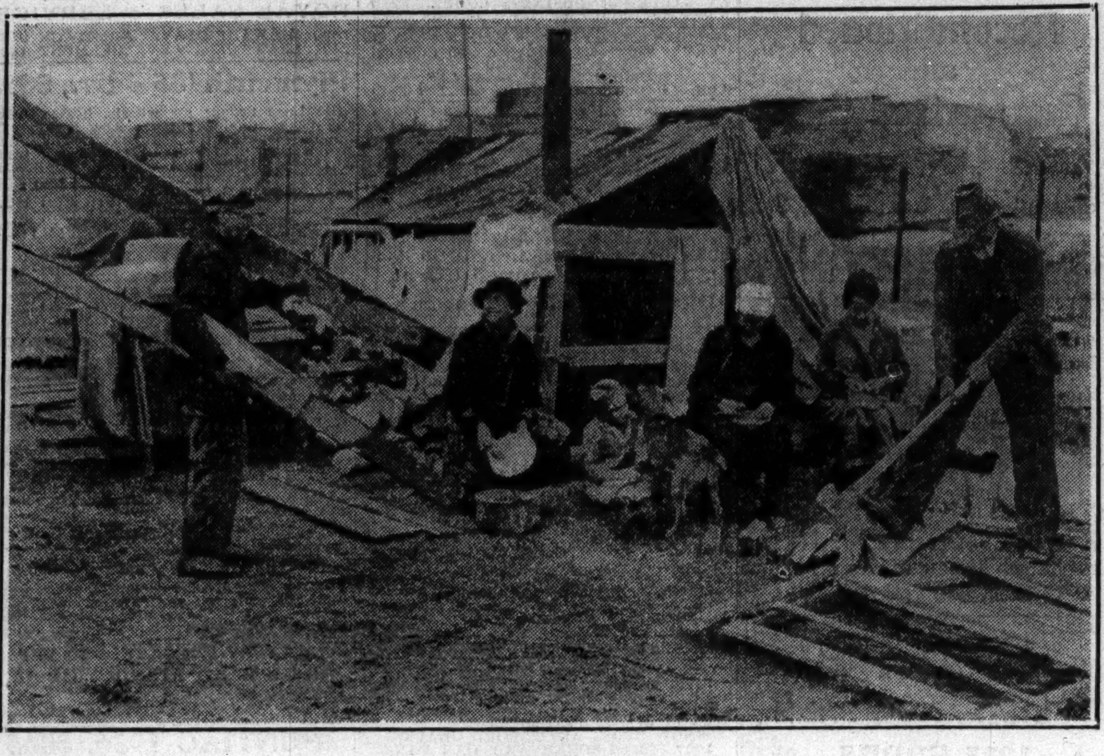
[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

REAL JOB HAS JUST BEGUN FOR LOUISVILLE—The subsidence of the Ohio river leaves tons of soil and debris in streets and buildings. Crews are at work cleaning up the mess so that the Kentucky metropolis can begin repairing undermined pavements and structures, restoring the gas, electric, telephone and other services, and planning to re-establish the city once more on a normal basis.

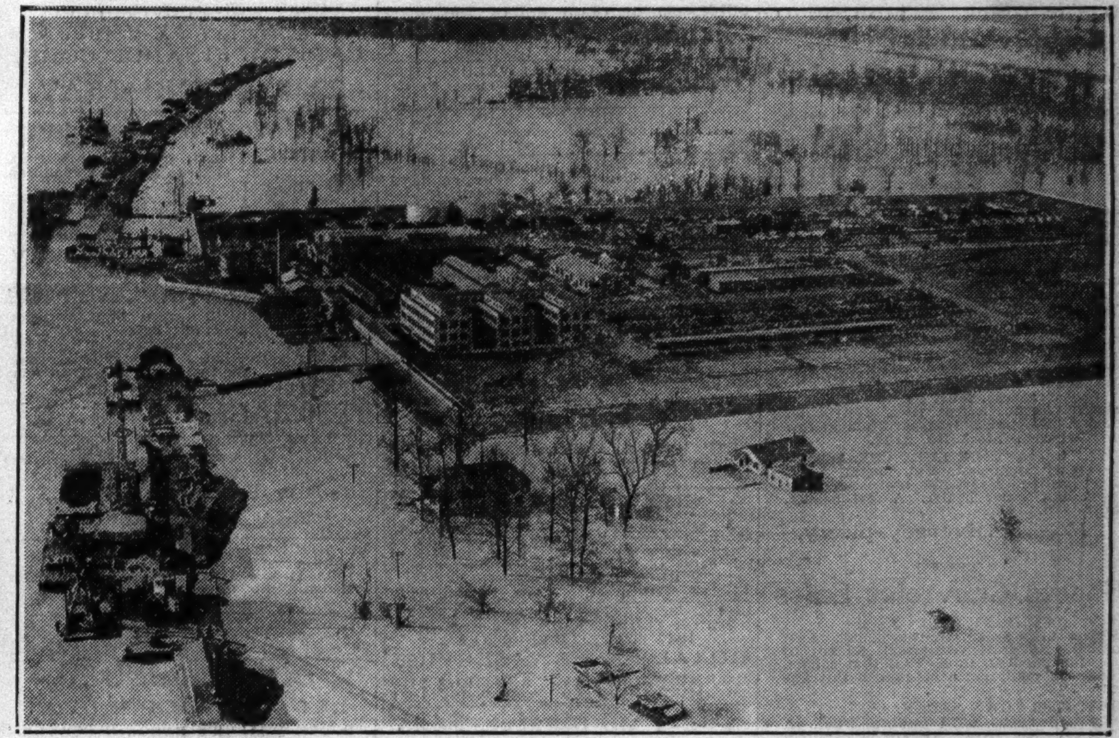
[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

AILING WOMAN RESCUED BY AMBULANCE—Such a sight as this in Paducah is not unusual in the flood regions where cold and damp make many ill before they have an opportunity to flee their homes.



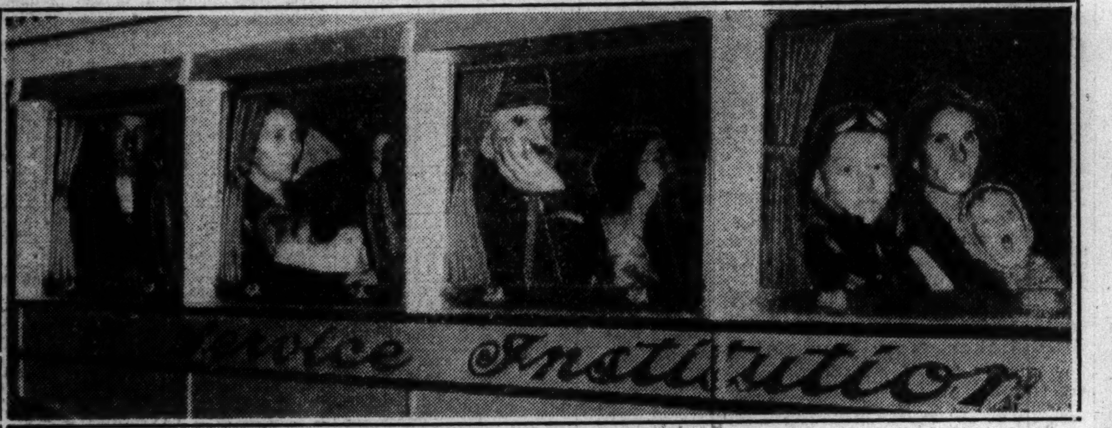
[TRIBUNE Photo.]

ALMOST BACK TO PIONEER DAYS IN SOUTHERN MISSOURI—Refugees near Caruthersville live in improvised tents and huts and makeshift for the conveniences of civilized existence much as their forefathers did when they settled in wild lands of the Show-me state more than 100 years ago. Yesterday's levee break threw water against the Missouri side.



[Acme Photo.]

FLOOD RESCUE HEADQUARTERS IS ITSELF VIRTUALLY FLOODBOUND—Air view of the United States Army engineers' base at Memphis, which is directing the evacuation of hundreds of square miles of bottoms imperiled by high water. The troops had to throw up temporary embankments to save themselves.

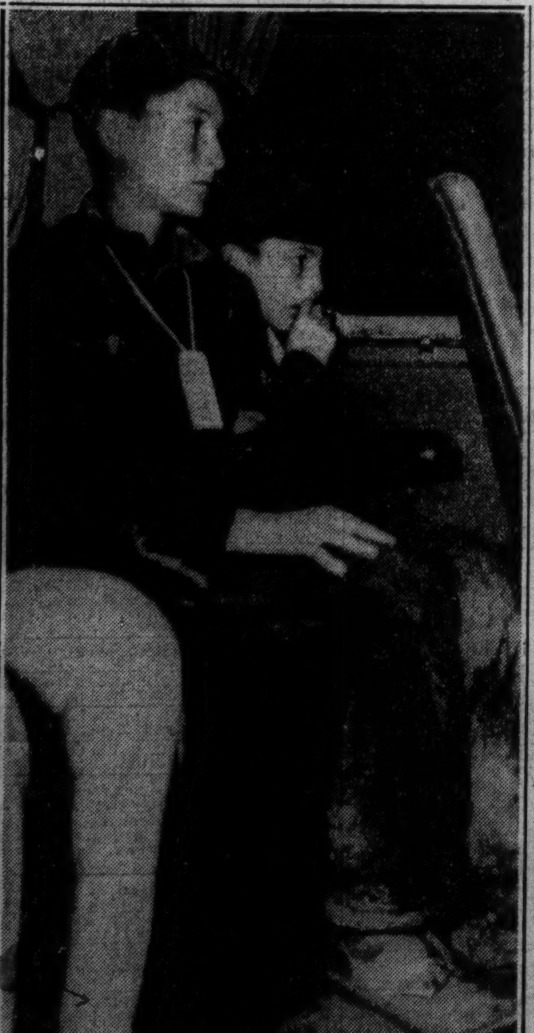


[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

STUDY IN FACES OF PEOPLE IN TROUBLE—View of a bus as it is about to depart from an Arkansas farming community for the Tennessee metropolis. Through these four windows appear expressions only of blank despair. Not one can muster a smile, or even a glance of interest in the operations of the photographer.

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

CHOW LINE RECRUITS UNUSUALLY YOUNG—The kitchen police of a guard outfit now at Forest City, Ark., soften the tone of voice for the family of Mrs. Bernie Ramey, a refugee from the flood.



[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

TWINS BORN 20 MINUTES AFTER MOTHER'S RESCUE—Mrs. Elsie Hamlett with daughters, Ula Mable and Frances Mae, in Hornersville, Mo., where she and other "hospital" cases are being cared for in a church.

SALVAGING POSSESSIONS BEFORE WATER GETS DEEPER—As waters rise in this farm home near Caruthersville, the owners row away with their prized stove and other household equipment. They may find good use for the stove in a refuge camp, where facilities for heating and cooking usually are inadequate to meet the situation.
